

WHEN SHOES LOOK "SECOND-HAND"

THE first shoe was a sandal—to protect foot soles only. That is seven-eighths of shoe duty yet. But, the weak spot in nearly all fine shoes today lies in the sole leather.

Too many soles wear out in two months. And, a shoe upper, when re-soled, looks as a Felt Hat does when blocked over—it looks "second-hand."

The time to put good soles on shoes is when the shoes are first made.

Then, they won't need re-soleing till you've had wear enough from them, so you can afford to give them away to "the man."

The toughest sole leather in this world, or in any other, is the new process "Quick-Oak" Sole.

It is wiry and close-grained as rawhide, and almost refuses to wear out.

You can soak it in water for four straight hours without wetting it clear through.

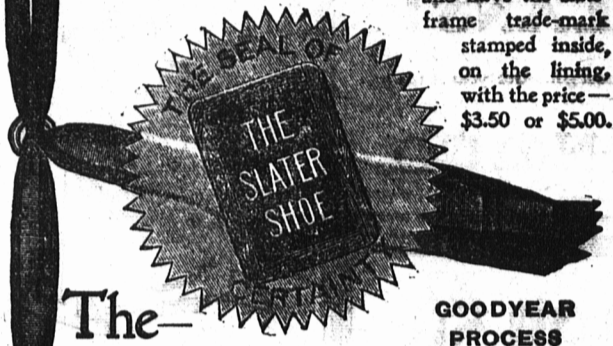

Put high-priced regular process Oak Sole leather in water for one hour and it will be wet completely through from one side to the other.

What protects you from catching cold in wet weather is merely the difference between "Quick-Oak" Sole leather and the other kinds.

"Quick-Oak" Sole leather has now been tested a twelve-month, and we had to guarantee big purchases in order to control this brand for Canada.

To be had only in the genuine "Slater Shoes."

These are made only by the Slater Shoe Company, and have the slater-frame trade-mark stamped inside, on the lining, with the price—$3.50 or $5.00.

David and Mrs. McAusland of Bloomfield have the sympathy of the whole community in the death of their dearly beloved youngest son and daughter Archibald Gunn and Agnes Ethel, which took place on Wednesday, May 31st at the tender age of five years and six months and four years respectively. The two little ones were stricken down with measles about three weeks ago, which was aggravated into pneumonia but there was no apprehension that death was imminent until Wednesday morning when the little girl became very weak and gently passed away. Twelve hours later the little girl's condition assumed a disquieting form and her spirit also departed this life to join her little brother in the great world beyond. The parents, brothers and sisters are commended to the God of all consolation for support in their sad bereavement, and may divine grace be their comfort in the great affliction they have been called on to bear. The funeral services were solemn and impressive and were conducted by the Rev. Wm. McDonald Com.
