FARMERS OF WORLD FORMED FEDERATION

An International Federation of Agricultural Producers (IFAP) came into being on May 31, 1946 in London, England, states Agriculture Abroad, the digest of agricultural policies issued by the Economics Division Dominion Department of Agriculture. The countries which have already joined the Federation are Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Holland, India, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, the United Kingdom and the United States and other countries are expected to do so later.

A resolution for the establishment of a provisional council and the formation of a permanent organization within a year have been signed by the above thirteen countries. It has also been decided that the organization will meet in full conference at least once a year.

The birth of the Federation was one result of the international conference attended by representatives from 31 countries held in London, England, from May 21 to May 31, 1946. Already it had become known that the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) would come into being as a world authority for food planning, and the British National Farmers' Union considered that farmers' interests could be represented better that body with more weight if an international farmers' federation existed.

Quite independently, the International Confederation of Agriculture, a body that had been in existence for 47 years with a membership of 11 nations also urged farmers' organizations in all countries to join in a single union. It will be the task of the new International Federation of Agricultural Producers, working through the national farm organizations of the various member countries to create such an effective body of public opinion as will make it possible for the governments of the respective countries to implement the humane objectives of FAO.

The Federation of Agricultural Producers will advise on and assist inter-governmental action through the FAO and other international bodies. It will promote efficiency of production and marketing, and link up the action of national bodies to promote the well-being of farm people everywhere.

The Federation would also carry out research and statistical analysis and promote publicity. James Turner, president of the British National Farmers' Union was elected president of the Federation, and the leaders of the Canadian French and Dutch delegations were elected to the three vice-presidencies.

RECORD CONSIGNMENT OF HOLSTEINS TO UK

Further recognition of the high standard of Canadian pure bred cattle has accrued through the recent purchase of 220 outstanding Canadian Holstein cattle by a four-man delegation from the British Friesian Cattle Society for a sum in excess of half a million dollars. This sum, says the Commercial Intelligence Journal, is the largest paid for any single shipment of Holstein-Friesian cattle from Canada, and the live stock concerned met the highest specifications ever established for a large scale exportation to Britain.

The top price paid was $10,000 for "Gerben again" the two-month old daughter of "Aairra Gerben" whose lactation period record of 1,900 pounds of butterfat is the highest for her class ever credited to a cow under ROP supervision. The top bull for which $7,500 was paid was "Diamond Rag Apple Admiral" a three-year old son of the famed three times All Canada 1st aged bull "Montie Rag Apple Marksmen". The average price paid to breeders for the 220 cattle was $2,087 which is a record. With handling and transportation charges, the average cost will be raised to about $2,300. The cattle were selected from farms in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta.

Eighty-six breeders contributed to the consignment which will find its way to all parts of the United Kingdom. The consignment consisted of 64 bulls, 8 milking heifers, 56 bred heifers, and 56 open heifers. The departure of many young heifers is being delayed in order that they may be bred to outstanding sires before leaving Canada.

MORAL VICTORY IS CLAIMED BY SQUATTERS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 26—(Reuters)—The government has won its legal battle against the "squatters" London families seeking accommodation who invaded and installed themselves in several blocks of luxury flats in London. But the British Communists, who helped to organize the squatters are claiming a moral victory, and point to the fact that the government has ordered the speeding up of the release of housing buildings requisitioned in war-time.

The Communists maintain that the government has forced the government to give fresh and urgent consideration to the housing problem, that all over the country local councils have been stirred to action, and that the support accorded to the squatters by the labor movement and in the trades unions demonstrated that their action had won public sympathy.

Now the Communists are preparing for the next step, but one of their leaders said in an interview that it is not likely to take the dramatic form of the London flat seizures. It will consist of an intensive campaign concentrated in the labor and trades union movements, to maintain pressure on the government.

The Communists are producing figures to support their contention that the government is not treating the housing problem with the necessary urgency.

OVERFACING PEACHES

On a charge of overfacing six quart baskets of peaches, S. Pioranski, R. E. 2, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, was fined the maximum $50, and costs, at St. Catharines' police court of September 2, 1946.

The charge was laid by an Inspector of the Dominion Department of Agriculture on behalf of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, under The Farm Products Grades and Sales Act and Regulations.

PARHAM, SUFFOLK, ENGLAND, SEPT. 21—(CP)—

The airfield has miles of broad concrete runways intersecting at great perimeter, and motorists seeking a way out find themselves driving round and round and at times back where they started.

One told police he used up all his basic ration trying to get out and had to sleep the night in his car.

Amazed At Mr. Churchill's Proposal

PARIS, Sept. 20—(Reuters)—Winston Churchill's proposal at Zurich today that France and Germany become partners as a first step in creating a United States of Europe shocked many Frenchmen.

Even the large though slight group which consented to collaborate with Germany because they saw no other way out were amazed by the suggestion that France should bury the hatchet.

Official circles refused to comment on Mr. Churchill's speech until the full official text is received.

In political circles Mr. Churchill's proposal was regarded as another move in what is believed to be an Anglo-American effort to win Germany away from any possible future alliance with the Soviet Union.

Communist quarters describe the proposal as another attempt to build up a system like that of the Soviet Union.
