Will Represent United Church Youth At World Conference

Donald S. Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Reid of Shubenacadie, N. S., has recently received notice of his appointment as a delegate to the World Conference for Christian Youth to be held in Oslo, Norway, from July 22 to 31, 1947. He will represent the youth of the United Church of Canada, being one of eight delegates from the National Council and the only delegate from the Maritime Conference Young People's Union.

Born in Shubenacadie in 1924, he received his early education at the local school and at the Colchester County Academy in Truro. He entered Mount Allison University in the autumn of 1941 and was elected Moses on the staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force. After his discharge from the Service he took business training at the Maritime Business College in Halifax where at the present time, on the staff of A.J. Reid & Sons, Shubenacadie.

Mr. Reid has been very active in young people's work in his own home church and in the Presbyterian Church of Truro. He now holds the office of President of Truro Presbytery Y. P. Union and has given strong and enthusiastic leadership in this capacity. Last summer he was chosen one of the delegates from the Maritime Conference Y.P.U. to the National Y.P. Council at Belleville, Ontario.

Mr. Reid's interests are not confined to the work of the young people but he serves in several capacities in the social, recreational, and religious life of the community. Being well known and highly regarded throughout the Maritimes this appointment to the World Conference for Christian Youth at Oslo will be greeted with much satisfaction by many people.

dictation brought the night's activities to an end.

W.M.S. MEETING—The monthly meeting of the Evening Circle of the Women's Missionary Society of the Summerside Presbyterian Church was held at the Mansie venue on Thursday evening. The meeting opened with the call to worship by Mrs. David Larkin. Scripture was read by Mrs. Henry Bishop. The evening's meditation was by Mrs. Edwin McKay on the life of George Leslie Mackay, the first Presbyterian Missionary in Formosa. The devotional period closed with prayer by Mrs. Fred Moase. Miss Connie Enman, president, was in the chair for the business session. Roll was called and the minutes of the last monthly meeting read and approved. Mrs. Carnegie read a report taken from the Presbyterian Record on the missionary work of G.W. MacKenzie. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Lunch was served by Mrs. Carnegie and Mrs. F. Moase.

WEDDING BELLS—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Westmorland United Church Rectory, Toronto, at three o'clock on Monday, Jan. 27th, by the Rev. L. J. Hunter officiating. The bride, Edna Marion Manderson, daughter of Mrs. James Manderson and the late James Manderson of Central, Ont., was the bride of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Doherty of Charlottetown. The bride was attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson of Toronto, friends of the groom. The bride wore a grey sateen suit with brown accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Henderson wore a green wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, 30 Antler Avenue at which twenty guests were present. The table was covered with a beautiful white wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom for decoration. A toast was proposed to the bride by Mr. Donnell Gill and appropriately responded to by the groom. The bride is a graduate of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and has been a member of the staff since her graduation. The groom is attached to the R.C.A.F. and is at present stationed at Clinton, Ontario. Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a shower by her girl friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Blacklives. Out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's sister, Miss Betty Manderson R.N., of Montreal and Mrs. A.W. Blacklives, also of Montreal.

Individual Enterprise Most Valued of Freedoms Says Head of Mutual Life of Canada

Warns that Canadians must be on guard to protect the rights of the individual against bureaucratic, authoritarian, monopolistic or subversive influences.

REPORTS A RECORD YEAR FOR MUTUAL LIFE

Cites Life Insurance as valuable means for carrying out the lessons of thrift learned by wartime savings.

Waterloo, Ont. Feb. 6th.

Calling on Mutual Life policyholders to be a bulwark in the defense of personal freedom, Mr. Louis L. Lang, president of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, at the 77th Annual Meeting of Policyholders, stated that the ability of Life Insurance to continue to serve the Canadian people in the coming years, depends upon the preservation of the rights of the individual to create property and to be protected in its ownership.

Amongst other highlights of 1946 progress, Mr. Lang reported a new peak in the amount of life insurance purchased from the Company by the Canadian public.

Canada's Opportunities
Many opportunities will present themselves during this, the second year of reconstruction, which should lead to increased happiness, real security, more settled government, full employment, increased production of goods, expansion of services, reductions in prices, lower taxes and a more stable and normal economy. It remains to be seen whether these opportunities will be utilized to the best advantage.

Since hostilities ceased in 1945, the victorious powers have had to struggle with the tremendous task of maintaining some semblance of order, of minimizing death and suffering from famine and plague, of encouraging the production of food and other commodities and of restoring the normal trade channels. Much progress has been attained in the general objectives.

Rehabilitation in many of the areas devastated by the war is steadily progressing. Fertile lands which were ravaged are yielding harvest and the supply of food has been greatly increased, although it is still far from adequate. In the majority of countries, the people are beginning to support themselves. International finance is linking up with national finance and real international trade is slowly but surely improving. These facts are fundamental to any constructive thinking relating to Canadian affairs because there is no way by which we can separate our country from the far-reaching effects of world conditions and movements.

In spite of the difficulties encountered and mistakes made, 1946 has been a year of progress and recovery throughout the world.

Wage Increases Deceptive
There were some artificial and misleading increases in wages. One of these was the inflation of prices, which was not an indication of prosperity at all as it was caused by a shortage of goods and bidding for needed articles which were scarce. There was a great increase in wage rates, which was deceptive because it was accompanied by a decrease in the purchasing power of money, due to the rise in the prices of commodities.

During last year, there were very serious errors of omission. There were opportunities to increase production of all kinds. The whole world wanted food, building materials, fuel and manufactured goods. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, 30 Antler Avenue at which twenty guests were present. The table was covered with a beautiful white wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom for decoration. A toast was proposed to the bride by Mr. Donnell Gill and appropriately responded to by the groom. The bride is a graduate of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and has been a member of the staff since her graduation. The groom is attached to the R.C.A.F. and is at present stationed at Clinton, Ontario. Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a shower by her girl friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Blacklives. Out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's sister, Miss Betty Manderson R.N., of Montreal and Mrs. A.W. Blacklives, also of Montreal.

Must Meet Changing World Conditions
Canadians must realize that, for better or worse, a form of world government is in action. We are already being involved in its powers. We have assumed our share of what has been done to set up and to operate the United Nations Organization. The fact that it is in existence and has made some progress is encouraging. It is not important that we should continue to take an intelligent interest in this body and to continue to do our part and to pay our share of the expense? We must also be vigilant in our own interests to ensure that Canadian ideals, our way of life and our material welfare are safeguarded.

There are a great many ideas and systems which are being advocated in these disturbed times and, on the whole, probably this is a good thing because it indicates an awareness of international and national problems, but we should avoid the danger of being confused and impeded by a multiplicity of new proposals, organizations and procedures. There is one most certain thing in the world is change, and we must be prepared to welcome and adapt ourselves to such changes as are expedient, we should also have due regard for the lessons of experience.

Critical Year Ahead
Canadians in 1947 which will be a critical year, should take a keen and constructive interest in all that concerns the domestic welfare of their own country. The great majority of Canadians continue to believe that the political and economic systems embodied in the British Commonwealth and Empire and the

Gifts Appreciated

A lady in Winsloe has received the following letter which speaks for itself.

Kifissia Athens Jan. 22, 1947 Greece

Dear Madam:

Through the Greek service that distributes the donated clothing to the poorest of the poor, I got your wonderful warm brown coat with fur. This present came at a moment of utmost despair, that I had lost all my hope and all my will to live. During all this horrible war I and my family had to suffer a lot. I myself have been in a German concentration camp for working with one of the underground organizations. There I lost my health and now I am only a shade of my former self and very sensitive in anything cold. I should not work very hard either, but one has to try to keep the family alive. My husband had to be for a long time during the occupation a refugee for his work in the underground organization. Through lack of food and horrible living conditions he developed T. B. Though there is the hope that he will be cured he is not able to work, and has to stay in bed, has to be kept warm and well fed. Besides this, there is our 4-12 year old daughter, that has to be fed, cared for and also dressed. From lack of coal and warm clothing she continually has to suffer. I have a present from my husband from the fur in combination with some old material I managed to buy for a warm jacket. It is a very long time that I remember my warm hands and not stiff blue ones.

I am so grateful to you and I tell you every day of the kind lady that gave her warm coat for us. You are neither my husband, nor I have any living relatives. They all died during the war, either murdered by the Germans, or destroyed by the Germans too.

Before we had both of us have had better times. We are both high school graduates, but now there is no job to be found. My husband and I are both unemployed and all the responsibilities stay on my shoulders. There is no job to be found for me to work whatever the chance brings. The payment is so small that it covers just the costs of a poor meal, the extremely high rent, some times and a very little wood to light the stove for 2 or 3 hours a day. This means shivering all day because we live in a suburb of Athens on the foot of mountains, that now during winter are covered with snow.

Sometimes we can sell for a very low price one of the pendrawings my husband makes. Pieces of art are not underpaid here, but the living expenses are going up steadily. I should like very much to get better and he will be able to get up for some hours a day, he will start drawing again. He is very eager to express his gratitude for you. In the meantime I will find out which is the best way to send it, so that I'll be sure that you will receive it.

As I do not want to trouble you with more sad and unpleasant descriptions of our life I finish this letter. If you can help me in any way to thank you properly for the gift of yours and to express my everlasting gratitude to you.

Yours faithfully,
JOANNA A. STATHOPOULOU

Is Your Throat Sore?

There is new hope for you if you use Polson's Cough Syrup. Bad attacks of coughing will certainly be checked. This aromatic remedy acts as an internal antiseptic and thins out the mucus or phlegm that causes the gasping and choking. The strained, over-wrought condition in the muscles of the throat and bronchial tubes is relaxed, and you can breathe more freely again. If you suffer from a Weak Throat, from Bronchitis, a Cough or Cold, don't experiment with a doubtful remedy, use one that embraces the best of pharmaceutical skill. Use Polson's Cough Syrup. Sold by all Druggists in 35c bottles.

POLSON'S COUGH SYRUP

In Memoriam

MR. JOHN LEFURGEY

A host of friends in this Province learned with sincere regret that Mr. John Lefurgey, a highly respected farmer and fox rancher of Wilmot Valley, had passed away at his home on Monday, January 27th.

Critically ill for some time, the end came so suddenly that it seemed hard to realize that he had passed away. About two years ago the deceased developed foot infection which developed so rapidly that it became necessary to remove the leg and as time went on it became apparent that the infection had spread to the other foot and up to the time of his death his sufferings were very intense.

Mr. Lefurgey, born 76 years ago on the farmstead which had been his home all through his life, was the son of William and Jeanette Small Lefurgey and his home became known as a center of hospitality where visitors were always welcome. Mr. Lefurgey was a progressive farmer who was never too busy to help out a neighbor when in need of assistance, giving freely of his veterinary ability when required. He had a sense of humor such as few men possessed and this coupled with his well informed mind and smiles, made him a pleasant conversationalist and an always welcome guest. In religion he was a Baptist and in politics a Conservative.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Margaret Ross; one daughter, Miss Annie, with the Civil Service in Ottawa; and two sons, William at home, and Hal in Jasper, Alberta; also one brother, Dr. Calvin, in California. Two sons predeceased him, John and Hugh St. Oslie, whose plane crashed in England.

The funeral was held from his home in Wilmot on Wednesday, January 29th, and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Barass of the Summerside Baptist Church. The pall bearers were: Messrs. William Gillespie, John Pilling and Albin Leckie, David Walker, D. E. McNeill and Clark McQuarrie. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.
