HELPFUL MEETINGS—The C. E. Society of Hampton Presbyterian Church meets regularly on Wednesday evening of each week with a good attendance. This Society is enjoying the most spiritual and helpful meetings in its history this winter. The Pastor Rev. J. S. McKay is a Christian Endeavor leader of much experience and takes a deep interest in the welfare of the young people.
PARTICULARS OF DEATH. Mr. Joseph B. Arseneault of this City yesterday received from the Records Department, Ottawa the following official report of the death of his son Private George Arseneault. "Private Arseneault took part in the attack on Valenciennes on October 22, 1918, and while advancing through the forest towards Raismes, the enemy shelled the oncoming troops and this soldier was hit by shrapnel from a shell which exploded nearby and instantly killed."

NARROW ESCAPE—While driving to Victoria on Tuesday evening, Mr. Bertram Trowsdale, had the misfortune to get his horse in the ice. Luckily assistance was near at hand and after an hour and fifteen minutes of strenuous work the animal was rescued with no worse results than a bad chilling.—V.
WELCOME VISITOR—The Rev. I. F. MacCurdy a former pastor of Tryon, Bonshaw and Hampton congregations was a recent visitor to Hampton where he spent a few days renewing old acquaintance after an absence of twenty-five years. Needless to say his many friends were pleased to see him again. While in Hampton Mr. MacCurdy was a guest at the Manse.

FRAGMENTS FROM FRANCE—A number of members of the Great War Veterans created lots of fun in Charlottetown in their Valentine Day "ag Day Drive. These "fragments from France" as they styled themselves were attired in some "fearfully and wonderfully made" costumes and teams and on foot "did up the town". The Veterans Band supplied music for them during various portions of the drive and on all sides the eyes met with a very cheering response in their sale of tags to help along their club fund.
SURPRISE PARTY—The parsonage at York was invaded last Monday evening by a company of well-wishers from Cove Head. The quiet dignified residence assumed a new aspect as the visitors took possession. All was scene of lively merriment as baskets and parcels were unpacked and merry voices mingled together. A jolly evening was spent; games, music, refreshments and speeches succeeding one another. All too soon the clock proclaimed the flight of time, and sluttantly the guests departed, leaving behind, a very useful contribution to the parsonage furnishings; a number of useful articles for the occupants, and also the memory of a very pleasant evening.

ADDRESS TO RETURNED SOLDIERS
 A very enjoyable event took place in Maple Leaf Hall, Grand River on January 31st, when upwards of two hundred residents of that place and vicinity assembled together to tender a reception to two of our returned heroes, namely: Corpl. Neil A. MacDougall and Pte. T. MacKinnon who sailed for France some three years ago to help save our Mother land from the dreaded foe.
 The programme was as follows:—
 Song "Home Again" by the pupils of Cross Rivers. Address of welcome by Rev. John A. MacDonald. Several appropriate speeches were rendered by the many prominent speakers of Grand River and vicinity.
 Song—"Hit the Trail that Leads to Mother" (encored.) "Home Sweet Home." "For you we were Fighting" by the pupils of Cross Rivers.
 Then dancing was indulged in till the wee small hours of morning. Before departing for their homes they gave "three cheers" for our brave heroes.
 The address of welcome was as follows:
 To Corporal Neil A. MacDougall and Pte. Thysse MacKinnon.
 We your fellow country men of Grand River and vicinity have assembled this evening to bid you welcome home after four years of splendid service for Canada and civilization on the battle fields of France and Flanders. With pride we applaud your heroism in freely offering your services for the defense of your country; with pride, too, we followed you on those blood stained fields where you faced death at almost every moment. If the Roman general returning with victorious eagles after a brilliant victory was accorded a triumph no less worthy of being acclaimed by a grateful country, are the men who faced death in ways and in elements unknown to the ancients and coming home with the laurels of victory, won in this most stupendous world war in comparison with which the battles of all time were but as skirmishes. It is hard for us who have remained in our peaceful homes to realize the hardships you have RELATED XMAS TREAT—The Christmas treat of the Victoria Methodist Sunday School (which was postponed on account of the influenza) was held in the vestry of the Church on Tuesday evening with a full attendance of children and parents. A short programme consisting of choruses, solos, exercises, etc., was rendered followed by a treat of candy and cake.—V.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY—Mr. William McFadyen, Dear Sir:—At the public examination today it was moved by Rev. J. Heaney and seconded by Mrs. George McDonald and unanimously carried that we express our sympathy with you in the following terms:—Dear Sir: At this our first meeting since you were called upon to mourn the loss of your loved mother, the trustees, parents, friends and scholars of the Cornwall School District desire to convey to you our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the bereavement which has come to you in the removal by death of your best earthly friend—Mother. We know that you are being sustained by the Christ in Heaven, will, by His blessed Spirit comfort your heart and sanctify this great bereavement to you. Accept the sincere sympathy of all your friends of the Cornwall School District. Yours on behalf of the school, J. Heaney.

WORK ON THE CATHEDRAL—Work on the interior construction of the new St. Dunstan's Cathedral is proceeding very satisfactorily. The plastering will be completed this month. The marble work and the laying of the terrazzo floors will be started Monday. The French Caen stone at the entrance is well under way and half of it is up. There will be ve altars in the new church all beautifully and artistically designed. Work on all of these is now well advanced. The whole interior of the edifice with its beautiful and chaste white ceilings and exquisite monumental designs already presents an imposing appearance and when the network of scaffolding is removed it will show a Church unsurpassed for beauty in Canada. About forty men are employed on the work.
