Get Wise to Constipation!

When you're constipated, it's a great temptation to be satisfied with quick relief. But physics may become a habit. And they don't keep constipation from returning. It's so much better to get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat what most people do, chances are the only thing the matter is not eating enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat a little Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk," it also contains the natural intestinal tonic, vitamin B. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ontario, Sold by every grocer.

Ends Corns Quickly; Takes Away Pain

Makes them shrivel up and drop off; makes your sore toes well in a day or two. Relief comes quickly. Paint on a few drops of Putnam's Corn Extractor tonight, see how well your sore corns feel in the morning. It's a real corn solvent. Nothing so good for sore corns as Putnam's Corn Extractor. Satisfaction guaranteed. Sold by all druggists. 35c per bottle.

THEIR MOTHER MADE THEM HELPLESS

"Really, I never knew two girls quite so helpless as mine. Joan couldn't cook a chop to save her life, and Margaret's ideas of housekeeping are positively comic! I've often heard Mrs. Blank talk in that way about her poor Joan and Margaret, stood by, scarlet and embarrassed or else defiantly pretending that they didn't care what she said. In the London Daily, Mary Blythe, in the London Daily, writes as a matter of fact, Joan and Margaret are two very attractive and intelligent girls, and as for their helplessness, what the house, Mrs. Blank has only one person to blame—herself.

She is one of those tremendously efficient women, with energy enough for all. But she can never understand that efficiency is not an instinct born in us, that it has to be cultivated and trained. She has been too impatient and too unimaginative to teach her girls the things she herself has learned by long experience.

I remember how, when Margaret was a child, her mother gave her the task of enameling fire grate in a little-used bedroom. It was

Pimples Kill Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but it is the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement of the face which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood of its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters cleanses and purifies the blood—Get rid of your pimples by taking B.B.B.

just the kind of job that a child would enjoy, and it would scarcely have mattered if the result had not been perfect.

Margaret set to work with a will but she had only made a few strokes with the brush when her mother intervened, snatching it out of her hand: "Good gracious, you'll be all day if you go about it like that. And just look—you're splashing the wall! Go away, I can't have you making a mess!"

So Margaret went away, with tears in her eyes. There is nothing quite so humiliating to a sensitive child as to be given a job of work and then to have it snatched away on the score of incompetence.

When Joan found that her schoolfellows were allowed to try their hands at cooking in their homes she wanted to follow suit. After a good deal of persuasion her mother let her try, but she stood over her all the time, criticising more than instructing.

Poor Joan was too bewildered and nervous to produce anything but a pudding that was a hopeless failure. Since then neither she nor her sister has ever been allowed the freedom of the kitchen.

When Margaret wanted to take up dressmaking and was anxious to join a class, her mother vetoed the idea at once: "It would be nothing but a waste of money. Why you can't even darn your own stockings properly!"

By perpetual criticism, always drawing attention to their slowness and inefficiency, this mother has done her best to make two clever girls into complete fools where domestic work is concerned.

Now, I'm glad to say, Margaret, is married and Joan has a little flat of her own. "How those two helpless girls manage without me I really can't conceive," says their mother. Yet manage they do, or rather they are learning to manage.

But in the process they have both made many expensive and distressing mistakes which they might have been spared if only their mother had trained them with a little more patience and a little more understanding.
