GET FLESH

Get Strength, Vigor, Clear Complexion and Good Digestion. Not by Patent Medicine, But in Nature's Own Way.

Any honest physician will tell you that there is but one way to get increased flesh, all the patent medicines and cod liver oils to the contrary notwithstanding. Nature has but one way to increase flesh, strength, and vigor of mind and body, and that is through the stomach, by whole-some food, well digested. There is no reason or common sense in any other method whatever. People are thin, run down, nervous, pale, and shaky in their nerves simply because their stomachs are weak. They may not think they have dyspepsia, but the fact remains that they do not eat enough food, or what they eat is not quickly and properly digested, as it should be. Dr. Harlandson says the reason is because the stomach lacks certain digestive acids and portions and deficient secretion of gastric juices. Nature's remedy in such cases is to supply what the weak stomach lacks. There are several good preparations which will do this, but none so readily as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which are designed especially for all stomach troubles, and which cure all digestive weakness on the common sense plan of furnishing the digestive principles which the stomach lacks. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give perfect digestion. First effect is to increase the appetite and increased vigor, added flesh, pure blood and strength nerve and muscle is the perfectly natural result. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest tonic known and will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. May be found at druggists at 70 cts. for full sized package, or direct by mail from Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

WAS THERE A BATTLE

Between Dewey and the Rebels.

REPORT DISCREDITED

At Washington - French Preparations For War Continue - Secret Council Held - Missionary Killed in China.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: "Captain Aunon, the minister of marine has received a despatch from Manila announcing a naval engagement between the Americans and the rebels in consequence of Admiral Dewey forbidding the latter to fly the rebel flag from their ships. The despatch adds that there were losses on both sides, but that the Americans captured the rebel ships. The scene of the engagement is not stated, but it is supposed to have been Manila Bay."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(Special)—There is no belief here in the sensational reports of a fight between Dewey and the insurgents. From General O is the report is all quiet.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—(Special)—News has been received that there was a French missionary and a number of Chinese Catholics killed at Paklung by a mob. Reparation has been demanded. War preparations continue and they are the chief topic here. A secret council was held Thursday.

A Dominion Official Analysis.

The Dominion Official Analyst, in a recent analysis of Abbey's Effervescent Salt, says: "Abbey's Effervescent Salt contains no ingredient of an injurious or unwholesome character. This compound contains saline bases which form fruit salts when water is added, and is then a very delightful aperient beverage, highly palatable and effective. The daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt will keep you in good health. Sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents a large bottle. Trial size 25 cents."

HE RAISED $112,000

In New York for Mission Work.

MONEY AND JEWELRY

Showered on Rev. A. B. Simpson, A Native of Cayendish, P. E. Island - Women Strip Off Rings and Watches.

New York Oct 18.—Stimulated to a remarkable height of religious fervor, generous and intensely enthusiastic women and men yesterday contributed $112,000 to support missionaries among the heathen.

Orators have driven mobs to carnage; eloquence has overthrown kingdoms. The Rev. Dr. A. B. Simpson makes no pretense to eloquence, to oratory. Yet his words moved these men and women to empty their purses and their pockets.

Yesterday was Mission Day, the climax of the Alliance convention, and the day was consumed by meetings—three—which fast followed each other. The first, in the Gospel Tabernacle, began at 7 A. M. and ended at 2 P. M. There was half an hour for luncheon, but no time for fervor to cool.

TEN HOURS OF EXHORTATION. For the afternoon meeting in Carnegie Hall began at 2.30 P. M. and lasted until 5 P. M., and there the evening meeting opened at 7 P. M. and was over at 11 P. M.—more than ten hours of exhortation and response, which must have had effect on the nerves of many women and of a few men.

The Tabernacle was early filled; at 10 o'clock people packed it to the doors. On the platform with Dr. Simpson sat the delegates to the convention and a number of missionaries. A chorus of tireless women sang.

The pastor and money-raiser who might be called J. Pierpont Morgan of missionary work, the capitalist who saves souls from their heathen bonds, stated briefly that the Alliance has 330 missionaries in foreign fields and that it costs on an average $300 a year to maintain each of them.

Dr. Simpson told again of the missionaries, of their hardships, sacrifices, devotion to Christ, unselfishness. "Not of all us can be missionaries," he exclaimed, "but we can be just as effective for good as our missionaries. We can give to the Lord, so that the glorious work can be spread through the world. This is the day of which the Lord has spoken. Now is our time."

"It seems as though God has gone before and prepared our work. He has given into our hands the isles of the sea—Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines

By the American soldiers' sacrifice of blood prophesy and manifest destiny have been fulfilled. Spain has been punished for the crimes of the Inquisition, and the horrors of her barbarities. We should follow our flag and commence with the gospel.

"Amen," hallelujahs, devout exclamations constantly punctured the appeal.

HEARERS CALLED UPON TO GIVE. "Give, give," shouted the preacher; "advance the cause of Christ to the benighted. Give generously, freely!" There was no need to speak longer. Those who listened were carried almost to religious ecstasy. An old woman, clad in black, limped down the main aisle and gave a $20 bill to the exporter.

"We might as well stop right here," he shouted. "Here is an offering by a poor woman—$20 she has earned by washing clothes. My brethren, this is indeed a sacrifice offering!"

Quickly printed slips were passed around: the ushers hurried about with baskets. The baskets were filled, emptied, refilled with bank-notes, gold and silver, filled to overflowing, for from them the draughts sent money floating up the aisle. Dr. Simpson sorted out the slips, his wife received and counted the cash offerings. Always one or other brother was pleading, urging, commanding. "Be generous, be generous!"

READ THE GOOD ROUND FIGURES. Dr. Simpson began to read the amounts donated in writing on the steps. "Five hundred dollars" "One thousand dollars" "Ten thousands dollars!" "Glory! Glory to God!" "Bless the Lord!" resounded everywhere. A woman waved her handkerchief, in an instant the church was a billowy sea of waving handkerchiefs. Women stripped off their rings, their watches, their brooches, and flushed and agitated, rushed to the platform and gave the jewelry as offering.

ENTHUSIASM FOR ALL GIVERS. The most diverse incidents created equal excitement. The hallelujahs were as loud, the chorus sang as gladly, when Dr. Simpson read: "From one, once in affluence, now in poverty, $1," as when an old man arose and shrilly shouted: "All I have in the world is an oil painting; it's worth $200. Gladly I give it!"

At last it all ended in a chorus of thanksgiving sung with a solemn abandon; $97,000 had been collected or pledged. At the afternoon meeting
