Ferguson Suggested As Envoy

OTTAWA, May 10—That the appointment of a Canadian Minister to Washington might well be selected from among an impressive list of able Conservatives is the editorial view advanced today by the Ottawa Citizen, independent newspaper of Liberal tendencies. Sir Robert Borden's name, it says, would at once occur, but he would hardly entertain such a proposal. The article continues:

"It may seem rather extreme to suggest the name of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, but Canada's interests would surely be safe in the hands of the present Ontario leader. There is no better Canadian. Charles A. Magrath is an Independent Conservative who has for many years done magnificent work for Canada.

"The Conservative party has suffered in recent years by neglecting to bring young men into the active field of politics. In the younger group, Col. Herbert Molson, of Montreal, should be actively serving in public life. He has a first-rate record in business as he had previously in the service of Canada overseas during the war."

Will Be The Only Province Without Divorce Court

OTTAWA, May 10—When the Ontario divorce court bill passes the Senate and becomes law, Quebec will be the only province in Canada whose citizens must apply to the Dominion parliament to obtain a divorce.

Prince Edward Island has a tribunal but has only had one divorce since Confederation.

The applications at present before this session of parliament will, for the most part, be dealt with, but next session only Quebec applications will be considered. All of this assumes, of course, that the Senate will pass the present bill.

Poet-Laureateship Goes To Masefield

LONDON, May 10—John Masefield, the celebrated English poet and writer, today was appointed poet laureate.

Born thirty-five years ago, near Ledbury, in the west of England, Mr. Masefield has had an extraordinary career. After leaving school, he went to sea in the merchant marine, spent a few years on an American farm, and subsequently became a clerk in a London office. Gradually his genius as a writer became recognized, and within a very few years his output was enormous—poems, essays, dramatic plays and novels coming from his pen in rapid succession.

"Red" Pamphlets Posted In India

(Special to The Guardian)

POONA, India, May 10.—Pamphlets written in red ink urging the people to collect all the arms and ammunition possible to fight and overthrow the British, were found posted throughout the city today. The posters were signed "Commander in Chief of the Hindustan Army." The inhabitants of the city started destroying them as soon as they were noticed, but police managed to retain a few.

employees work and the result of the efforts made by Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster General, to secure from the Civil Service Commission some action that would increase postmen's salaries.

The discussion came when the House went into committee of the whole on an item of $37,369.40 for the Post Office Department.

The Postmaster General was kept busy giving details of wages and explaining the system which operates towards regulating them. Some members were skeptical of the Minister's deference to the civil service commission's decree that that body could not see its way to recommend increases and expressed the opinion that the government could override the commission in this respect, provided the government was willing to do so.

With reference to a complaint voiced the other evening against low wages and long hours of work for Postal workers in Toronto, Mr. Veniot, explaining that the complaint related to contracts declared that all future contracts would contain the eight hour day minimum wage clauses.

During the debate Dr. Murray MacLaren (Cons. Saint John-Albert) said that he believed letter carriers were entitled to salaries. He paid tribute to the higher work of these men and said that it was only justice that the Government and the Post Master General should take action to bring about increases.

LIBERAL

sion of the British preference was necessarily anticipatory of, and conditional upon, preference for Canadian products in the English market, would have provided the fulcrum upon which the whole future course of Empire might have turned.

"As it is, what is the position? Mr. Dunning not only failed in such a stroke of statesmanship but actually went out of his way to emphasize to the people of Great Britain that no particular favors were expected in return, and that they need not for a moment imagine that Canada intended to implement the budget proposals by any sort of bargaining. By these remarks, and by omitting any expression of view to the effect that the continuity and development of the British preference must depend upon a sympathetic and wholehearted response from England, Mr. Dunning has done the right thing in the wrong way. He has, as it were, laid an offering on the doorstep of Mother England more as a childish sidling up to mother's apron-strings after a sound spanking by Uncle Sam than as a virile expression of Empire policy."

protection." Was Canada, he demanded, likely to trust "novices" with their newly adopted policy? The judgment of the Canadian people could be trusted. Whenever you have any convert doing something he has not been brought up to do, he will always make a mess of it.

For the Minister of Finance (Mr. Dunning), the Opposition Leader had strictures. "Mr. Dunning, the Minister of Finance, arose in the House of Commons on May 1 and intimated that like Saul of Tarsus, he had seen the light and become the Apostle. That was divine intervention. But such was not the case the other day. All that was shown the other day was love for office, and for power." He paused and put the question. "Is there a Liberal who does not think he has been betrayed?"

Fisherman Given Eight Cents Per lb. For Crustaceans

SHEDIAC, May 10—Heavy catches of lobsters are being made along the coast north of Chockpish river, Kent county, and on the western end of Prince Edward Island, the fishermen receiving eight cents a pound, the same price as prevailed during the spring season last year. The Paturel Fisheries of Shediac, Point du Chene and Point Sapin, is among the heaviest buyers, and is shipping live lobsters by the carload to the Boston market. The firm's northern cannery is Point Sapin. Many Westmorland county fishermen are engaged in the fishery north of Chockpish, Prince Edward Island live lobsters are handled at Point du Chene and Point Sapin. The New Brunswick markets are now generally supplied with boiled crustaceans.

The A. B. C. Packing Co., of Shediac, John 9. Kelly, manager, is engaged extensively in the lobster fishery. This concern is a subsidiary of Simpson, Roberts & Co., a million dollar corporation of Liverpool, England, Halifax, Yarmouth and elsewhere.

In the Gulf Shore district of Nova Scotia and Eastern Prince Edward Island, Fred Magee, of Port Elgin, and the Maritime Packers, of Cape Tormentine, are among the Westmorland county interests buying lobsters at the present time. The catch in that district is reported fair, and shipments of live lobsters are being forwarded to United States markets. Both districts will be closed on June 30. The season for fishing in this district will open August 16.

The fishermen of the Maritime Provinces receive nearly $4,000,000 for lobsters in an average year.

Islanders At Kings College

(From Halifax Herald "Secret happenings" by I. C. R.)

At the closing exercises of King's College Thursday two Prince Edward Islanders were selected for the major parts in the program, W. S. McNutt, of Charlottetown, who delivered the valedictory, and Rev. Canon E. A. Harris, who delivered the alumni oration. Mr. McNutt is graduating this term and will, I presume, receive his degree in due time from Dalhousie. He is a young man of fine promise. I have just read an article from his pen in the college monthly on the uprising of the tenantry on Prince Edward Island and their final victory over absentee landlordism, and on that article I desire to congratulate him. Canon Harris is a veteran. I have heard him deliver alumni orations before. He has been associated intimately with the work of King's for many, many years, or ever since he graduated from the old wooden walls at Windsor. I presume Mr. McNutt was fitted for his college career in old Prince of Wales College. I know Canon Harris was and it is a far cry back to 1873-4 when he first faced Professor Darby. His oration was of the usual high order.

First Reciprocal Tariff Action Re British Preference

(Canadian Press)

HAMILTON, Bermuda, May 10—The first reciprocal tariff action pursuant to Canada's abolition under British preference of duties on Bermuda and West Indies produce, was suggested in the House of Assembly here yesterday by members of the Finance Committee, who recommended the placing of a twelve and one half percent ad valorem duty on British imports of feeds, flour, fruit and sugar. These commodities, whether Empire or foreign, have hitherto entered free. Bermuda buys two-thirds of its feeds, nine-tenths of its flour and one-tenth of its sugar from Canada at the present time, the remainder coming from the United States. Fully nine-tenths of all these products will be bought from Canada it is believed, if the proposal, the conditions of which would come into effect July 1, is carried. Action on the finance committee's recommendation will be taken next week. While it is impossible to forecast the House's attitude, it is generally believed the proposal will carry, as the Finance Committee generally controls a majority in the Assembly.
