Called His Bluff.
An irascible guest had been sitting at the hotel table about three minutes and no waiter had come to him, and when he caught the eye of the head waiter he called him up. "Here," he said ill-naturedly, "I've been waiting for half an hour for somebody to take my order, and nobody has come near! Am I going to be waited on?"
"Certainly, sir."
"Then I want to know why I have been kept waiting a half hour!"
"Well, sir," explained the waiter, "the man who was on duty when you came in, half an hour ago, has left and won't be back until tomorrow, and I only came on duty ten minutes ago, so I don't know the reason."
The guest knew he was being made fun of, but he also knew that he had been telling a falsehood, so he said no more.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Brain Weights.
The average weight of a man's brain is forty-six ounces, but it varies largely in different individuals. Usually it is about one-thirtieth of the body's weight. In quadrupeds the relative weight is remarkably less than it is in human beings. It is one-one hundred and twentieth in dogs, one-four hundred and fiftieth in horses, one-seven hundred and fiftieth in sheep and one-eight hundredth in the ox, thus indicating a direct relation between weight of brain and intelligence, the animals named being ranged in the order of their mental capacity and docility.

Respected His Wishes.
Friend—Why do you get married so soon after the death of your husband? Widow—My dear, if there was any one thing that my poor dead and gone husband insisted upon, in season and out, it was that I should never put off till tomorrow what I could do today.

ECCENTRIC BETTING.

Curious Wagers Recorded at White's Club in London.

The betting book of White's club in London contains the record of some extraordinary wagers. The idle gentlemen of 100 years ago could give their successors of today sundry hints on eccentric betting. Here are facsimiles of some of the records. One reads:

"Mr. Methuen bets Colonel Stanhope 10 guineas to 1 that a worthy baronet—understood between them—does not from necessity part with his gold ice palls before this day twelvemonth. The ice palls being found at a pawnbroker's will not entitle Colonel Stanhope to receive his 10 guineas."

"This peculiar wager was made in 1813, and another one, recorded the same year at White's, may have reference to the same hard up personage. It reads:

"Lord Alvanley bets Sir Joseph Copley 5 guineas that a certain baronet—understood between them—is very much embarrassed in circumstances. In three years from the date hereof, if one of his bills is dishonored or he is observed to borrow small change of the chairmen or waiters, Sir Joseph is to be reckoned to lose."

Here is an odd one: "Mr. Butler bets Sir George Talbot 20 guineas to 1 that he is not in the room at White's with Napoleon in the course of the next two years—April 24, 1815." History shows that Mr. Butler won that guinea.—Christian Science Monitor.

FRENCH POLICEMEN.

They Can't Be "Fixed," and They Are Always Polite.

The laws of France relative to the out of door life of the masses are made in the interest of the people. Furthermore, they are enforced. There is no fixing things with a French policeman. If your bicycle has suddenly been twisted into junk by a careless driver the belted and brass buttoned gentleman who arrives on the scene questions you with intelligence and jots down in his notebook the facts of the occurrence as near as he can ascertain them. Throughout the interview he is polite, alert and painstaking in getting at the exact truth, and, whether you or the offending driver or both accompany him to the police station, he conducts you with a quiet dignity and an air of fulfilling his duty. It does not make the slightest difference in France who you are or whether or not you have mutual friends or come from his "ward" or are a relative of Congressman So-and-so. If you are at fault you must pay the damages. If the other fellow is to blame you will be ushered from the presence of the commissaire de police with as much ceremonial politeness as would be shown at a diplomatic interview.

If it is boiling hot or freezing cold and you are in need of information, go to the nearest policeman, address him as "monsieur" and raise your hat. He will immediately return you a military salute, listen attentively and give you, as carefully as possible, the necessary information, saluting you again as you raise your hat to leave him.—F. Berkeley Smith, "Parisians Out of Doors."

Couldn't Fool Him.

Serving in the capacity of collector for a local bank is a colored man who spends his evenings playing in an Oakland band.

One of the clerks in the bank, knowing of the clerk's musical attainments, said to him, "Joe, I went to a vaudeville show last night, and one of the fellows there played 'Traumerel' great!"

Joe looked at him suspiciously for a moment and then said: "You tell that stuff to Bonny. You don't get me to bite, 'cause Ah knows they ain't no such instrument."—San Francisco Chronicle.
