ELGIN COUPLE RETURN TO P. E. ISLAND - A news dispatch from Elgin, N. B., records a farewell to the two or three years ago a Pictoucraft girl named Ellen Fellows, was passing through one of the main streets of Leeds when she observed an old lady standing on the curb, evidently embarrassed at the prospect of crossing the road offering her assistance. Miss Fellows relieved the old lady of her basket and escorted her across the street. Although the lady, with pencil and leaf from a note-book borrowed from a policeman, made a note of the girl's name and address, the incident was forgotten until recently, when, through a local firm of solicitors, Miss Fellows learned that the lady had died leaving her two thousand dollars.

ON VISIT TO OLD HOME - Dr.
A. L. MacNeill, son of the late Dr.
R. MacNeill and Mrs. MacNeill arrived in the city last evening from Cabri, Saskatchewan, on an extensive visit to the Doctor's brother, Mr. A. E. MacNeill, 137 Pownall Street. The Doctor was accompanied by his wife and niece, Miss Margaret Hough. It has been eighteen years since the Doctor left this province. After graduating from McGill University in 1910, he went to Western Canada, where, in the hazy wheat province he extended a name for himself as a physician and a citizen endeared himself to all who knew him. Interviewed by a Guardian reporter last evening, the Doctor expressed himself most elo-quently in regard to the fine and prosperous farm lands he passed on his journey from Borden to Charlottetown. He laid particular stress on the neatness and general appearance of homes, farm buildings and fences enclosing the various holdings along this route of the "Right Little Island." On arriving in the city, he was further impres-sioned with the permanent streets, and many other improvements in evidence since his departure from these shores. Needless to say Dr.
MacNeill's return to his native province will not only be a delight and a pleasure to himself, but will afford an opportunity for many happy reunions.

PERSONALS
Friends of Mr. J. W. Robblee will be pleased to learn that he is convalescing nicely after his recent operation.

Mrs. Katherine McQuillan, New Haven, is visiting in the city the guest of her daughter, Mrs. P. C. Nipiss, Trainer, Euston St.

Mr. Myron Noonan of Bedouque, spent the week end in the City on business where it is understood he has accepted a lucrative position with a well known business establishment.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Larkin, of Sea-Vipond, Ontario, who have been spending the summer on the Island, are this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Rogers, of Summerside. Mr. Larkin has been conducting the services of the Presbyterian Church at Alberton this summer, Alberton being his home town. It is twenty years since his Hallowe'en Jollifications

Last night the young people of the city celebrated Hallowe'en with all the traditional merriment and gaiety - but without that careless destruction of property which has, in the past, made All Hallowes eve an occasion to be dreaded by our citizens.

This year, more than ever, the jollifications took the form of parading and visiting in costume. In many of these the young people displayed much originality and ingenuity - a charming pierrot, clad in the traditional white with black pompons and a delightful bearded lady being particularly worthy of mention. There were many - mostly young ladies, it appeared who preferred to disguise themselves in the garb of the Paris Apaches - and they did it very well too. In fact it was in many instances quite difficult to distinguish the sex of the revellers.

Another feature was a number of motor cars, equipped with all manner of noise making devices, and generally with a string of discarded worn bobbers and tin cans in tow.
Pierced indeed was the racket these produced, as, loaded to the gunnels with merry youth, they toured the streets of the city.

The Students of Prince of Wales College too, lived up to their best Hallowe'en traditions. They "serenaded" at their professors, backed many of them, and were addressed by nearly all. They also "serenaded" His Honour the Lieutenant Governor. His Worship the Mayor, who they came on just as he was leaving the theatre, and when last seen were looking for the Chief of Police.

As before stated, very little damage seems to be done. Perhaps a few door steps were moved. But the police state that all the revellers were orderly and good humoured. Indeed, they expressed themselves as highly pleased with the way things went off.

Kind Act Is Recalled

LONDON, Oct. 31 - A happy result of a servant girl's act of courtesy at Leeds has just come to light. Two or three years ago a
