Tenders for Silver Black Foxes

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned until 26th of August for the purchase of two pairs extra Silver Black Foxes, owned by the Eldorado Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd., one pair two years old, having had a litter this spring, the other pair pups, brother and sister.

The pair of pups may be tendered together, or separately, as suits buyers.

BREEDING, &c.

The two-year-old female, also, the pair of pups, is taken from litters of that famous fox styled in the Prospectus of "The Sovereign Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd." Page 3 of which Dr. Dalton is chairman, "the most prolific fox in the world."

She was formerly owned by the Hon. Chas. Dalton, and carries the aluminum button in her ear, referred to on same page of above mentioned Prospectus, in Chas. Dalton's certificate, as "only used by him on his best stock."

She raised 45 pups in seven years for Mr. Dalton, (being of a nervous temperament her removal to new quarters doubtless caused the loss of her litter last year,) this year however, she was mated with a splendid young Rayer dog, and raised five black beauties, two of which we now offer for sale.

Mr. Dalton has tested the London market with a few pelts of her offspring some years ago, and some of them nearly touched the $2000.00 mark.

The mate of the two-year-old female was selected from the Dalton ranch under a written agreement, by a foxman and fur dealer and pronounced by Professor Jones, as one of the best specimens was ever privileged to see.

In consideration of the above, all of which we can prove by documentary evidence if necessary, we can justly claim this quartette are equal, and in some respects superior, to any foxes on the market.

For further information, apply to undersigned. Address all tenders,

Pleasures.

The objects of pleasure are two in number. First, to kill time, and second, to keep us from doing something else which would make us more miserable. The pleasures of the American people, roughly speaking, are likewise twofold—namely, making money and spending it. Some people derive all their pleasure from making money, and others all their pleasure from spending it. Others combine the two.

Being an inventive people, the Americans have created many ways of spending money. Being too busy making it to spend any time on the rudger of running their country they spend a large portion of it in supporting the politicians. This, indeed, is one of their chief pleasures. And their superb sense of humor enables them to enjoy intensely the accounts of what all the politicians are doing, which enterprising papers publish from day to day.

The Americans have other pleasures, but compared with this one they are mostly trivial.—Life.

Caught a Tartar.

Bishop Thornton when in Ballarat was walking one fine Sunday morning with his favorite dog, a very intelligent retriever. The dog was performing all sorts of tricks—jumping over his master's stick, retrieving it from the water, and so on.

The bishop was aware of the wide-eyed interest of a small boy who, with his nurse, was walking on the shore of the lake. The bishop recognized in him the son of a neighbor with whom he was on the best of terms, although the neighbor was a leading light of Nonconformity in the city.

To amuse this boy the bishop put the dog through the whole category of his tricks and then said, "Now, isn't that a nice dog and wouldn't you like to have one like him?" To which the small boy replied sternly, "Sir, I think you forget what day this is."—London Citizen.

Another Pull.

The kaiser has a habit of gently tugging at his left ear when anything bothers him.

One day some years ago when he was on a visit to England he was handed a telegram. The contents of the message apparently displeased him, for he immediately began tugging at his ear.

The Prince of Wales, then a boy, watched the performance with considerable interest.

"Uncle," he said at length, "why are you pulling your ear?"

"Because I'm annoyed, I suppose," replied the kaiser.

"And when you're very annoyed," persisted the young prince, "what do you do then?"

"Then I pull somebody else's," announced his majesty viciously.—London Tatler.

Ibsen and Love.

Tennyson says that it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. Ibsen maintained—not in a general philosophical way, but with respect to the conditions he saw immediately around him—that it is better, if youthfully, romantically in love, to separate rather than to marry. Ibsen is in agreement with the brilliant Frenchman who asserted that all comedies end with a wedding, because it is then that the tragedy begins.—From Archibald Henderson's "European Dramatists."

Just Ajike.

"Have you seen my umbrella?" asked the cashier of the bookkeeper.

"What sort of an umbrella was it?"

"It had a hooked end."

"I have not seen it, but I had a nice one given me at Christmas, and the end was exactly like yours. It was hooked too."—Lippincott's.

Origin of the Eskimo.

No satisfactory solution of the question of the origin of the Eskimo has ever been given. Whether they came from Asia or from North America, whether they are related to the more southern American Indians or to the Tartars of the great Asian continent, is still open to debate.

How to Make Frumenty.

One of the old time delicacies in England was frumante, frumenty or frumety.

According to the most ancient formula extant it was concocted in the following manner: "Take clean wheat and bray it in a mortar, that the hulls be all gone off, and seethe it till it burst, and take it up and let it cool; and take clean fresh broth and sweet milk of almonds or sweet milk of kine and temper it all; and take the yolks of eggs. Boil it a little and set it down and mess it forth with fat venison or fresh mutton."

Venison was seldom served without this accompaniment, but frumenty, sweetened with sugar, was a favorite dish of itself, the "clean broth" being omitted when a lord was to be the partaker.

"Mutton pies" was the name given to the mince pie as early as 1596. They were also known as shred and Christmas pie.—London Answers.

Actions and Words.

An Italian psychologist maintains that as an orator's gestures are involuntary, they afford a test of his sincerity.

For instance, if the speaker plays with his watch chain he is on his guard and his utterances are not entirely frank.

Should he sway his body from side to side it is a sign of versatility and of an active mind, while a constant repetition of the same gesture is held to indicate that his heart is in the subject and that he is sincere.

There would seem to be some inconsistency in this, since the orator might fiddle with his watch chain every few minutes.

The idea recalls the remark of a wit, who said that a man's trousers were indicative of his position in life. "If they bag at the pockets," was the saying, "he has money. If they bag at the knees he has brains."—New York Telegram.

Issue of $90,000 New Stock at $100 a Share, Par Value

—IN—

Seal River Black Fox Company Limited

This issue is for the purpose of adding five pairs of foxes to the ranch at the same low price per pair as that at which the foxes now owned by the company are capitalized.

The history of the Silver Black Fox industry of Prince Edward Island is now too well known to need repetition here, and we will only state some facts concerning this company since its beginning nearly three years ago.

The company have eight pairs of breeders, Black Silver Foxes (pedigreed "Royal Blacks") now in their ranch at Seal River.

It is proposed to add five pairs of their 1914 pups to the ranch making a total of thirteen pairs—Should it be impossible or inadvisable to add the five pairs, then the proposed increased capitalization will be reduced by eighteen thousand dollars for every pair not so added.

This is not a first year pup proposition but a going concern of three years standing, and a dividend payer of an average of about one hundred and forty-five per cent. for every year since its inception.

The proposed addition of the five pairs of pups to the eight pairs of breeders now in the ranch, will greatly enhance its value, insure greater stability of the company and the continuance of large dividends.

From the beginning the ranch has been under the management of Mr. W. A. Jenkins who has had over five years experience breeding foxes.

No disease of any kind has ever appeared amongst the foxes and the ranch, being miles from other ranches, is not liable to epidemics. Situated as it is along the sea shore perfect drainage is ensured; and the increased ventilation installed in the dens last year, keeps it in a most sanitary condition. These factors no doubt largely account for the excellent returns this year.

No percentage or commission goes to the ranch as it is owned by the shareholders. In addition to his salary the manager is paid for the feed (up keep) of the foxes; the balance (with the exception of taxes, repairs, etc.) goes to the shareholders.

Estimated Profits for 1915

13 pairs of foxes should produce	19 pairs pups
19 pairs pups at $10,000 a pair	$190,000.00
Less managers salary, taxes, feed, repairs, etc., say	4,500.00
leaving a balance of	$185,500.00
or over seventy-five per cent on the paid up capital.

Application for shares may be made to any of the directors.

Terms—Twenty per cent with application and the balance on or before first October 1914, after which date shares will be allotted. Applications will be dated as received and in case of the stock being oversubscribed the shares will be allotted in order in which applications were received.
