Haifa Police Station Wrecked By Bomb

JERUSALEM, Jan. 12 — (AP) — Two British and three Arab policemen were killed tonight in a bombing of the Haifa police station, authorities reported. The building was "virtually leveled." At least a dozen other policemen were injured in the blast or by flying debris. A government announcement said a small automobile drove into an arway beside the building. The occupants ran away. Seconds later the car exploded against the side of the building.

prevent a breakdown of Dominion-Provincial taxation negotiations. Rumors that Mr. King may go to the country on the Dominion-Provincial issue may be taken with a grain of salt. Mr. King is far too astute to do that. What should be done is plain. Another full conference of the provinces and the Dominion Government should be called on terms of reference that will take the entire needs of the country into account, without heed to the principles of political expediency that have so far continuously befoiled the whole of the negotiations.

IS YOUR THROAT Sore?

There is new hope for you if you use Polson's Cough Syrup. Bad attacks of coughing will certainly be checked. This aromatic remedy acts as an internal antiseptic and thins out the mucus or phlegm that causes the gasping and choking. The strained, over-wrought condition in the muscles of the throat and bronchial tubes is relaxed, and you can breathe more freely again. If you suffer from a Weak Throat, from Bronchitis, a Cough or Cold, don't experiment with a doubtful remedy; use one that embraces the best of pharmaceutical skill. Use Polson's Cough Syrup. Sold by all Druggists in 35c bottles.

SUMMARY
Arrivals of cattle at central markets continued light due to holidays and in some cases adverse weather conditions. Prices were strong to 20c higher in the east and as much as 50c to 75c up at Winnipeg. With other western markets reporting strong paying prices. Calves and lambs continued firm sellers, while hogs advanced in the east but were unchanged on western markets.

Eastern Cattle Markets

Markets in eastern Canada continued firm, with Toronto recording a gain of 25c on most grades of Killage. Weighty steers sold to a top of $14.35 and butcher steers between $11 and $13. Most cows and bulls went to small buyers at an advance of 25c, with butcher cows making up to $11 and bulls $11 to an odd $11.50. At Montreal receipts were light and prices steady to firm, with fairly good quality steers $12.50 to $13.50 and $14, and good cows $10 to $11. Receipts in the Maritimes were light also and cattle deliveries consisted chiefly of common cows, steers and heifers. Some medium to good steers and heifers brought $11.25 to $12 and common to medium $7 to $9.

Western Cattle Markets

Deliveries to Winnipeg were on the short side and cattle trade was somewhat erratic. Some killing classes reached the highest point of current season at an advance of 50c to 75c or more. Old cheste steers topped at $14 and good slaughter kinds were in demand at $13 to $13.75. Demand for stocker cattle was only moderate and a few suitable kinds moved at $10 to $10.75. A light offering was cleared up at Calgary at fully steady prices, with good to choice butcher steers $12.25 to $13; while Edmonton was also fully steady and had a few top steers at $13 but most sales $12.75 down. Prince Albert sold good steers around an average of $11.50; Moose Jaw $12; Saskatoon up to a top of $13.25 but mostly $12 to $13; Regina up to $13.

Exports to United States

Dairy cattle exports to the United States for the week were reduced due to the holiday season to 544 head. The year's total stands at 69,539. This compares with 45,889 for the year 1946.

Calves continued to sell well at all centres. Toronto paid $15 to $17 for best veals. Montreal up to $16, Winnipeg $14 to $16. Calgary $11 to $12.50. Prince Albert steady, Moose Jaw up to a top of $13, and Saskatoon $10 to $12 on just plain quality.

Hog Prices Again Move Up

Hog prices recorded another gain of 25c at Toronto, with grade A selling at $22, while Montreal moved up 50c, selling grade A at $23. Western markets were generally undisturbed, with Winnipeg continuing to pay $18.70 for Grade A; Calgary a shade firmer at $18.70 to $18.80; Edmonton $19 for shiners and a few $12.50. Prince Albert steady, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and Regina $18.45; and Vancouver $19.35 to $19.60. At Moncton, Grade A sold at $22.50. The above prices do not include the Dominion Government premium of $2 per head on Grade A and $1 per head on Grade B1 hogs.

Cookies—Old and New

Every hostess appreciates, particularly at this holiday season, the important role played by cookies. The family's ration of "sweets" has doubtless been curtailed, these days, to make possible the replenishing of the cookie jar. With a variety of fancy cutters and a cookie press, a plain mixture can assume many different shapes and forms. A few simple decorations add a great deal to the appearance of the cookies, or should we say, disappearance of the cookies.

Cookies fall into three classifications... the moulded or rolled, thin, crisp cookie; the drop cookie; and squares or bars. "Rolled-out" cookies are almost a thing of the past, except for special occasions. It requires time, skill and patience to roll and cut the soft dough, so essential to good rolled cookies. For better cookies, made the easy way, the refrigerator or ice-box type is becoming very popular. The most quickly made of all are the squares or bars.

To make tender, crisp cookies, avoid the use of extra flour. Have the dough well chilled. It will be much easier to handle. For "the rolled-out" cookie, place the dough between two sheets of waxed paper; this will eliminate the use of additional flour when rolling them out. Work with only a small quantity of dough at a time.

The dough for refrigerator or ice-box cookies should first be well chilled, then shaped into rolls and chilled again until very firm, about twenty-four hours.

Cookies pans should be greased, especially for fruited or molasses cookies which have a tendency to stick. When making drop cookies, allow a space of at least two inches between cookies—they spread considerably.

To add that touch of glamour to Christmas cakes use such decorative materials as dried fruits, citron peel, nuts, colored candies and sugars. Squares or bars are sometimes rolled in confectionery sugar.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest these easy-to-make, grand-tasting cookies for your holiday teas.

SUPPOSE WE HAD NO IMPORTS

Well, it wouldn't come to this...

BUT... CONSIDER

a wardrobe without cotton... a breakfast table without tea, coffee, or citrus fruit juice... a long walk to work in a country without enough gas for cars and buses... and then, perhaps, no job when you did get there. And that is just a bare beginning.

For nearly all the things mined, manufactured or grown in Canada contain, or are produced with the help of, some imported article. From diamond drills to insecticides, from sole leather to perfumes, we must use things that other countries produce.

To get these things from people in other countries, we must trade our goods for theirs. And the more we trade, the better off we are, the higher our standard of living. In fact, over one-third of our national pay envelope comes from foreign trade—and work that is equal to three jobs in eight.

So no matter what you help to produce or what service you perform—do a good job. What you do, or help to produce should add to Canada's good reputation so that our customers abroad will continue to buy from us for years to come.

The Foreign Trade Service of your Department of Trade and Commerce is helping our importers to obtain the things we need from other countries—and our exporters to sell Canadian goods abroad. Trade Commissioners are located in 30 countries, and an experienced export and import staff at head office collects up-to-date information on foreign markets and sources of supply.

35 CENTS OF EVERY $1.00 YOU GET... COMES FROM CANADA'S TRADE ABROAD.

1 You start the day. No shirts! Cotton and linen are imported. Maybe you'd wear just a turtle-neck sweater, for Canada hasn't enough domestic wool to give everybody a suit!

2 Shaving would present problems with not enough soap—or razor blades. We depend on imported vegetable oils, steel and other commodities to make our soap and razor blades.

3 Aw heck—let's have breakfast anyway. But what's this? No coffee? No tea? No orange juice? Breakfast doesn't look the same as it used to—or taste as good.

4 Then—probably no newspaper! For even Canada, great paper producer that she is, is dependent to a very large extent on other nations for essential chemicals used in paper making.

5 No gas or oil for your car—in fact, no car at all, unless we could find substitutes for materials now imported. And of course the buses wouldn't be running!

6 When you got to work you might find yourself one of the many Canadians out of a job... for lack of imported materials used in the manufacture of your own product.

7 What! No sheets—no pillow slip! One can't even go to bed in comfort and forget it all in a country without imports.

8 "What's the use—might as well end it all." But a man can't even hang himself decently without a rope! And it takes fibres, imported from abroad, to make our ropes!

AT CFCY, recently, an announcement was given as follows:
"Wanted immediately... twelve men to work in lumber woods in Nova Scotia. Good wages will be paid and board will be provided."
This was scheduled for the Outposts on Saturday, January 4th at 5:35 and again for noon on Monday, January 6th.
On Saturday evening at 7:15 the sponsor of the announcement called the station to cancel the Monday flash, stating that he had already had more applications than he needed and was being deluged with telephone calls which is what we would call prompt action!

DEEP BREATHING
Stressing the fact that glass means decay and stagnation breeds disease, health authorities at Ottawa recommend deep breathing to sweep out the lungs and air passages with fresh air. They advise deep breathing exercises several times a day for health conservation.
