The Guardian has received a very pretty little Christmas booklet from The Maritime Business College at Halifax containing photographs of the proprietors E. Kaubach and R. Schurman. It is indeed a handsome souvenir but none too good for so progressive an institution.

FRENCH RIVER NOTES—N. and A. McLeod are now building a new bait house, their old one being completely destroyed by recent storms. The cemetery of St. Thomas church has been greatly improved in appearance, Albert Warren having completed his work. The churchyard is also much more convenient for tying horses.—McKenzie's Bridge needs considerable repairing which should be done immediately.

C. B. FOSTER, Toronto, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., we know here, sends out a unique Christmas greeting to friends. The card has a miniature picture of Mr. Foster and hoary lines, reminiscent of old and jolly times, when his jurisdiction was these maritime provinces as follows:

To old friends and new friends, To your friends as my friends, May we see each other often.

THE Halifax representative of Dunlop, Cooke & Co., J. E. Sheen formerly of Charlottetown, was given a pleasant surprise Monday when he received by express from Amherst, a package containing a gold ring with 2 karat diamond, and he was the recipient of many congratulations from friends who heard of his good fortune. It was from Mr. Cooke and was sent at this Christmas time as a token of appreciation of excellent service. Mr. Sheen has been with this well-known fur-manufacturing firm for many years, and has been one of the men who have materially assisted in placing it in the very front rank of houses in this long business in Canada.

THE November issue of Allsonia, the magazine published by the Electric Society of the Mount Allison Ladies' College, has just come to our table. It is a Jubilee Number, the first of four special numbers which are to be published during the school year. The other numbers planned for are: in January a Sackville Number; in March, a Graduates' Number; in May, a Teachers' Number. If the first number is any indication of the style of the succeeding issues, there will have been preserved and put on record, an immense amount of material of the greatest interest to former students of the Ladies' College and of the greatest value to its future historian. The number contains 116 pages.

THE friends and neighbors of Chester Mallett, Graham's Road, not wishing to see a worthy citizen pass from them unnoticed to another field of operation in this world—a sabbled at his home Dec. 21 to say farewell and offer their best wishes for his future prosperity. The meeting was called to order by calling James M. Mallett to the chair. Then a compliment was read, and a presentation of a dress suit case and silver pickle dish was made to Mr. and Mrs. Mallett respectively. After the reading of the address the following Toast list was proposed and responded to: King, National Anthem Government, James M. McLeod and Thomas Wignore. Agriculture, James McLeod and Thomas Wignore. Ladies, Thomas Wignore. Land we live in, Alexander McLeod. Education, J. L. Murphy. Host and Hostess, Mr. Mallett. Then followed a supper prepared by the ladies, who are always ready and willing to satisfy the wants of the inner man and please the palate of the most dainty being thoroughly satisfied with the repast the company then repaired to a spacious room to listen to the excellent vocal and instrumental music given by the younger folk till the advanced hour of the night bade them speed to their respective homes.

There is nothing makes a person feel more miserable than La Grippe. If taken in time by the aid of our La Grippe Wafers. It is only the matter of a few hours till it is completely under control. If let take its course there is no telling how it will end. So act accordingly, only 25 cts box—A. W. Reddin Pm B.

Steadfast Division, Sons of Temperance, Hampton, held an open social meeting on Monday evening 26th inst. Over seventy members and visitors were present. The Division room, which is one of the neatest and best furnished on the Island, was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Tables with various games were distributed throughout the hall, and when these were surrounded by groups of happy young people, it presented a scene of rare attractiveness and beauty. With music, games and innocent mirth the evening hours were most pleasantly whiled away. The atmosphere was redolent of purity, friendship and love. During the evening confectionery and fruit were passed around by some of the gallant young gentlemen, and altogether a most enjoyable time was spent.

About half past ten, the Worthy Patriarch, Bro Chester Shaw, took the chair, and called the meeting to order. Bro. Fraser McDonald, Grand Deputy of the Division, then came forward and read the following address:

Rev. A. D. McDonald of P. E. Island. Respected Sir and Bro.— We, the officers and members of Steadfast Division, S of T, feel that we cannot allow this joyous Christmas season to pass without giving expression to our appreciation of your valued services in connection with our Division. It was indeed through your influence and efforts that Steadfast Division was organized, and it is still largely owing to your hearty co-operation and untiring zeal in the work of temperance that our Division continues to flourish and prosper. We therefore, desire you to accept this small gift as a token of our respect and esteem.

Trusting you may long be spared to carry on the good work of temperance. We remain, Yours in L. P. and F. (Signed by members of Division)

The gift presented was a beautiful Saskatchewan buffalo robe. Mr. McDonald, who was completely taken by surprise, made a suitable reply thanking his friends one and all for their kind address and splendid gift. He felt he did not merit such generous recognition for the little he had done for the cause of temperance in the place. Steadfast Division had truly prospered. It was becoming true to its name. The principles of the Order were being lived up to. Already the benefits of total abstinence were being seen and felt in the community. In the bright gathering here to-night we beheld a type of our mission's fulfillment. This was sufficient reward. At the same time he most highly appreciated the expression of attachment and esteem they had been pleased to tender him, feeling assured it came from sincere and loving hearts.

He felt proud of the young people of Hampton and would cheerfully do all in his power to help them in the work of the Division, and in promoting the cause of temperance generally.

After appropriate addresses by Brothers Samuel Cameron, John H. Myers, Fred Ince and others, the meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

CHILD HAD ECZEMA "My daughter, thirteen years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician and used other ointments without benefit. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment she has been completely cured. This is the only Ointment I feel like recommending."—Mrs. JAMES H. PATRIQUIN, 176 Rockdale Avenue, Sydney, C. B.
