$500,000 Fire In Plastics Plant

OTTAWA, March 11—(CP)—A $500,000 fire flashed through the highly-inflammable contents of the suburban Eastview plant of Plastics and Chemicals, Ltd., today and in less than an hour destroyed the building.

Firemen of the Eastview and Gloucester township fire departments arrived on the scene promptly but were powerless to halt the flames. An hour later they were vainly directing streams of water on still-flaming piles of plastic sheeting, but the huge roof girders were twisted like paper and the concrete walls were crumbled with the intense heat.

Trinity Men's Ass'n Discusses Civic Affairs

The regular meeting of the Trinity Men's Association on Monday evening last, took the form of a round table discussion on civic affairs. This subject was introduced at the February meeting of the Association and aroused so much interest that the discussion was continued at this meeting in order to afford more members an opportunity to express their views.

Under the capable chairmanship of Mr. Randolph Manning, the discussion was re-opened by Col. L.T. Lowther who suggested among other things that the various incorporated towns of the province should co-operate with a view to obtaining substantial grants from the Provincial Government. The speaker also asked a number of questions which were very capably answered by ex-Mayor B. Roy Holman, ex-Mayor P.W. Turner and ex-Councillor R.B. Rattray.

Others taking part in the discussion included Messrs R E Mutch, O H. Black and City Councillors N W Lowther and C.M. Cox. The latter speaker stated that it was the feeling of the present council that it would not be advisable to increase the present tax rate but that the matter of re-assessment was receiving consideration.

At the conclusion of the discussion, Mr. Dobson Lea gave a very interesting description of his recent trip to his wife's former home in Northern Ireland.

BIG FOUR SPLIT

sian press during the last few months. Molotov asserted that "except in obvious cases the elimination of the war potential in the west has hardly started."

Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, answered Molotov bluntly that the charges were "unjustified," and then let loose a diplomatic bombshell of his own, saying that while the ministers were on the subject of demilitarization "it might be useful" to know the number of prisoners of war held outside Germany, the informant said.

Russia never has revealed how many prisoners of war she is holding in her homeland. All previous questions on this subject have been rebuffed.

After handing the Russian Minister his initial defeat on the China questions, the western representatives then blocked, at least for the time being, another Soviet proposal that the Big Four ministers discuss China informally and issue a communique on the subject.

Bevin said he would think over the communique suggestion, but that he did not believe it was proper under the circumstances. Marshall and Foreign Minister Bidault of France supported Bevin.

Marshall added that he believed it would be "improper" to place the Chinese question on the agenda "without China, as a member of the council, being present and participating in the determination of the agenda as well as in any subsequent discussion."

(China's Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh issued a statement in Nanking that his country would not "agree to inclusion of its problems in the agenda of the foreign ministers' conference.")

Marshall presided over today's meeting—the second in the Moscow conference to decide the future of Germany and Austria.

On Bevin's suggestion, the ministers agreed to include, along with the whole question of reparations, a report by the inter-Allied reparations mission in Brussels. Then they started consideration of the demilitarization section of a 700-page report on Germany by the four-power Allied Control Council.

It was at this point that Molotov levelled his accusations that the western powers had failed to demilitarize their zones.

The delegation was met by Premier J. Walter Jones, minister of education, Hon. G. H. Barbour and Mr. L.W. Shaw, deputy minister of agriculture.

Several of the delegates addressed the government representatives and presented the following petition:

"At a meeting of the District Convention held at Ellerslie on July 12, 1946, representing nineteen Women's Institutes discussion was brought forth for the need of additional educational facilities for the rural districts represented by them, and the following resolution was drawn up.

"'Whereas many children in these rural communities are deprived of the opportunities of obtaining higher edueation due to the fact that their parents, in many cases, are unable to finance their education in Summerside or Charlottetown.

"'Therefore, Resolved that we humbly petition the government to set aside a grant for the erection of a High School at a convenient central point between O'Leary and Miscouche, and to make provision for a suitable teaching staff.'"

The delegation was assured that their petition and representations would be given every consideration.

add up to a marked improvement in the world's outlook for a just and lasting peace.

Moreover, he is afraid that this unfortunate condition will continue so long as the peace of Europe and of the world is considered solely under the light of what each state demands for its own individual security, and in the existing precarious circumstances one is allowed to increase its strategic positions and present its neighbor with accomplished facts.

The Pontiff was asked what, in the present period of relative and perhaps temporary tranquility, were his aspirations for the continued advancement of the Church and for the greater well-being of mankind.

The Holy See, he said, is the centre of the universal church. The end for which Christ established that church is to bring the knowledge of Christ to all men and to communicate to their souls the grace of salvation which Christ purchased for them on the cross of Golgotha.

To attain that end, he said, the Church requires freedom of action in every region of the world, and one must be constantly intent on defending and protecting that freedom.

At the present moment, he continued, his efforts are directed chiefly toward vindicating the freedom of the Holy See, of bishops and of Catholic associations of Christian charity and indeed of all Catholics throughout the world, to come to the assistance of those in need, to provide them with food and clothing, to arrange for the homeless, wandering millions and orderly emigration to some country where with proper safeguards to their religious and social needs they may begin anew the life of an honorable Christian family, that essentially vital cell of human society.

If opposition between the Church and the modern world is becoming more and more stressed in certain quarters, he continued, it is because there are leaders and groups in power today who aim deliberately at giving the modern world a character and policy of conduct that are anti-Christian, even anti-God.

Hence, the Pope said, he deemed it a most solemn duty of his office to hinder in season and out of season any loosening of the bonds that unite human civilization with the fundamental principles of Christianity.

MURDER STRIKES

of Joplin, Mo., who found the body, was booked on suspicion of murder, but detective sergeant Marty Wynn said:

"We believe she was brought there in an automobile. That would let him out."

Wynn said identification of Miss Winters was made from fingerprints taken when she was arrested for resorting, intoxication and driving while intoxicated.

At Paramount Studio, records showed she was employed for 14 years prior to 1942 as a copyright expert by the music and legal departments, and from 1940 until she left the studio in the summer of 1942, she carried the title of legal assistant.

Other Unsolved Murders

Still unsolved are the slayings in January of the "Black Dahlia," Elizabeth Short, 22-year-old Medford, Mass., film hopeful, who was mutilated and her severed body left in a vacant lot, and Jeanne T. French, 45, pioneer aviatrix, flight hostess and screen bit actress, trampled to death in February a few hours after leaving a drive-in restaurant with a small, dark man. An obscene inscription in lipstick had been written across her breasts.

Although scores of suspects have been questioned in the two cases, all have been released.

Wynn said there was no indication of any connection between Miss Winters' death and that of either of the two previous victims. By coincidence, Miss Winters' address in Hollywood was next door to the apartment house on Cherokee Avenue where Miss Short had lived.

Two tentative identifications were made by the sheriff's office of the victim in the Riverbank slaying, but in both cases the women were subsequently located alive. Officers said the woman's face was bloated from the garroting and marred by the cut, making identification difficult.

They said further efforts would centre around the scant garments found at the scene and the pillowslip, which was apparently of navy issue and bore the stenciled name "Ward."

Airline Seeks Cause Of Freak Accident

GANDER, Nfld., March 11 — (CP) — The Constellation aircraft from which a navigator was lost last night 500 miles from Gander over the Atlantic Ocean, will be returned to Wilmington, Del., for an investigation, Trans-World Airline officials said here today.

The navigator, George Hart of Sag Harbor, Long Island, N.Y., was lost when his plastic bubble atop the plane was blown from the craft four miles above the ocean. The plane was carrying 18 passengers and a crew of 10 and was en route to Geneva by way of the Azores.

In a statement released today Airline officials said that an inquiry had been started by T.W.A and the Civil Aeronautics Board to determine cause of the accident.

Preliminary reports indicate that pressure within the cabin forced Hart through the opening when the astrodome tore off, the statement said.

Meanwhile, T W A has ordered all planes with pressure cabin systems to use only normal air pressure and hold altitudes of 12,000 feet until the cause of last night's accident has been determined.

The statement said Capt J T. Miller and co-pilot O.F. Hamilton (hometowns unavailable) flew the plane back to Gander after descending from 19,000 to 10,000 feet thus restoring normal pressure in the cabin.

The passengers were sheltered overnight at the airport here awaiting another plane to continue the flight. Local authorities conducted an investigation and reported their findings to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

U.S. Wheat Hits New24-yearHigh

CHICAGO, March 11 — (AP) — The price of cash wheat in Chicago today pushed to $2.80 a bushel, the highest in 24 years, as dealers questioned the ability of the United States to deliver enough wheat to meet the needs of war-prostrate countries.

Grain futures, dealt in at the Chicago Board of Trade to establish orderly marketing of cash wheat, bounded higher at the start of today's trading, but dropped back nearly 10 cents a bushel in some instances before the session's close, when a wave of profit cashing entered the trading pits.

Market analysts said there was nothing in today's news to cause the reduction of prices in the futures trading, but after the March future delivery sold at $2.81 a bushel, the highest since the record $3.25 May 11, 1917, prices retreated quickly.

The flour milling industry has been scouring the country for wheat and the lack of sufficient grain available to meet milling demands has had an influence on increasing the price of bread.

Although the higher prices of grain add up to more pennies missing from the housewives purses as more cities record increases in the price of bread, which has advanced from one to three cents a loaf in the last week, a few pleasant signs were visible to the consumer.

Butter is lower, hogs at Chicago were off 50 cents to $1.00, lambs were 25 cents lower, and in New York the price of cotton declined as much as $2.00 a bale in today's trading.

Australia Expects 35,000 Immigrants

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA, March 10 — (CP) — Despite shortage of shipping accommodation and scarcity of housing, Australia with its area of 3,000,000 square miles and population of only 7,500,000 is making a determined bid for immigrants.

An eventual immigration target of 70,000 persons a year has been fixed, but this year Immigration Minister Arthur Calwell expects to be able to arrange transport for about half that number to start the job of filling the country's "open spaces."

Mr. Calwell's department has looked into the possibility of bringing immigrants to Australia by air and by aircraft carrier and now is negotiating to charter the 45,000-ton liner Aquitania for four special immigration trips from Europe. The 33-year-old ship has accommodation for 2,000 passengers.

Production Increase In N. S. Last Year

HALIFAX, March 11 — (CP) — Production in Nova Scotia's four basic industries showed an increase of more than 10 per cent during 1946, preliminary Provincial Government estimates said today. Output for the year in agriculture, Mining, forest industries and fisheries was estimated at $144,372,000, an increase of $14,141,000 over the 1945 figure.

All four industries increased their production and three of them, mining, forestry and fisheries, set records.

Estimated values of 1946 production with 1945 figures in brackets. Agriculture $44,481,000 ($37,981,000); mining $35,391,000 ($32,206,000); forest products $33,060,000 ($30,000,000); fisheries $32,000,000 ($30,550,000).

Canadian members of the Empire Parliamentary Association discussed a visit to the West Indies in the near future, subsequent to an invitation received from British Islands in the Caribbean. A schedule of visits and ports-of-call will be drawn up shortly.

Mr. MacNaught just returned to Ottawa on Monday subsequent to a visit to Prince Edward Island.

Together with James Lester Douglas and Dr. T. V. Grant, he was in his seat at last night's session and closely followed the address on the Throne Speech debate given by W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive Conservative member for Queen's.

No Discourtesy Intended

Liberal members from Prince Edward Island agreed that the outbreak of scattered conversations on the floor of the House during Mr. McLure's address was by no means intentional discourtesy. It was an unfortunate fact, they said, that there seemed to be a minimum of interest on the part of members of central and western Canada in the Borden-Tormentine ferry.

"There was no discourtesy intended in the conversations of some of the members when Mr. McLure was speaking," said Mr. MacNaught. "As anyone with experience in the House knows, that sort of thing is very common, and Mr. Speaker is frequently obliged to call the chamber to order.

"I'm afraid that there is less interest than we would wish in Prince Edward Island's ferry transportation problems and that many of our members don't know either the history of inter-communication between the Island and the mainland or the conditions under which it operates."

The House received Mr. McLure's sallies intimating that Speaker Dr. Gaspard Fauteux had been chosen as leader of the Liberal party in Quebec or as the next incumbent of "an important cabinet post" with applause and laughter.

Violence Flares Anew in Punjab Province

LAHORE, India, March 10 — (CP) — British troops opened fire on hostile mobs in the Sikh city of Amritsar today, killing four rioters, as violence flared anew in the Punjab after a terror-filled week in which at least 550 persons were killed.

A high provincial official said a "critical" situation was expected tomorrow, designated as "anti-Pakistan day" by Sikhs and Hindus.

"This is not rioting—it is civil war!" one official said.

Meanwhile, the political situation which both officials and politicians agree is the basis of the disorders appears no nearer solution. The province has been without a government since the resignation a week ago of the non-Moslem League coalition.

Philippines President Escapes Assassin

MANILA, March 11—(Tuesday)—President Manuel A. Roxas escaped assassination by a grenade thrower late last night as he concluded a speaking campaign for the American economic equality amendment on which Filipinos are voting today.

The attack occurred on a platform in front of ancient Quiapo Church in Plaza Miranda, Manila's central transportation terminal, which was jammed with an audience of 50,000 persons.

Reasons for the attack were not pinned down, but it occurred at the windup of a heated campaign for and against the American parity amendment.

This proposed constitutional amendment, which political observers expect to be approved, would link the economic future of the Philippines to the United States until July 3, 1974.

It would grant Americans sweeping rights to develop the islands' mineral, agricultural and other natural resources, build power dams and operate public utilities on equality with Philippines citizens.

Sheep Tries To Swim Charlottetown Harbour

The first swimmer of the 1947 season to test the water of Charlottetown Harbour took off from the shore near the railway yards yesterday afternoon.

Whether or not he would have succeeded in reaching the Southport shore — about a mile distant and to which he was heading — appeared problematical to Charles McFadyen and John Bradley of the Porter and Sons Construction Co. They launched a rowboat, caught up with him midway in the harbour, and pulled him into the boat.

The sheep, which had escaped from the freight shed about 3.30 yesterday afternoon, appeared no worse for his experience.
