CHANCE TO OBTAIN REAL DICTIONARY

READERS OF THIS PAPER MAY OBTAIN VALUABLE BOOK WITH SIX COUPONS AND LITTLE MONEY.

Richer by several thousands of new words is our English American speech today than a few years ago. To profit by them in good measure you must know what they are and what they mean. Mainly they have been born of scientific progress and the development in art and science. About 3,000 of them are in the new 1912 Funk & Wagnalls Comprehensive Dictionary with Atlas, offered by us for six coupons and only ninety-eight cents. Look at this superb volume and you will surely get it, if you call before this edition has been exhausted. 3362-7-10MELF.

Dubbe's Deduction. "I have been expecting her for some time," declared Mr. Dubbe, "and there she is."

"There is who?" asked his wife. "The woman tramp," answered Dubbe. "Anybody could tell that she is a hobo. Observe how she slouches along with her shoulders humped, her figure projecting and her hands thrust into the pockets of some man's discarded overcoat. Yes, and look at her shoes! The heels worn clear off!" "Silly," giggled Mrs. Dubbe. "She is one of our swellest society girls, in the latest figure, gait and garb."

Inseparable. "Mother," said little Mabel, "do missionaries go to heaven?" "Why, of course, dear," her mother replied.

"Do cannibals?" "No, I am afraid they don't."

"But, mother," the little girl insisted, "if a cannibal eats a missionary he'll have to go, won't he?"—New York Post.

What He Noticed. An inspector, examining a class in grammar, wrote a sentence on the blackboard and asked if any one noticed anything peculiar in it. After a short silence a small boy exclaimed: "Yes, sir; the bad writing."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Stinger. Mrs. Nagger—Perhaps you recall, it was on a railway train that we first met, and— Mr. Nagger—Yes, but it's too late now for me to sue the company for damages.—Exchange.

Analogous. She—But don't you think that everybody should learn to swim? He—Certainly not! What would you think of a fish that insisted on trying to learn to walk on dry land?—Boston Transcript.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT. Shortness of Breath. When a person begins to complain of habitual shortness of breath it is important to have a physical examination made without delay. One reason is that tuberculosis often begins with no other symptoms than shortness of breath and a slight cough. If these cases are seen and diagnosed very early it is not hard to arrest them. The symptom is, of course, present in such troubles as pneumonia, broncho pneumonia and pleurisy, which attack the organs of breath directly. Violent exercise naturally causes temporary shortness of breath. In the case of healthy people it disappears quickly when the exercise ceases. If it does not do so it is a good plan to have a careful examination in order to find out what is wrong. Young people sometimes persist in a favorite form of exercise after they have begun to notice their shortening breath. In that way they may do themselves lifelong injury.
