IN MEMORIAM
MR. MATHIAS MONAGHAN

The parish of Kelly's Cross and the adjoining districts where he was widely known and respected were shocked to hear on the morning of October 20th last that Mathias Monaghan had been called to his eternal reward. The deceased who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Monaghan, Kelly's Cross, was in his 29th year, and had up to a week or so been hard at work on the farm. Having taken a bad cold which developed into pleurisy, he gradually grew worse until Saturday morning the 20th when his family saw the end approaching and hastily summoned the pastor Rev. J. C. Pire. He was just in time to administer the last sacred rites for the dying, and thus fortified by the sacraments of Holy Mother, the church, of which the deceased was a consistent practical member he died as he had lived, in the peace of a clean heart and the grace of his Creator and Redeemer.

"VANISHING SHADOW"

Mystery Drama At Capitol

"One Is Guilty" came to the Capitol Theatre, last night, and acquitted itself very nicely and cleverly to the utter appreciation of an enthusiastic audience.

Ralph Bellamy, in the leading role of Inspector Trent, gave a convincing performance. His fine characterization of the detective will add Inspector Trent to the famous Philo Vance—Charlie Chan—Sherlock Holmes list.

The story concerns the murder of a champion pugilist, found shot to death in an empty apartment house, "Rexford Arms. Bellamy is assigned to the case, and from that moment the suspense builds until a smashing climax is reached at the end. Despite Bellamy's entrance into the case, the fighter's manager meets a similar end—shot to death. The same clues present themselves, yet the murders are a baffling mystery. It is not until Bellamy finds the answer in a theatre ticket stub that the crimes unravel.

"A Son Of Kong" At Prince Edward

Those who have seen "King Kong" adventure fantasy, will not be disappointed in "Son of Kong," a sequel, which opened at the Prince Edward Theatre.

"Son of Kong" is more elaborate in stage photography is much smoother than in the former production, and it is far more convincing and thrilling. Conservatively speaking, RKO-Radio has actually produced a sequel more appealing than its predecessor.

SUPPLIES FOR THE WEST—A meeting of the Western Relief Committee was held on Wednesday evening at the Mansie, Bradabane. A nicely decorated carriage containing the gifts was brought in by Mrs. Mutch's little daughter, Evelyn, who looked very winsome in her pretty white dress. Mrs. Mutch opened the parcels and Mr. R. E. Mutch's daughter, Margaret, read the congratulatory messages and presented the bride-elect with the accompanying gifts which included a tea-set from the members of the Earnscliffe Women's Institute. At the conclusion Miss Nelson sincerely thanked all her friends for their splendid presents. It was certainly a wonderful array of costly and useful gifts the bride-elect received that evening, and testified so eloquently to the popularity and sterling worth of this splendid young woman, and her fiancé, Mr. Bishop. The rest of the evening was spent in a thoroughly enjoyable way by every one present and all departed for their homes at a late hour, grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Mutch for their hospitality and wishing Miss Nelson and Mr. Bishop many long years of happy married life.

NEW MINISTER WELCOMED—The new minister, Rev. J. T. Payne, recently appointed to take charge of the work in the Church of England parishes of Cherry Valley and Georgetown, conducted his first service in Cherry Valley, Sunday last, and preached one of the best sermons heard in this church for a long time, his text being taken from the first ten verses of the thirty-seventh chapter of Ezekiel. At the evening service, Captain J. H. Morris was the preacher, and his sermon from the text "Give me an understanding heart" was a fine effort, and contained much food for thought. Captain Morris, a retired young Church Army officer and who has laboured faithfully in Cherry Valley and Georgetown for the past year, left Monday to engage in parish work in Sandy Cove, N. S.

DEPARTURE OF A PROMINENT RESIDENT—Kelly's Cross parish suffers a distinct loss with the departure for a six months' visit with her cousin Rt. Rev. Maurice McDonald, of Miss Mary A. Kelly. This respected lady has been our obituary since the death of her late lamented father, Mr. John Kelly. At his death, Miss Kelly took up the duties of the office, and due to her unfailing punctuality, courtesy and business integrity, she ever received the warmest approval, not only from the patrons of the office, but from the postal officials at each and every visit to the office. Miss Kelly was also the efficient organist in St. Joseph's Church and never did she fail to be present at High Mass, often at great sacrifices of even her health. These facts were not forgotten on the eve of her departure, when a committee made Miss Kelly a presentation of a purse of money from those whom she has served so faithfully. A right royal welcome back awaits Miss Kelly in the Spring of 1935.

OFFICERS ELECTED—The Wide-Awake Group of New Glasgow held their semi-annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Rollings on October 31st with a good attendance. The president, Mr. Sellar, presided. The meeting opened with a hymn. Prayer by Mr. Quigley. The Responsive Scripture Reading was led by Martha Ling. The lessons during the past six months have been very instructive under the leadership of Mr. Quigley. The answer to the Biblical Question was given and a new one asked for the following meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The Roll Call was responded to by 30 members. After the various committees were appointed and the business of the evening discussed, the following officers were elected: Religious Editor, Martha Ling, Local News Editor, Mrs. W. G. Quigley, Sport Editor, Everett Gass Joke Editor, Helen Houston. The meeting closed by singing "Take Time to be Holy," and dismissal by Mr. Quigley. The remainder of the evening was spent very pleasantly in Halloween contests and games.
