SUCCESSFUL "GRAD" SENDS APPRECIATION

(Special to The Guardian)
OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Earle Bryenton, who has just received an appointment in the Customs Dept. here, sends the following message to Principal Moran of the U. C. C. of Charlottetown, his commercial Alma Mater: "I take pleasure in recommending the U. C. C. to anyone desirous of securing a good business training. Your College is modern and up-to-date in every respect and in my opinion your courses are second to none."
(Sgd) Earle Bryenton.

Mr. Bryenton is an expert shorthand writer and touch typist. He is now employed in the Customs Department at Ottawa. He was sent from the U. C. C. to do court reporting in the Supreme Court last term. 1773M11.

AROUND THE WORLD IN THIRTY-FIVE DAYS

The world's record for globe-trotting, which has stood for several years, was broken this summer by John Henry Mears, a reporter on a New York newspaper. He traveled around the world from New York City to New York City in 35 days 21 hrs. 35 min. 45 sec., returning to the newspaper office 45 of a second behind his schedule.

Since the time when Jules Verne's character, Phineas Fogg, made his imaginary trip around the world in 80 days, various travelers have broken his record. In 1889-90, a newspaper woman known as "Nellie Bly" journeyed from New York to New York via the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean in 72 days 6 hr. 11 min. The completion of the Trans-Siberian Railway offered a chance to beat her record, and in July and August, 1911, Andre Jager-Schmidt, representing a Paris paper, circled the globe from Paris to Paris in 31 days 19 hr. 43 min. 37 4-5 sec. This record stood until this summer, when the establishing of faster liners across the Pacific Ocean offered a new opportunity. Mr. Mears' methods of travel were not as various or romantic as Phineas Fogg's, but who he lacked in Indian elephants he made up for with motor-cars, flying boats and automobiles. And while Phineas Fogg was unheard of during his 81 days, the wireless telegraph enabled Mr. Mears to report his location daily. An interesting map of the route and description of Mr. Mears' trip appear in the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

THE COLONIALS

and, urged by his lady love to whom he had given the false impression that he had been a great sprinter at College, undertakes to run for the Flying Hart against the Centipede and regain the trophy, all is jubilant in the former camp. Especially when Lawrence Class (Mr. Louis Neville), Speed's valet, who promptly assumes the position of trainer of Speed, gives it out that his man can do the hundred in 8 secs. But as Speed himself puts it, he can't do it in fifteen minutes to save his life. The cow-boys, anxious on getting back the lost laurels, meanwhile broadly hint at what dire revenge they would take on Speed and his trainer should anything prevent them from winning, and Willie Strover (Mr. Robert LaLonde), a gun artist, and Aurelio Marcia Carcara (Mr. Cortland Hopkins), a Mexican, and champion rope thrower of the ranch, back up their startling hints with equally startling demonstrations of their expertise in their respective lines. Thus, between fear of his life and fear of his deception being discovered by the young lady, Speed does not have exactly a happy time. Before the fatal day arrives, however, he manages to "fix" the race with his opponent, the cook of the Centipedes, though at a cost of $500 and thus he is enabled to win the race and the girl.

With poor material at their disposal, the company gave a fairly good performance. The characters were all breezily portrayed, and there was plenty of realism with brandishing of knives and the frequent discharge of pistols. Besides the characters mentioned already Miss Ama Blonde represented a young widow named Mrs. Blake, Jean Chapin's friend; Miss Fern Wayne, Marijdetta, Jean's Mexican maid, and Mr. A. Rivers, Whis Long, known as Skinner, Speed's opponent on the track.

This afternoon, at three o'clock, the company will give a matinee performance, at which "The Turning Point" will be performed, and tonight they bring their season to a close with the presentation of "Lydnurst."

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

LONDON, Sept. 18, (Special)—The effect of Lord Lorneburn's proposal is at last beginning to be borne in upon the minds of ardent Liberals and Labor men throughout the country, and a strong note of protest is being raised against the interference of what some of the Radical papers designate as "meddlers and muddlers," in the question of justice to Ireland, which has been fought over for the last thirty years. As was said yesterday, Lord Lorneburn has done Liberalism a very bad turn, for should there be any weakening on the part of the Cabinet the Liberal party would be doomed.

It is very helpful to find Home Rulers in Canada, Australia and New Zealand protesting against Lord Lorneburn's suggestion. What sound Liberals here say that if Sir Edward Carson is out for insurrection or rebellion, let him pay the penalty. Justice at all costs, must be done to the long-suffering people of Ireland, who have been given encouragement in the past. Premier Asquith and his Ministers, unperturbed, are still enjoying golf and other recreations.

COBURG, Sept. 18, (Special)—Fourteen persons are dead as the result of the collapse of a tenement house last night which was caused by a explosion of gas. One entire family, man and wife and three children were killed. Six families were buried in the ruins and it was not known definitely how many were missing. The explosion, which occurred in the gas main in the centre of the street, was so violent that it lifted the house bodily several feet.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Committee was submitted by the chairman, Mr. McCarthy. A large number of important questions were reported and discussed.

Mr. Allen Cole read a carefully prepared and interesting paper on the Time Table. That the time of the pupil may be most effectively used it is absolutely necessary to have a proper division of time. Determine the proportion of work necessary to be devoted to each subject according to the difficulties the subject presents. Having determined this, then make your time table to secure the necessary time to each subject. In the discussion that followed it was suggested that Friday afternoons be devoted to varied exercises, that too much home work should not be required from young pupils, more reasonably be expected of older pupils. The well merited thanks of the convention were tendered the author of the paper.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the reading of the minutes the following resolutions were adopted:

That the thanks of the association be given to the Provincial Government for the encouragement given to the teachers by the enactment of the attendance clause; also for providing the Summer School for Teachers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President—Inspector Crockett.
Vice-Presidents—Mr. Allen Cole, Inspector Deveraux, Miss Murley.
Recording Secretary—Mr. A. C. Cullen.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. G. H. Campbell.

Additional members of the Executive—Messrs. J. D. Seaman, James Landrigan, Braden Jolly, Miss Ruth Campbell, Miss Munn.

ALBERTA'S OFFICE HOME IN LONDON.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The provincial Government of Alberta has secured offices in Trafalgar buildings, occupation of which has now been taken by Mr. Reid, the newly appointed Agent General for the province. Mr. Reid in an interview stated that a large amount of the business transacted by the province of Alberta with London will in future be done through the Agent General in stead of through Edmonton.

TENDER HANDS LAY BODY TO REST.

TRURO, Sept. 25.—The funeral of Fireman Oscar Hingley took place this afternoon at the little corner section of Truro, where he had lived. The church on the hill was filled with sympathetic friends and the procession, which followed the remains to the little graveyard about a mile up the road, was a long one. Rev. Mr. Tingley, Baptist minister, conducted the service.

The funeral of Driver Frank Lynd, will take place to-morrow at 10 o'clock from his late residence, 800 River road, Truro. The remains of William Banks, whose death occurred this morning at an early hour in the Amherst hospital, were conveyed to his late home to-night, in Stewiacke. The funeral has not been definitely fixed, although it is probable that Saturday will be the day. Sympathy for the young wife and mother is universal.
