The advertisers who adopt the Guardian's Classified advertisements reap big results as told in that column.

Cyrus J. McMillan, of this City, has contributed an illustrated article to the Toronto Globe entitled "Down by the Sea."

H. D. Wickwire, accountant for J. E. Morse & Co., Halifax, and bride, nee Miss Phillips, are spending a honeymoon trip in Charlottetown.

C. F. and Mrs. Fisher and child of Montreal have rented a house at Inverman for the summer and are expected to arrive very soon. Mrs. Fisher is a daughter of Richard Smith, Brighton.

Miss Ida Purdy, City, has gone on a short visit to Botsford, N. B., where she will join her cousin, Mrs. John Lamb, and will proceed with Mrs. Lamb and her children to Sulphur Creek, near Dawson City, Yukon.

The local corps of the Salvation Army will hold their annual picnic on July 1st. This year it is open to the public, and everyone is assured of an enjoyable outing, as extensive preparations are being made. Watch for further announcements.

Norman A. Currie, who visited his relatives in this City a short while ago and who was formerly Chief Engineer of the Boston, and at one time on the engineering staff of the Stanley, has been appointed inspector of marine boilers and engines for Nova Scotia, vice the late J. P. Eade, Halifax.

A well known farmer at Hunter River has a pair of horses which he bought for thirty-eight dollars. With these horses he has sown one hundred and twenty-five bushels of oats and three acres of potatoes, and the animals look as well as when they commenced the work. He enthusiastically says, "That's better than going West."

There were two cases before the City police court on Saturday, Edmond Harrington for an assault on an Arablan received the sentence of $5 or thirty days, and for assaulting Constable Bradley, two months with out the option of a fine. The case of J. Locke, who is charged with fighting on the market square was adjourned till Tuesday.

The wool season is now here and farmers are anxious to know the price of wool for this season. The Guardian is informed that S. A. McDonald has gone into the wool trade on a large scale this year and is open to handle any quantity, no matter how large. The prices paid by this firm are the top notch of the market. Their place of business is opposite the Market on Queen St.

W. E. Anderson, secretary of the board of trade, is sending out a notice to members that the maritime board will meet in Charlottetown on Wednesday, Aug. 18. All members are invited to attend subjects for discussion at the meeting and to attend as delegates from the local board. St. John is entitled to send twenty-five delegates, and a number of members are going and will make a business trip of it.—St. John Telegraph.

The Guardian has received one of the Eastern Steamship Company's folders setting forth the picturesque vacation tours which may be taken by that popular water line through Maine and the Maritime Provinces. To form an idea of the grandeur of the scene is almost impossible, but to the persons who avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing it from the deck of one of the Eastern S. S. Co.'s boats, it is like a life long joy, for the company presents the beauty of wonderland to all who love the sea, the shore, the cliffs, and pine woods. Their fleet comprises a large number of steamers including the well known turbine propelled express boats Calvia Austin, Governor Cobb, Camden, and Belfast. The decks are unusually commodious, while the staterooms, and dining and social halls are replete with the latest improvements, so that the traveler thoroughly enjoys the home luxuries, besides the health giving breezes and beauties of nature. The pleasure seeker can go from Boston and Portland to Eastport, Lubec and St. John and make connections with the Maritime Provinces or take one of the several other divisions, as desired, either of which is equally enjoyable, as the saltiness of the sea vies with the spicy richness of the forest lands to afford one of the most charming outings the traveler can desire.

Geo. and Mrs. Henderson, Halifax, are visiting in this city.

G. Ballingall, Paris, Ont., was in the City Saturday and registered at the Rovers Hotel.

Among the visitors in this City Saturday were Rev. A. J. McAulay, Hope River, Wilfrid Forbes, Port Vernon.

Mrs. John Lang of Newton, Mass., has arrived home to visit her father, Benjamin Webster, Augustine Cove, who is seriously ill.

Any party who desires to handle Investment Securities can bear of a proposition that will pay big money by writing D. A. B. Guardian Office.

On Tuesday afternoon the house and barn of Samuel Arling, Corran Bay Bridge were destroyed by fire. It is not known how the fire started.—Pat.

A game of baseball was played at Victoria Park, Friday, between teams from Prowse Bros. and S. A. McDonald's stores. The team from S. A. McDonald's won.

The P. E. I. Hospital gratefully acknowledges the following donations:—Mrs. John Mortimer, papers; Mrs. F. W. Hyndman, magazines; Mrs. J. P. Hood, old linen; Geo. Rogers, magazines; John McDonald, trout.

Police Magistrate J. W. Richardson of St. Stephen is driving a very stylish bay mare which he recently purchased from Maxwell Robinson, who brought several horses from P. E. Island some days ago.—St. John Telegraph.

Among the arrivals in the City yesterday were, D. MacLeod, Wheatley River, D. Jenkins, Pownal, T. MacNeil, Truro, V. Crockett, York, M. Coffin, Murray Harbor, J. Moore, St. Peters, and J. J. Stewart and wife of Bay View.

The tug James Reid is still on the slip at Pictou. But it is expected that she will leave this week for St. Peter's, to take up the work of floating the Turret Bell. The steamer is in the same position as in the fall, the ice of last winter not having affected her.

At a private reception given to Lady Aberdeen on the occasion of her visit to Boston, by the Canadian and Victoria Clubs, at the hotel Tulleries, Commonwealth Avenue, Mrs. J. P. Costin of Boston formerly of Prince Edward Island was one of the ladies present.

Attention is directed to J. H. Bell's ad which appears elsewhere, as he is offering until the 30th instant an exceptionally generous discount on women's oxfords. As this is the season when new boots form part of the costume to such a large extent, no doubt large numbers will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure a couple of new pairs while the discount lasts.

St. Dunstan's Cathedral was the scene of a very pleasant event on June 8th at 6 a. m., when Miss Jennie Hill and Louis F. Monaghan both of this City, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father McLellan. The bride was attended by Miss Lizzie Monaghan, the groom being supported by his brother Fred Monaghan. The Guardian offers congratulations.

Rev. William McLeod, of Hampton, P. E. Island, conducted divine service Sabbath 6th, in Economy and Five Islands, where his classmate of five years in college, Rev. A. Lock, was recently so suddenly called to his reward. It was in this congregation, when engaged in the harness-making business, that Mr. McLeod was led, under the faithful pastorate of Rev. A. F. Thompson, to enter the christian ministry.—Presbyterian Witness.

On Friday the adjustment of losses on the Queen Hotel was completed. The total insurance on the building was $11,500, of which $7,500 was carried by the North British and Atlantic, the Phoenix Union and Atlas Companies. Of the balance $1,500 was carried by the Phoenix of Hartford represented by the Beer Insurance Co. and $2,500 by the Queen represented by D. B. Stewart. The furniture was insured as follows: $2,000 in the Sun represented by J. McEachern and $500 in the Phoenix of Hartford.

H. W. Elderkin, of Port Greville, who has made Truro his home for some years, has shown signs of permanency here by purchasing the handsome cottage of L. J. Reddin, corner of Dominion and Victoria streets. Mr. Elderkin will make a most excellent permanent citizen of Truro, and he has certainly secured a most desirable town home. We shall regret to lose Mr. Reddin from Truro. As soon as Mr. Elderkin moves into the house Mr. Reddin and family leave for Charlottetown, P. E. I.—Truro News.
