IN MEMORIAM: In loving memory of Alphonus Malone who departed this life on February 14th, 1945.

God give us strength to bear our grief, Courage to face the blow, But what is meant to lose him. No one will ever know, Sadly Missed and Lovingly Remembered by His Wife and Daughter Mary and Family.

IN MEMORIAM: JAMES EMMET HUGHES, Kinkora. February 14th, 1942.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother who lost his life at sea on board S. S. Ramapo, Merchant Marine.

Seven years gone by since that sad day, The day we hold in memory, Peaceful be thy sleep dear James It is sweet to breathe thy name.

And today many homes remember When we look at his vacant chair Our heads are bowed in sorrow For our son that sleeps over there.

Fling down its withered wreath of worthless praise, What will it matter if the world forgets, The little things for which his life was spent, The silent sorrow he bravely met.

And when life's day shall close In death's last repose, When the dark shadows o'er our eyelids creep, Let us not be afraid at this thick gathering shade, For God so giveth his beloved sleep.

For every cloud a silvery light, God wills it so, For every vale a shining height, A glorious morn for every night, And birth for labors three.

For snow's white wings a verdant field, a gain for loss, For buried seed the harvest yield, For pain a strength, a joy revealed, A crown for every cross.

Inserted by Mother, Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

Longevity Candidates

By Uncle Joe

MRS. LAWRENCE YEO: Central Lot 16's oldest resident will observe her ninety-sixth birthday on March 27th of this year. This remarkable lady still is quite active and reads without the aid of glasses. Her hobby is knitting and crocheting, which work is still executed with great skill and beauty.

Since becoming a nongenarian she has won prizes for her handiwork at the Alberton Exhibition, especially for Afghans, bedspreads and cushions. In her home may be seen a fine display of needlework, all wrought by her busy hands.

It is only natural that one with such an artistic touch would be fond of flowers and during the spring and summer, her special care is the family plot adjoining her home. The land and the old Methodist Church property hard by, was donated by her late husband.

Mrs. Yeo is a fine conversationalist with a keen sense of humor. She can relate many stirring incidents of early pioneer life in this island, tales of stumping and spinning "bees", weaving and the making of Taylor candles.

Mrs. Yeo's family consists of four sons and two daughters (living) one son and two daughters have passed away. She can boast 29 grand-children and nearly two score great-grandchildren. Formerly Miss Sarah Birch, she was born on a farm at Port Hill, where her youngest brother now resides. A sister, Louise Birch, is a resident of the U. S. A. Both brother and sister are well advanced in years.

Congratulations, Mrs. Yeo, and may the fates be kind to you through this brand new year of 1949.

MR. JOHN L. MILL: Our longevity candidate from Clermont, P. E. I., is Mr. John L. Mill, who was born here, he now lives on Feb. 15, 1884.

His wife's maiden name was Lois Craswell. The couple were married at South Rustico sixty-four years ago by the Rev. Mr. Reed. To this union were born three girls and two boys. Mrs. Mill passed to her eternal rest Feb. 4, 1934. Clermont's grand old gentleman has one sister and two brothers living. Still hale and hearty his host of friends wish him many more years of continued health and activity.

MR. JOHN N. STEWART: Mr. John N. Stewart of Cross Roads, P. E. I., was born Sept. 20, 1857, the son of John and Eliza Stewart.

On July 13, 1883, Mr. Stewart married Matilda Carver. The wedding took place at Pownal, the couple being married by the Rev. Mr. Coalter.

The Stewart's had a family of seven children, three boys and four girls. Living are Cecil Stewart, Charlottetown; Birt at Tea Hill and David at South River. There is also Alvin, Mrs. Ross Rehffus of Lynn, Mass.; (Beatrice), Mrs. Golden Carr, Charlottetown. The other two died some years ago, while Mr. Stewart's wife passed away in Dec. of 1944, aged 85 years. This longevity candidate had six sisters and four brothers, but the writer is unable to say whether any of these are alive.

Mr. Stewart has always lived on a farm, and attributes his long life to "early to bed and lots of hard, honest toil." He uses neither tobacco nor liquor.

Still hale and hearty, John Stewart has not yet retired and only last fall cut two acres of corn by hand. He also helped to harvest the root crops.

Not only does he continue to take an active interest in farming, but also keeps abreast of the times through press and radio.

If Mr. Stewart were asked to give advice to the youth of this generation I fancy he might quote these lines: "Go work in the vineyard today. Be earnest, be active, be strong; Go forth in His might, Who will honor the right, And give thee thy wages 'ere long."

The Story of Family Security that Figures can't tell

A message from the more than fifty British, Canadian and United States life insurance companies in Canada and their agents

Why so many people own life insurance: More than any other type of financial protection, life insurance brings freedom from worry about the future. It offers the easiest, most dependable way to provide security for the family and income for old age. No wonder almost all of the nation's families are protected in this way!

The amount of new life insurance protection put in force by Canadians during 1948 was 1 billion, 800 million dollars.

Cheques that start a new life! When life insurance payments are made to policyholders, countless dreams come true. These payments make it possible to set up a new business, travel, send a boy or girl to college, or retire. This is how most policyholders and their families benefit from their life insurance.

Living policyholders in Canada received life insurance payments totalling $115 million in 1948.

Homes are kept together: Imagine what life insurance payments mean to families that lose their breadwinners! Such payments mean that widows and children can be kept together, mortgages paid off, children kept at school. In many instances, life insurance is the only sizable asset left by many Canadians at death.

Last year, the life insurance companies paid out $75 million for death claim benefits.

In 1948 the life insurance companies and their agents faithfully served over four-and-one-half million policyholders in all walks of life, in every part of the nation. It should be obvious to any person who examines the structure of life insurance operation in Canada that the whole range of its activities is conducted in the public interest.

Life Insurance Served You in These Ways Too! Building for progress: Last year millions of dollars were invested for policyholders by life insurance companies. Result: new schools, roads, power plants, bridges, industrial plants and many other projects were constructed, promoting progress and creating jobs from coast to coast. Aiding war against disease: By substantial contributions to medical research projects last year, the life insurance companies continued to help science to fight cancer, tuberculosis, heart ailments and polio. These and similar projects were supported to help Canadians live longer, healthier lives!

IT IS GOOD CITIZENSHIP TO OWN LIFE INSURANCE
