OBJECT OF FIANNA FAIL IS DECLARED

Party Will Support Any Measure Introduced by the Govt. Believed to be for the Benefit of the People.

(Special to The Guardian)
CORK, Irish Free State, Sept. 24.—Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, and head of the opposition to the government, and several other political leaders tonight attended a conference to consider the economic position of Ireland and the question of conciliation and unity, called by the chairman of the Cork harbor board, but President Cosgrave who was also invited did not put in an appearance.
Later De Valera addressed a demonstration declaring that the object of his party, the Fianna Fail, was to abolish the memory of recent events although there was no likelihood of any in the immediate future. At any rate, he said, his party would not oppose in the Dail any measure introduced by the government which the party believed was for the benefit of the people.
Referring to the necessary national loan he declared that he and his party would do everything in their power to have the loan raised in Ireland at the lowest possible interest, but if necessary they could raise it elsewhere.

Robb And Dunning Leave For West

(Special to The Guardian)
OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, and Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, left early this morning for the west, where Mr. Robb will lay before a number of Canadian clubs, and business men's organizations, facts about the national business as it is directed from Ottawa and elucidate the country's financial situation. Mr. Dunning will also speak at a number of places, but the tour is primarily Mr. Robb's as minister of finance.
It is asserted that Mr. Robb's western tour has nothing to do, directly or indirectly with the Conservative convention in Winnipeg. The arrangements were made some time ago, many of the invitations having been received before the date for the Winnipeg convention was fixed.

Limited Time For Speakers At Cons. Convention

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Only those active in politics such as provincial Prime Ministers or outstanding members of the House of Commons, in addition to actual candidates for the leadership, should speak at the Winnipeg Conservative convention, is the opinion of Sir Thomas White, given to the Star in an interview today.
The limited time for speakers demands this, Sir Thomas declared. He thought it more fitting that the convention should hear from the political leaders of today rather than of yesterday with the exceptions mentioned. He said he had communicated this view to the committee at Ottawa.
Sir Thomas declined to discuss the convention in general terms or pass any opinion on any of the interesting points of surmise that its approach has raised. "I prefer to say nothing further," he said, when asked what effect, in his opinion, the new Billings law of the Ontario Government might have upon the demand for Ferguson's candidature for the leadership.

OUR EXHIBITION

The march of Time is inexorable. "Exhibition week" on Prince Edward Island will soon roll round. The "Exhibition," under most astute management has grown to be one of the best institutions of its kind in the Maritimes, and probably in all the territory east of Toronto. Visitors come from all parts of Canada and the United States. Some of the highest authorities on live stock competitions in Ontario and the Western Provinces are selected as judges.

Few people realize the enormous amount of detail work connected with a big exhibition. C. R. Smallwood, the secretary, is not only equal to the occasion, but keeps well abreast of the requirements of the "high pressure times. Besides attending to all the details of exhibits entries, etc. etc, he scours the East for the most spectacular performers in the "show" business, to delight the patrons of the Exhibition between acts (as it were). Many of our home folks are not cognizant of the high standing of our exhibition in the mainland provinces. The recent "leading" article in the Halifax Herald on "The attractions of the P. E. Island Fair" is a gentle reminder of how other people see us.

Every succeeding year brings an increased number of visitors to our Exhibition from the mainland. They like to view the beautiful pastoral scenery on the trip from Borden to Charlottetown. The golden grain is all under cover, or in neatly made stacks for the winter, the many colored tints of the trees and other vegetation, the verdure of the landscape in contrast with the dark red soil, are all conducive to a restful and happy feeling. All has a beneficial effect on a subconscious mind. The lure of restful Prince Edward Island "gets" them. Hence their coming in increasing numbers each year.

The attractiveness of the city of Charlottetown also is not to be overlooked—wide, well paved streets, beautiful residences and kindly, well disposed citizens—Charlottetown's principal "stock in trade." Visitors, generally speaking, like to fraternize with our people after all there is nothing so interesting to people as "other people." We should accord them in a civil manner when opportunity offers—act "major domo" with decorous hospitality. If we show them that we appreciate them they will come to see us again—and bring others. The "housing" problem is becoming easier to solve. Our home folks can come from any part of the province by car, see the Exhibition, and return to their homes at night, thereby leaving more room for mainland visitors in the hotels and rooming houses in Charlottetown.

EXPLOSION ON STEAMER PROVES FATAL

One Man Dead, Another Not Expected to Live, Third Severely Scalded—Victim Was Well-Known Boxer.

Irish Playwright Weds Actress

LONDON, Sept. 24.—That unconventional Sean O'Casey, who quit laying bricks to write plays, was married today in Chelsea to Eileen Carey in a wedding costume as unconventional as the rest of his life.
The Irish playwright, whose play "Juno and The Paycock" brought him fame and more money than he ever earned putting one brick on top of another, led his beautiful bride to the altar of the Church of All Souls and the Redeemer in Chelsea in a lounge suit. The only concession the Irish playwright made to the occasion was in the matter of a hat. He laid aside his customary cap for a grey felt hat.
O'Casey arrived at the church twenty minutes ahead of time. He paced up and down nervously awaiting Miss Carey's arrival. Miss Carey, a strikingly pretty actress, who has appeared in several of O'Casey's plays, was dressed in blue; a blue coat trimmed with light grey fur covered a dress of the same shade and was capped with a hat of the same color. The ceremony lasted four minutes.

SWINE SHOW AND SALE FOR CHARLOTTETOWN

A New Departure In The Interests Of Stock Raising To Be Inaugurated Next Month.

An event of more than ordinary importance in livestock circles of this province is to be staged in the Agricultural Hall on October 25th when a Swine Show and Sale will be held under the auspices of the Prince Edward Island Swine Growers Association. This is the first feature of its kind to be held in the province, and should it prove a success and every indication points to it being such, it will be conducted in future as one of the island's important annual livestock events.
The show and sale is designed to facilitate the distribution of bacon hog breeding material. It will encourage the breeder of a high class product by more easily placing him in touch with the market, and on the other hand greatly assist the farmer of growing of farmers by linking them up at a central power with their requirements in the shape of the best breeders can produce. Very often it happens that there is good material for sale, and men who are anxious to buy, but ignorance of the demand prevents the parties interested getting together with a consequent disappointment and loss to both. A show and sale will provide a medium which will link producer and purchaser, and do away with many of the irritations that have occurred heretofore.

A further fine feature of this scheme is provided in the showing and judging of the boars and sows previous to the sale. The prospective buyer is protected having the hogs placed before buying. He knows exactly the quality and type, and the value of each animal offered for sale, and can govern himself accordingly. It is anticipated that a line up of boars and sows will be presented at this fixture, that for excellence of quality have never been equalled at any show in the Maritime Provinces, and the opportunities presented to a most favorable nature.
A great measure of improvement has been registered in swine production in this Province within recent years. Some of the choicest strains of breeding boars have been imported, and these crossed with meritorious provincial strains have produced breeding material that is included in the show.
Every farmer organization and every individual who desires to breed selects, and secure the highest price the market can give for hogs, should investigate the material referred to above and be represented at this important fixture, and make selections to bring about the desired improvements in his commercial and breeding stock.

LAURENTIDE TO PURCHASE 3 OTTAWA COS.

Proposed Deal is a Move to Combat the Continued Expansion of International Paper Co.

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—Negotiations in a ten million dollar deal are reported on "most reliable information" to be in progress involving the purchase by the Laurentide Pulp and Paper Company of three local lumbering companies, according to a front page news story in the citizens today.
The local companies involved are the W. C. Edwards Pulp and Lumber Company, Ottawa; the Hawkebury Lumber Company, Hawkebury, Ont.; and the Pembroke Lumber Company, Pembroke, Ont.
Although asserting that officials of the companies involved are reticent, the Citizen says that negotiations have been in progress for some time between the company officials and that there was every probability of the deal going through in the near future. The holdings of the three district companies consist of large areas of timber limits on the Ottawa River which includes perhaps the most extensive lumbering operations on the American Continent.
The Citizen says that, in financial circles, the proposed deal is a move to combat the continued expansion in the Ottawa Valley of the Canadian International Paper Co.

The resolution solemnly declares that "all wars of aggression are and always shall be prohibited and that every specific means must be employed to settle disputes of every description which may arise between states."
It binds states which are members of the league to conform to the principles thus enunciated. M. Sokal, the Polish delegate who introduced the resolution described it as not a diplomatic instrument, but as a strong recommendation by the assembly.

Trinity United Church Services

Yesterday, at all the services in Trinity United Church addresses were given by ministers associated with the Exhibition of the Church's work which has been on display here since Friday.
The preacher at the morning service was Rev. G. A. Bridgman of the West-Canada Mission of the United Church of Canada. He described the appalling conditions arising from the military operations in China and the terrible sufferings of the people. The mission chapels and churches, schools and universities, hospitals and printing presses are all establishing points of contact with the people, and through these the Christian love is working. The speaker told of several instances in which the devoted service of medical and other missionaries had brought home to individuals the meaning of the Gospel and had resulted in their conversion. A poor woman whose child's life was saved in the hospital, a general who was freed from the opinion habit, and others, all classes, high and low, rich and poor, are reached.
In the afternoon a large number of adults as well as children attended the Holy Day services of the Sunday School. The Rev. A. P. Quentin, also of the West-Canada Mission delivered a most interesting address to the children. He described the temples and worship of Buddhists and Taoists, and told how the missionaries are trying to bring relief and enlightenment to the people.
A large congregation met in the evening to hear Rev. D. G. Ridout, assistant secretary of the Maintenance and Extension Fund. About forty percent of the fund is expended in missionary work within Canada. By means of a lantern operated by Mr. W. E. Burke about a hundred views were shown, mostly illustrating conditions in Western Canada and the services of the church there.
The missionary is the true pioneer; he goes before the railway, the bank, the school or even the wagon road. Last numbers of immigrants from Continental Europe have been pouring into our West. Forty-four percent of the children between the Great Lakes and the Rockies are of non-Anglo-Saxon parentage. The ignorance and poverty of some of these people are extreme. They are losing their old religious beliefs, and it is the duty of the Canadian churches to teach them the truth as it has been given to us.
In city and country the United Church of Canada is ministering to these people. The All People's Mission in Winnipeg, the Buchanan Institute in the heart of a Ukrainian settlement, the hospital at Yuba, Lamont and other places, and many other schools, hospitals, churches and other institutions were shown in pictures on the screen. "This hospital," said Reeve Joseph Kolkowsky of Vito, "will save lives, stop pain, and dry up tears."
The great responsibility of the Home Missions service is to keep Canada Christian. The United Church of Canada to this end maintains 1432 missions to English speaking communities; 60 missions to the Indians in connection with which are six hospitals, four industrial schools, nine boarding and 45 day schools; 85 missions to new Canadians with 40 social centres, 14 hospitals and 21 schools; and 27 missions to Orientals (Chinese and Japanese). Then there are Ukrainian and Hungarian newspapers published by the church, and a chaplaincy service in seven centres in connection with immigration. The total number of home missionaries and assistants in connection with the United Church of Canada is 1792.
The special music at the morning service consisted of a tenor solo by Mr. Elmer Ritchie, and the anthem "The King of Love" (Shelly) by the choir. Mr. A. R. Gillis taking the solo part. In the evening Mrs. Roy Cudmore rendered the soprano solo "The Lord is My Strength" (Wooler) and the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord" (Roberts) was given by the choir. Mr. P. D. Williams taking the tenor solo.

DECLINE IN SOVIET AGREES PRICE OF CAN-ADIAN BACON OF NAT. DEBT

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Just when Canadian hog raisers were beginning to feel that the worst was over and stationary or better prices could be expected along comes word of a further drastic decline in British bacon prices.
According to a cable received by the industrial and development council of Canada meat packers yesterday, bacon prices in the old country declined about 10 per cent. A further decline is expected before consumption will be stimulated enough to take care of the unusually heavy supplies. Moreover, little help can be expected from the American market, as prices declined from 50 to 75 cents at both Chicago and Buffalo this week.
The break in Canadian bacon amounted to 10 shillings per hundred weight of 112 pounds according to Norman McLean of the Harris Abattoir, which brought yesterday's price down to a little under 100 shillings. Irish 8 shillings and Dutch, which also suffered a break last week, from 6 to 7 shillings. Later reports indicate that price for Canadian Bacon would have to drop to about 90 shillings before consumption could be expected to pick up enough to care for the much heavier supplies from Denmark and the Baltic States.

In Interests of Peace and Good Will Throughout the World—Payments of $12,000,000 a Year for Period of Two Years.

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—The Russo-French negotiations—described as a settlement here—may well furnish a precedent for settlement with other nations, soviet Russia being willing to solve the much aggravated debt problem in the interests of peace and good will throughout the world. The Associated Press was informed on the highest authority. A foreign office spokesman declared that a settlement with the United States should prove more simple than that with France because of the greater aggregate amount involved and of the economic interests of both countries. Further details of the Russo-French "settlement" as revealed by the foreign office authority are: The French government guarantees a 60,000,000 loan to the soviets to be extended in the next five years for financing purposes by the soviet government in France, this loan to be guaranteed in consideration of $12,000,000 gold francs annuities ($20,000,000) payable by the soviet government over a period of sixty-two years.
Moscow calls the so-called settlement as a big victory for soviet diplomacy, the point being advanced that before the October revolution Russia paid to the French 400,000,000 gold francs in interest alone. The terms of the so-called settlement in the above dispatch differs somewhat from that made public in Paris.
