THE MORNING GUARDIAN

TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1900.

COL. SAM HUGHES.

Col. Sam. Hughes, who has been recently relieved of the command of a troop in South Africa and sent home, is a somewhat unique figure in Canadian affairs. He is now some forty-eight years of age. In early life he taught school for a number of years and for ten years he was first English Master in the Toronto Collegiate Institute. In 1885 he purchased the Lindsay Warjer, of which he has since been editor and proprietor. In politics he is a Conservative. He is also a Mason and an Orangeman. In religious faith he is a Methodist. He has been active in all lines of athletic sports, such as lacrosse, cricket, curling, baseball, bicycling and rowing. He won the championship mile race for America in 1872. He has long been an active militia officer and in the rifle associations. He is the author of a school geography, and a railway map of Ontario.

In journalism Col. Hughes has been always a fighting editor. In no part of the journalistic field in Canada has the battle raged with more bitter vindictiveness than in the little town of Lindsay since Sam, as he is familiarly called, became editor of the Warjer. Only the gifted creator of the Eatonsville Gazette could fitly portray the conflicts between the Tory Warjer and the Grit Post. In politics Col. Hughes has been a fighting man from the first. He first candidated for the Commons unsuccessfully in 1891, but got in at a by-election in 1892 and was re-elected in 1896 by a large majority. It was no doubt a relief to the ministerial party to have Col. Hughes absent during the late long session of Parliament.

Col. Hughes through his newspaper, in his political campaigns and by his utterances in Parliament frequently antagonized his military superiors. He from time to time violated the strict rules of the service by his free and aggressive criticisms. He had come in conflict with Gen. Hutton before the departure of the latter from Canada, and the Warjer continued its attacks after both Hutton and Hughes were engaged in active service against the Boers. The Toronto World, which is Conservative and friendly to Col. Hughes, says:

"If the letters of Col. Sam Hughes, published in Canada, abusive of General Hutton, were brought to the attention of Lord Roberts, the latter would certainly relieve him in the twinkling of an eye. There is one thing that goes before anything else in the British army in times of war and in the field, and that is respect for superior officers. The moment The World read that Gen. Hutton had arrived in Africa and been made a general officer we said that it was all up with the Canadian colonel if his friends published any more of his letters about Hutton. And so it has proved. But we fail to see any evidence yet connecting Lord Minto with Col. Hughes' removal."

Just now one of the many mysteries about China is, who is the "Government." Edicts, and official orders and communications are sent out from time to time purporting to come from the chief central authority in China, but these do not mention that they are in the name of the Emperor, the Empress Dowager or of whom. A short time ago there was a report that the Emperor had been compelled to take poison and died, also that the Dowager Empress had become insane. If these things were true Prince Tuan, as father of the infant heir to the throne, would be now the virtual supreme authority, and he seems to be exercising some such control at present. We do not at this moment know whether it is the Dowager or Prince Tuan who has summoned Li Hung Chang to Peking, and made him Viceroy of a northern Province. Prince Tuan's well-known hostility to foreigners makes it important to know whether he is in supreme control or not.

Croup the dread of every mother, is instantly relieved by Bentley's Linctment.

Probably the war in South Africa will go on until Kruger and Steyn are either captured or driven out of the Boer country. These two men have a mixed religious and political control over their ignorant following, which, together with an ingrained hatred of the British, enables the Boer leaders to continue the war. The struggle would probably cease if once both the Presidents could be captured. The task seems a hard one, however. The enemy have yet apparently nearly all their powerful artillery and plenty of ammunition.

Bleeding Piles

A Prominent Business Man Testifies to His Cure by Using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Not a day passes but many people volunteer recommendations of Dr. Chase's Ointment as an absolute cure for every form of piles.

Mr. Jas. Jackson, of the Laurier Spool Company, St. Alexis des Monts, Que., writes:—"You may put my name to any praise you can give to Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it has done me more good than any medicine I ever used."

"I was troubled for two years with that cruel disease, bleeding piles, and after using Dr. Chase's Ointment, I can say I am entirely rid of it. It is a treasure to all suffering from piles."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is guaranteed to positively cure any case of itching, bleeding, or protruding piles. It has never yet been known to fail, and certainly will not fail in your case.

For many years Dr. Chase's Ointment has stood alone as the only absolute and guaranteed cure for piles and itching skin diseases: 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has by far the largest sale of any remedy for throat and lung troubles. 25 cents a bottle.

It has been a particular feature of the war in South Africa that there have been no sieges except of British cities and towns. Though the Boers entrench all the positions where they make a stand they will take no chances on being shut up and besieged. They surrendered Bloemfontein, Johannesburg and Pretoria rather than risk a siege in either case, although Pretoria was so naturally defensible and so strongly fortified that it was practically impregnable. It was vastly more defensible than either Ladysmith, Kimberly or Mafeking, although each of these was successfully defended by British garrisons for many months. The Boer generals have clearly a way of their own, and a strange way it is.

WEAKNESS OF HOSPITALS.

Said to be Incapable of Curing one of the Most Deadly Diseases of the Age.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Mr. William Brownley tells an alarming story of utter failure of the hospitals to cure him of Bright's Disease. He was treated in the best hospitals both in Canada and the United States. They gave him up as incurable. Medical science failed; the hospitals were powerless to help him. Nevertheless Mr. Brownley is cured. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and he is a well man today.

Says Mr. Brownley himself "I have been a subject to Bright's Disease of the Kidneys for twenty years. I have been in all the best hospitals in Canada and the United States. I could get no relief. I have just finished eleven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am completely cured. I am a locomotive engineer and well-known, so many can vouch for this statement."

A number of Summer boarders can be accommodated by Mr. Albert Schurman, Valley Farm, Central Bedeque, P. E. I.
