Final Resting Place For Late Cardinal's Body

QUEBEC, Jan. 22 — (CP) — The body of Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec who died in California last week will be given a place of honor Friday in a long, grey subterranean chamber which serves as the crypt of Notre Dame Cathedral.

The crypt, beneath the basement of the old cathedral, is a long, tunnel-like room of white washed walls which turn grey in the light of a Canadian-made electric bulbs suspended from the low ceiling, reflecting on marble plaques marking the vaults of the dead.

Later, Cardinal Villeneuve's body will be sealed with brick and a marble nomenclature cemented to the outer wall.

The crypt, comparatively new, has 140 concrete-lined vaults, only eight or 10 of which are filled. The old crypt, which contained the bodies of church dignitaries and the remains of the late Cardinal, was destroyed when flames ravished the 300-year-old cathedral in 1922.

Specialized producers are receiving for canted pack: A Large 48-8; A Medium 44; A Pullet 38-8; A Medium 33; A Pullet 28-8; C 20.

Graded shipments delivered in Charlottetown: Large 30; A Medium 38; A Pullet and B 33; C 25.

Surprisingly enough, poultry receipts last week practically doubled those of preceding week but it is believed that this is due to delayed deliveries because of extremely cold weather.

"Story Parade" of The Maritimes in Attractive Form

Quoted recently in The Guardian in connection with the placing of a monument on the grave of the Hon. Phillip Calbeck, noted early Island statesman, in the old Protestant cemetery on Elm Avenue, was the story of Mr. Calbeck's life from an article by Mr. Roland H. Sherwood, of Pictou, N.S. Mr. Sherwood is the author of a very interesting volume based on old incidents in Maritime history, entitled "Story Parade," which has just been published in attractive form by the Tribune Press, Sackville, and which is now on sale in Charlottetown at Herman's book and novelty shop, Great George Street.

The article on Mr. Calbeck appears in this volume, as well as other references to his life and his stories of buried treasure, etc.

In all, some forty-five colorful stories of places and events in the Maritime Provinces appear in Mr. Sherwood's volume, which is illustrated with pen drawings by Mr. James DeCossie. The book is of engrossing interest, and should find a ready market not only in this part of Canada, but throughout the Dominion.

The Maritime Central Airways is being employed by the Consolidated Paper Company which is carrying on operations on Anticosti Island.

Gives Reason For Butter Shortage Here

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22 — (CP) — The National Dairy Council of Canada told here today by its president, Robert C. Smellie, that Canadians were short of butter and other dairy products largely because of the government's export policy.

Smellie said that the government's export policy had caused a decline in milk production here, and that the government's export policy had caused a decline in milk production here.

There was also the question of how long Canadians would continue to supply and the over-reliance on imports of Canadians for dairy products.

It would appear reasonable to assume that the government's export policy would be continued to the point where there is a decline in consumer purchasing power we may eventually have a great shortage of butter and other dairy products.

Thousands Pay Homage To The Late Cardinal

(By The Canadian Press) QUEBEC, Jan. 22—The homage of a people saddened by the loss of their spiritual leader was paid today to Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve as his body lay in state in the modest, red-walled salons of his former palace here.

Turning out in bitter, sub-zero weather, they came in the thousands to the Archbishop's palace, crowding impatiently into the courtyard of the grey stone building to await their turn to enter the purple-and-black-draped main doorway.

The doors remained open to the public from 9 a.m. to midnight and the mourners passed in a solemn procession of representatives of all religious orders of the diocese through thronged streets to the Basilica for a first public funeral service to be conducted by Msgr. Pelletier. Friday's service, at which admission will be by invitation only, will be sung by James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto and the only remaining Canadian Cardinal.
