A VALUABLE PRIZE CONTEST

The Guardian Has Secured the Right to Offer Subscribers a Bible Study Competition Without Cost to Competitors.

The Charlottetown Guardian has secured the right to use the International Newspaper Bible Study Club Lessons each week for the term of one year commencing with the lesson for August 23rd, 1908. But one paper in each town can use these. The Guardian takes pleasure in being able to present to its readers such a valuable help along the lines of Bible study. They will be published each week in the Morning Daily and the Rural Daily. Only paid-in-advance subscribers to either paper are eligible to join this club. There is no fee for entrance, and no conditions other than those stated below. Everybody stands the same chance and has the same opportunity to get the valuable prizes without the investment of a cent. There is one condition that must in every case be complied with and that is, that every one entering the contest must be a regular subscriber as above.

GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS, BIBLES, BOOKS.

Persons may join the club at any time during the year, but by mutual consent, a writer sympathetic in nature explained, to qualify for the prizes. Sunday School teachers, Bible questions be answered as the lessons are studied. The International Newspaper Bible Study Club is for the purpose of promoting, in an unfettered way among the masses, a wider sympathy for the Bible, the basal truths of Christianity, and the problems which enter into every man's life. It is composed of all those who join a Local Club, and take up the simple course herein outlined, barring any ordained clergymen. The cooperation of the club is not considered fair to have them compete for the prizes. It is however desirable that Bible Class scholars, and church goers generally, may belong to this newspaper club, also non-churchgoers, of all shades of opinion. All such who have not joined are warmly invited to do so and compete for the prizes. The Guardian has secured the right to publish the International Sunday School Lesson questions by Rev. Dr. Linscott, D.D., which have aroused so much interest elsewhere, and they will appear weekly. One of these questions each week is to be answered in writing, and upon these answers the prizes are to be awarded. The Guardian is authorized to form a Local Newspaper Bible Study Club for its readers, and guarantees to all who join and fulfill the conditions, the following here promised as conditions of the contest.

1. Each contestant, or his or her family, must be a paid in advance subscriber to The Guardian, during the continuance of the contest, in order to qualify for membership in the International Newspaper Bible Study Club and this Local Club.

2. Each contestant in this Local Club must answer each of the written questions for 52 consecutive weeks, commencing for Sunday, August 23rd and the answers must be in possession of this paper within two weeks of the close of the period, which allows two weeks grace after the close of the contest.

3. Each question must be answered separately, and the paper written on one side only. No answer must contain more than two hundred words and may be less. It will be a convenience if students will write their answers on letter paper, about 8 1/2 inches by 11 inches.

4. Each answer must have the name and address of the writer at the bottom of the answer, together with the date label of a current issue of The Guardian so it can be identified, giving a number, registered, and then the name will be cut off so the examiner may know it by number only.

5. Students should be careful to understand the question before answering. To do this the lesson text must be read and especially the verses or verses, upon which the question is based.

6. The answers from this Local Club must be delivered to The Guardian office, and they will be collected at the close of the contest and forwarded to headquarters for independent examination by competent examiners. The prizes will then be awarded according to the highest number of marks, won by members of The International Newspaper Bible Study Club, and prizes which will be awarded to members of this local Club will be given out from this office.

THE PRIZES.
First Series—A gold medal to each of the first five contestants.
Second Series—A silver medal to each of the next five contestants.
Third Series—A Teacher's Bible, price $5.50, to each of the next five contestants.
Fourth Series—The book "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50 to each of the next thirty-five contestants.
Fifth Series—A developed mind, an expanded imagination a richer experience and more profound knowledge of the Bible and of life, to all who take this course whether winning any other prize or not.

Each medal will be suitably engraved, giving the name of the winner and for what it is awarded, and in the like manner each Bible and book will be inscribed. All who can write, and have ideas, are urged to take up these studies, regardless of the degree of their education, as the papers are not valued from an educational or literary standpoint, but from the point of view of the cogency of their reasoning ideas. Suggestive Questions. Friendship of David and Jonathan, I. Sam. xx. Golden Text—A friend loveth at all times and brother is born for adversity, Prov. XVII:17. What had David done to provoke the enmity of Saul? Is it often, in these days, that a man's very goodness, coupled with success as in David's case, provokes enmity and jealousy, and if so how do you account for it? Is the proverb always true, "Blood is thicker than water"? Is it often, that two men, of no blood relation, form a confidential friendship and love for each other, exceeding that of brothers? What was the bond or affinity which drew David and Jonathan so close together? (See verses 17 and 42: Chap. xxiii:18.) Is the love of David and Jonathan a purely human love, that is a love which is possible for all normal human beings? Is it possible to cultivate such a pure friendship as existed between David and Jonathan, or is it necessarily a spontaneous development? Is such love and friendship as existed between David and Jonathan, possible to two persons who are irreligious? Was it possible for either David or Jonathan to have loved another, as they loved each other? Do such friendships as existed between David and Jonathan exist between women? When an intimate friendship exists between a married man and a married woman both of whom are of spotless character, should the fact of such friendship alone give good people reason for suspicion? Is God a party to all true friendships (see verses 23, 42.) Is every friendship formed in God, as sacred as that of David and Jonathan? Verse 17—Why was Jonathan so anxious for David to keep repeating that he loved him? Should we cultivate the habit of telling our intimate friends how much we think of them, or should we allow our actions alone to tell our love? Can love keep burning on the altar of friendship, if it is not fed by words, or deeds of kindness? Do kind expressions of love for our friends deepen and intensify friendship? What are the advantages or disadvantages of David and Jonathan friendships? Is the most God-like passion, a mother's love, the love of husband and wife, or pure sexless friendship? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the Club.) Lesson for Sunday, Aug. 30th, 1908—David Spares Saul's Life. I. Sam. xxvi.
