United States Golfers Set For Defence Of Ryder Cup

IN THIS CORNER

"Tiger" Joe Hartnett, one of the best middleweights ever developed in the Maritimes, is apparently in the sunset of his ring career. That fact was borne home strongly last night as we watched Bill Sparks of Amherst hang that two-round kayo on him. Hartnett still has courage and a punch left but that is about all. Sparks was his master last night and although the short-lived bout was more or less disappointing there was no doubt of the power contained in the two punches that the colored Amherst boy landed for his kayo win.

Sparks continues to show improvement in every start. Right now we would judge him one of the best in the Maritimes. He is a cool, confident performer every minute of a fight. Always in condition he is fast running out of his opponents and it appears that the day is not very far distant when he will be matched with "Tiger" Warrington. There is talk already of it in fact, and if Sparks does get a shot at the Liverpool Larruper it will be a real test of his ability.

Bennie Binns is on the comeback trail with a vengeance. Last night he surprised his local followers with a one-round kayo over Pat McArthur in the second round. Binns' victory is noteworthy due to the fact that it took Leo Kelly eight rounds to stow the same metallic avenger. Binns' aim is a bout with Kelly and the time is ripe for the pair to meet.

That is one fight that should pack them in. Binns, long considered the best of the Island middleweights had his honors taken from him in the minds of the fans that is, by the success Kelly attained in recent fights. About the only ones who didn't consider Kelly the best was Binns himself and his manager and pal Bill Ryan, and lately Bennie has set his mind to prove it. So far success has attended his comeback efforts and when the pair get in the same ring fireworks are bound to result.

Kelly is chafing at the bit to get into action again. The hand injury laid him on the shelf for a while but last night he stated that it was coming along in fine shape. He wants fights and plenty of them but first on his list is that postponed scrap with Bobby Orr and then Leo says I want to meet Binns. That is the one I really am waiting for.

George Leslie tangles with Billy Holm at Souris Thursday night and the Island champion is confident of taking the rugged Springfield boy. Many will not agree with him on the matter and Leslie is aiming to prove it. Serious as ever Leslie looked to be in great shape last night and once again will be the well-conditioned fighter that he always is.

Never overlooking a bet George has trained him for the fight a former Islander who is making a name for himself in the United States in the squared circle. He is Joe Rice, at present on a holiday at his former home in Souris, and a boxer who was undefeated in the amateur ranks and returned a winner in his only three professional starts.

A likely looking lad Rice is a lightweight. Fast, and a smooth boxer he is giving Leslie some very nervous workouts and Big George is fast stepping up his attack. Rice, a brother of Danny McCormick is expected to appear on the card against Jimmy Martin of Springhill, and his appearance will lend interest to the bouts being staged in the eastern township.

Bill Sparks of Amherst issued another challenge to George Leslie of Souris after the fight last night and the Island heavy champion didn't hesitate a minute in accepting. However, the dates and other matters in connection with the proposed bout have yet to be arranged and until this is done the match can only be considered as possibility.

Baz O'Meara says in the Montreal Star: "They say that in the final analysis Jim Braddock will get about $40,000. Thus the fighters work in these grandiose spectacles. So the reason why James must fight on is apparent."

"He has to cut his share of the pie in half with his manager, Uncle Sam gets through with him, he is shared for about $20,000. He owed Jacobs $30,000 by the time he got his final accounting he had a little over a thousand dollars to console him for his terrific beating."

SOUTHPORT, Eng., June 28—British hopes rose with the wind tonight as eight United States professional golfers staggered through a final practice round against a gale in preparation for the first half tomorrow of the American defence of the Ryder Cup, professional golf team tournament, on the treeless seaside links of Southport and Ainsdale.

Victors in three of the past five biennial matches, but never on British soil, the United States pros will open their battle to retain the International Trophy in four Scotch foursome matches tomorrow. On Wednesday they will clash in eight singles tests with what is generally conceded to be the best British team in the Ryder Cup history.

Prospects of a gale altered all talk that the invaders were so strong they might win "in a breeze". All betting was at even money.

The pairings for the Scotch foursomes, in which each team plays alternate shots with one ball, follow, with the Britons named first:

A. J. Padgham and Henry Cotton versus Ed Dudley and Byron Nelson; Arthur Lacey and W. J. Cox versus Ralph Guldahl and Tony Manero; Captain Charles A. Whittome and David Rees vs. Gene Sarazen and Denny Shute; Percy Alliss and Richard Burton versus Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta.

Walter Hagen, non-playing captain of the United States squad, left off Horton Smith, unbeaten in his last four cup matches, and Sam Snead, young West Virginian who placed second to Guldahl in the United States open but left his regular club at home and has been off his game ever since.

British players "benched" for the foursomes by Captain Whittome were Alf Perry, British Open champion in 1935, and Sam King, 26 year old assistant pro from Kent.

Five of the Americans have played in Great Britain before—Sarazen, British Open winner in 1933; Shute, who won the year before in a play-off with Casig Wood; Dudley, Picard and Manero—both Guldahl, Nelson and Revolta, members of the victorious United States squad at Ridgewood, N. J., two years ago, will be battling the English brand of sand and wind for the first time.

The only newcomer to the British tandem lineup is Rees, slight court-courtesy son of a Welsh professional.

Med. Brigade Team Leading City League

Limiting his opponents to five hits and holding them scoreless from the first to the ninth, Pete Kelly last night pitched 1st Med. Brigade team into first place in the City Softball League as his mates came through with some timely hitting to send the Esquires down to a 6-3 defeat. It was the Artillery team's fourth straight victory and the fifth win for Kelly this season.

Matching a brace of runs by the losers in the last half of the first inning the winners went to the front with a single tally in the third; four hits in the fourth sent two more runners across the plate with Artillery winding up their scoring in the seventh with another counter.

The losers after their first inning counters couldn't get a man across again until the ninth when an error, fielder's choice and a timely single gave them their third and final run.

Ray Stull, suffering his second defeat at the hands of the Artillery squad was touched for eleven hits while striking out six; Kelly had a like number of strikeouts while in only one frame, the second, could the losers garner more than one safety.

England's premier player, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, seeded No. 4, whipped Bryan N. (Bilby) Grant of Atlanta in easy fashion, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4, to strengthen last week's impression that he is rounding into his customary brilliant form after a slow start.

The draw pits Von Cramm against Austin in one semi-final Wednesday while the Americans will oppose each other in the second game.

Obscured by developments in the men's division, the women qualified virtually all the favorites. The only upset was provided by Margaret Scriven of England who eliminated the eighth seeded player, Kay Stammers, 7-5, 6-3.

Though Budge again was in top form in overpowering McGrath and keeping intact his record of not losing a set during his current British campaign, the day's honors fell mostly to Parker.

Parker Scores Lone Upset As Favorites Advance To Semi-finals At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, June 28—Four world-known players today qualified for the semi-final round of the All-England Tennis Championship before a capacity crowd. They were two Americans, a Briton and a German.

Three of the four first seeded players won quarter-final matches while in the other match the biggest upset of the tournament was scored by Frank Parker, chunky American, in eliminating Heinrich Henkel, of Germany, seeded third, in a brilliant five-set match, 6-3, 7-5, 4-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Donald Budge, top ranking United States player, seeded No. 1 favorite for the championship relinquished by Fred Perry, soundly defeated Vivian McGrath of Australia, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany, seeded No. 2, traveled five hard sets before overcoming Jack Crawford, Australian veteran, 6-3, 8-6, 3-6, 2-6, 6-2.

AUSTIN WHIPS GRANT

Binns Scores First Round K.O. Over Pat Metallic

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., June 28—Pat Metallic, 157, Charlotte-town, P. E. I., knocked out Pat Metallic, 155, Restigouche, Que., in the first round of their eight-round bout in the Arena here tonight. The fight was billed as for the middleweight championship of the Maritime Provinces. It lasted only fifteen seconds.

The five hundred or more fans had scarcely settled in their seats when the knockout occurred. The Island boxer came out from his corner with a rush and flung a left at the Indian boxer. Metallic ducked and Binns lost balance. Recovering, he threw a right hook to Metallic's jaw which flattened the Indian against the ropes. Metallic attempted to rise, faltered and fell on his face. Referee Louis Annett, Campbellton, counted Metallic out.

Suppose you noticed none of the National League third sackers was rated good enough for the all-star team. Joe Louis plans no theatre engagements for the present. He'll limit his extra-curricula activities to endorsements, exhibitions and a little radio work. Less of the latter the better for Joe, who is plumb scared to death of a mike. What kind of gas does the gas house gang use, for goodness sake. Its word 16 of its last 21 games.

Who do you like in the British open? London books make Henry Cotton a 3-1 choice. In New York books he is quoted at 12 to 1. Bob Harlow, the golf expert, says the winner is sure to come from among Cotton, Snead, Guldahl, Picard and Nelson. Joe Louis is guaranteed $75,000 for his London fight in August. Glenn Cunningham, the great miler, figures he has travelled more than 450,000 to run in track meets. New York papers are calling on business men, boxing commissioners, et al to stop snoring and grab the next heavyweight title fight.

Yacht Trophy Is Open To Competition

At a special meeting of the Borden Yacht Club held yesterday, Commodore A. P. Gerretti presiding, it was decided that all clubs of the Northumberland and Strait Yacht Racing Association would be invited to compete in the race for the "Terraplane" cup. This trophy was placed in competition as a challenge trophy to be raced for from Borden to the port holding the annual Regatta until won by the same owner three times.

The race this year will start from the Port of Borden on Saturday, July 3rd at 6 A.M. Sharp and will be open to all boats representing respective clubs of the Association. The regatta this year is to be held at Pictou.

The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Paul Harding, donor of the "Terraplane" trophy.

Sparks Kayoes Joe Hartnett In Second

Joe Hartnett of Halifax last night suffered his second knockout at the hands of Bill Sparks of Amherst, taking the count in the first minute of the second round as the clever Amherst boy landed solidly and powerfully with a right and left to the jaw, the punches having kayo written all over them.

It was a sudden finish to a fight that while not expected to go the limit nevertheless was expected to be of a little longer duration. There was nothing happened in an even first round to give an inkling that the end was not far off but as Sparks weathered a fast opening rush by the veteran Halifax Hartnett left himself open and the winner was quick to take the fullest advantage of a

The knockout in the main event was only one of four that occurred during the evening. In the semi-final game Johnny Shaw of Charlottetown went out in the fifth heat against Cowboy Judson of Alexandria. Giving away 20 pounds in weight Shaw fought back viciously against Judson in every round but when the right of the winner landed it was curtains for the Charlottetown fighter.

In the second fight of the card the end came in the first round with McCallum of the city winning by a kayo from Mark McCain of Fredericton. A right to the jaw saw McCain take the full count after he had mixed it fully and evenly with his opponent from the opening gong. There was only two seconds of the session left when the ten count was completed.

The opening preliminary ended in the third round. Young McCallum of Dunstaffnage beat Bennett of Southport via the kayo on the opening session Bennett came back to make it lively for his opponent in the second despite taking another nine count, but the third was only a minute and twenty seconds old when the winner put over a whistling right hand punch that saw his game opponent take the full count.

Referees—Leo Kelly and Tom White. Judges—John Connolly and John Cameron. Timers—Ed Acorn and Geo. Hooper. Announcer—Gus Longphie.

McCarthy and Terry say they won't announce their starting lineups until next Monday but the general guess is that the teams will feature these operatives:

Americans: Rolfe, New York, 3b; DiMaggio, New York, lf; Gehring, Detroit, 2b; Gehrig, New York, 1b; Cronin, Boston, ss; Bell, St. Louis, rf; Waker, Detroit, cf; Dickey, New York, catcher; pitchers Grove, Boston; Eridas, Detroit, and Gomez, New York.

National: Martin, St. Louis, cf; Bartel, New York, ss; Paul Waner, Pittsburgh, rf; Medwick, St. Louis, lf; Mize, St. Louis, 1b; Herman, Chicago, 2b; Vaughan, Pittsburgh 3b; Hartnett, Chicago, catcher; pitchers Hubbell, Dean and Mungo.

The three probable National League starting pitchers have won 28 games and lost 14. The combined record is 22 won and 12 lost for Grove, Bridges and Gomez.

Hitting freely and fielding neatly as well the Summerside Soviets defeated Alberton 9-5 in the latter's opening game of the season. The game went eight innings before being halted by rain and darkness and produced some very good baseball much to the satisfaction of a large number of fans. It is understood a return game will be played in the near future.

Batteries: S'Side, R. Clow, catcher; W. Arsenault, pitcher. Alberton, J. Mally, catcher; A. Mally, pitcher. Umpire Jack Schurman.

Nationals Are Favorites For All Star Game

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, June 28—Headed by a trio of the greatest pitchers in baseball—Carl Hubbell, Dizzy Dean and Van Lingle Mungo—Bill Terry's National League forces today stacked up as 8 to 5 favorites to whip Joe McCarthy's Americans in the all-star baseball game at Washington July 7.

When either Dean, Hubbell or Mungo start a ball game their team is favored. But when each one is assigned to "bear down" for three innings apiece, it's that much tougher for the opposition. Sideliners think Terry will start Hubbell and then follow with Dean and Mungo in that order.

On the basis of averages in the respective leagues, the Nationals also seem to have more punch than their rivals who have won three out of four of the all-star classics. Among the pitchers, the senior circuit stars possess a combined batting average of .339 as against one of .322 for the American Leaguers.

McCarthy and Terry say they won't announce their starting lineups until next Monday but the general guess is that the teams will feature these operatives:

Officially Open Holy Redeemer Tennis Courts

After several postponements because of weather conditions, courts of the Holy Redeemer Tennis Club were officially opened under floodlights last night.

A large number of members and visitors saw three exhibition matches after which the courts were thrown open to any who wished to play. President P. Callaghan was speaker who during his address said membership was open to any person in the city.

The three courts are also used in the day time. Alfred Doucette and Jack Kenny in their men's single exhibition match decided to halt play when the score stood at 8-8. Both players displayed brilliant tennis.

Jack Coyle and Elmer Blanchard defeated Ivan Berrigan and P. Callaghan in a men's double match 9-7, while Dr. L. Duffy and Florence Mallett defeated Frank DesRoches and Carolyn Kenny, 6-4, in another well-played exhibition.

Soviets Rally To Turn Back Sunglos 7-6

The luckless Sunglos again saw their chances of winning a ball game fade into the distance last evening, but this time they came the closest of the year as they pushed the Soviets right to the ninth before taking a 7-6 victory.

Leading 5-3 going into the last of the 6th the losers watched the Soviets push across three runs to go into the lead, for the first time. With one run in, two out, three on, and two strikes on the batter, Pony Day in centre field let Henry Landry's hard drive get away from him allowing two runs and giving the Soviets the lead. After tying things up again in the eighth the Sunglos again made a costly error which provided the winning run of the contest. In the first of the ninth the Sunglos got the tying run on third with one out but Durant bore down and they could not push it across.

The game provided almost everything which baseball has to offer. Jim Hogan and Val LeBlanc at third and short respectively, handled nine hard chances without an error. Deighen and W. Arsenault put on a performance almost as good for the Soviets.

The individual star of the game however was Roland Lyle, the lean right hander, considered a "has been" two years ago, put on a pitching performance nothing short of remarkable. In nine innings he allowed seven hits, struck out ten and walked one. At the bat, Rolly cracked out three singles in four trips, batted in one run and scored one himself. Sharing the spot light with the amazing Lyle, Joe Wedge cracked out a double and triple in four trips and handled three hard chances in left field successfully.

The win allowed the Soviets to maintain their mathematical chance of remaining in the running for the first section if the Sunglos should upset the Pioneers this evening.

Time of game 1 hr. 20 mins. Umpire: Lorne Monkley, bases, E. Arsenault and D. Lidsone. Scorer: J. Dods.
