—SIMMONS—PROFITT. — Autumn flowers, potted plants and an arch of ferns formed a decorative background for a wedding of interest which was performed in the presence of many friends and relatives, in Kensington United Church, Saturday November 10th, at 1 P. M. by the Reverend L. M. Murray, when Georgie Emily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Profitt of Kensington, became the bride of Walter James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Simmons, of Freetown. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, presented a picture of loveliness as she entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, played by Mrs. John Walker. The traditional floor-length gown of white satin with full length veil, white slippers and a shower bouquet of American Beauty Better Time Roses perfected the bride's costume. Miss Edythe Simmons, sister of the groom, made a charming attendant in her slipper-length gown of aqua silk jersey with over draped skirt of net and wore silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of pink Columbia Roses. Mr. Allison Saunders, student of Dalhousie University, acted as groomsman. The bride's mother wore a lime crepe dress with sable cape and brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow Fermet Roses. The mother of the groom wore a black crepe dress with silver fox cape, matching hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of red Better Time Roses. Ushering were Mr. Wendall Profitt, brother of the bride, and Mr. Walter Campbell. During the signing of the register Mrs. (Dr.) Callbeck, Crapaud, aunt of the bride, sang very sweetly "Through All The Years." Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Mulberry Lodge which was attended by sixty guests. The beautifully decorated bride's table was centered by a three-tier wedding cake and was presided over by Miss Ruth Simmons and Mrs. Erskine MacMurdo, assisted by the Misses Marjorie Baker, Marion MacMurdo, Rena Woodside and Marjorie Newcombe. Rev. L. M. Murray proposed the toast to the bride which was fittingly responded to by the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left on the afternoon boat on a honeymoon trip, motoring to Tornto en route to the United States. The bride's travelling costume was a two-piece green suit with gold, coat trimmed with muskrat fur and brown accessories. Out of town guests were Miss Jean Merrill and Mrs. Merrill. Previous to her wedding, the bride was tendered a shower by her friend, Miss Marjorie Baker, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker, Margate, when she received many beautiful gifts.

— I O D E ACTIVITIES — There is an increasing awareness among Canadians concerning the importance of the varied work that the Imperial Order I.O.D.E. is doing in its 969 Chapters with approximately 35,000 members in Canada Although Abegweit Chapter in Summerside, P.E.I is one of the smallest Orders, yet a prodigious amount of the work has been done by its members especially during the years of war Our educational work usually takes the form of offering bursaries and scholarships to enable young men and women of worth and ability to continue their education in an university or any other place of learning Bursaries in Canadian Universities and Post-graduate scholarships (overseas) are given as a memorial to the men and women who lost their lives in the defence of the Empire They are awarded to sons and daughters of men who have been killed or permanently injured. Nine scholarships (one in each Province) are offered every year. In our local chapter, Memorial prizes are given for essays in the High School each year. Milk or needy children is also provided in the school. Reading matter for service men in airports and hospitals has been freely given. Donations have been granted during the war years to the following funds Polish Relief, Service Centres, Prisoner of War, Sailors and Mine-sweepers, British War Guests, Blanket fund, Clothing for British children, and Cigarette fund. A large supply of knitted goods for servicemen and clothing for British children have been made by members of Chapter during the past five years. At Xmas the hearts of sailors and British civilians have been cheered by generous gifts sent them Some of the ways for raising funds for these worthy objects have been through holding rummage sales, bridges, dances etc., but one of the principal sources of revenue in which all can help is by the Annual tag days This year on November 30th and December 1st, the ladies will be in evidence and ask you one and all to contribute to the great work that Abegweit Chapter is accomplishing.

Discuss Meetings Of Parliamentary Flag Committee

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 — (CP) — The 38-man joint Senate and Commons committee set up to choose a design for a distinctive Canadian flag will not have an opportunity to do any "protracted" work at the current session, State Secretary Martin told an organization meeting of the committee today.

Col. A.F. Duguid, chief of the army historical section in the Defence Department and considered an authority on flags, will be the first witness to appear before the committee. Mr. Martin suggested that Col. Duguid be called to testify and J.R. MacNicol (PC—Toronto Davenport) asked that C.H.J Snider, associate editor of the Toronto Telegram, also be called.

Mr. Martin said that about 612 suggested flag designs have been submitted to his department by citizens and organizations. The designs were acknowledged and the senders told they would be submitted to the committee. A number of requests for permission to appear before the committee had been received and would be turned over to the committee.

Senator F.W. Gershaw (L—Alberta) urged that the public be given the privilege of attending committee meetings and that organizations be given the chance of sending suggestions to it so that any design chosen would really represent the feelings of the Canadian people.

CANAL BROUGHT LIFE AND DEATH FOR 500 YEARS

MONTANA, Switzerland, Nov. 27 —(AP)— When a new tunnel replaces an irrigation canal here next spring it will mark the end of a 500-year period in which the canal brought death and life to this community.

The two-mile tunnel, cut through a mountain, will outmode the six-mile canal, called the Bisse de Roh, which 500 years ago was hewn into solid rock along the precipices that have taken scores of lives.

This section of Switzerland is dogged by almost annual droughts. To bring moisture down here, waters from the glacier were tapped at 9,775 feet. The canal, abont three feet deep and three feet wide, in many places had to be channeled through wooden conduits.

Every farmer in the community is required to work at least 10 days each year maintaining the canal. Day and night the conduit must be watched for breaks: avalanches frequently bury long stretches. When the farmers below observe that the water flow has halted, they spread an alarm and as many mountain men as are needed climb the mountain to repair the break.

When that happens women pray and men abstain from strong drink. In the nearby cemetery at Lens is a corner set aside for those who have tumbled to death from the lofty crags along the route of the canal.

Fall Term Of Supreme Court Opens At S'side

The fall term of the Supreme Court opened yesterday at Summerside with Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell presiding. There were no criminal indictments on the docket and the court was presented with the traditional pair of white gloves by the Sheriff indicating that this condition exists.

In his remarks to the Grand Jury the Chief Justice commented on the lightness of their duties at this session. While there were no bills of indictment to be presented for their consideration the sheriff's report shows that 70 persons have been committed to jail since the last sitting. This indicates a considerable amount of law breaking on a minor scale.

"Perhaps the most difficult work of the law enforcement officers is juvenile delinquency," said the Chief Justice. "The courts alone are powerless to cope with the situation but it requires the earnest endeavors of all in charge of homes, schools, societies and service clubs. All do good work but the problem remains and perhaps grows more serious from year to year."

He pointed out that that there have been various remedies suggested and it has been intimated that there should be an industrial school in the Province. But this also has its problems in that juveniles must be classified according to sex and religious denominations. He suggested that the Grand Jury might bring in any suggestions on this or any other matter pertaining to law enforcement.

The Chief Justice also expressed pleasure that the Town and County was being honored by the visit of General Crerar.

The Docket was as follows:

The King vs. Ervill Essery, for sentence; the King vs. Andrew Perry, conspiracy.

Appeals; the King (respondent) vs. Frederick Arsenault (appellant) drunken driving; the King (appellant) vs. John (Holman) Gallant (respondent) Prohibition Act.

When the case of the King vs. Ervill Essery was called, counsel for the defence Mr. E. H. Strong, K.C., made an application for a suspended sentence. The offence was theft, to which the accused had pleaded guilty at a former session. Counsel for the Crown, Mr. W. E. Darby, K.C., concurred and the court suspended sentence for one year.

The next case called was the case of Andrew Perry charged with conspiracy. The Attorney General moved that the case not be proceded with and this was granted by the court.

The Court then stood adjourned till 10.30 this morning.

The Grand Jury were as follows: Robert S. Humphrey, foreman, Vernon England, Edward Lockhart, Allison Profitt, Leith Hayes, Frank McKenna, George W. Hogg, Robert Jardine and Arthur MacEwen.—S,

Grand Jury's Report

The following is the report of the Grand Jury brought down at Summerside yesterday.

"We, the members of the Grand Jury, have inspected the court room, offices and jail of Prince County and find the floors and utensils are being kept in a clean and sanitary condition. We find the new jailer, Mr. Andrew, very courteous and we believe him to be a capable and efficient officer. We would however recommend a cleaning and redecorating of all the interior of the building. It also came to our attention that some of the radiators need repairs and the wiring of the basement should be thoroughly overhauled and renewed where necessary. We would again recommend that some space be provided for the parking of cars in front of the Court House and we would suggest the space between the sidewalk and trees be paced and marked for the purpose. We strongly advise that a more rigid inspection of lights and brakes on motor vehicles be carried out and that a closer check be made in the speed limit of large trucks. We would also recommend that a system of compulsory insurance be established on motor vehicles registered in the Province."—S.

British Sailors Given Welcome By Stockholm

By NILS P. NICOLSON

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 27 — (CP) —Sweden had a great chance to demonstrate her long-standing affection for Britain when a squadron of Royal Navy warships under Admiral Angus Cunningham Graham put in here recently on a courtesy visit.

Traditional formalities of such affairs were swept aside, and the normally calm and reserved Swedish folk threw the town wide open to the British sailors.

Sailors from the cruiser Birmingham and destroyers Orwell and Offa played some of the best Swedish teams at golf and soccer, danced themselves weary at the series of galas, and spent all their money buying up silk stockings in the town's bulging stores.

Sweden has long had strong cultural and economic ties with Britain. English is the most popular foreign language here and Swedish bookshops stock as many English editions as Scandinavian classics

Before the war, Britain took the major part of Sweden's foreign exports—23.69 per cent in 1938 — and was in third place among importers. Swedish businessmen predict increased trade between the two countries now that the war is over.

Ordinary Swedish folk, however, are fond of the British, and apt to become lyrical when talking of their war exploits. The 7,000 admiring Stockholmers who in one day visited the warships provided the proof.

Life in Sweden today is almost "normal" which means fabulous by comparison with the standards the British seamen had experienced at home.

Thanks to a smooth-working ration system, which still functions, the population has suffered practically no hardship throughout the war years.

Along with every other country, however, Sweden saw her cost of living skyrocket. Food prices are almost 50 per cent higher than in 1939, light and heat about 74 per cent higher, clothing 69 per cent higher.

Housing was one bright spot in this picture. Prices are only three per cent above pre-war, but the war-long need for new dwellings has now become acute.

The grave question of the moment for all Swedes is the shortage of coal. Sweden possesses neither coal nor oil resources, and despite vast forests and an immense hydro-electric system, the country is obliged to import huge quantities of basic fuels.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 8 and set a definite time every morning. When you get regular every morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 8 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not halfway, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

Thousands can cut down on laxative dosing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drugstore—25¢. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go.

Moreside-Osborne Nuptials

A wedding of much interest to a host of friends and acquaintances was solemnized at St. Dunstan's Basilica this morning, when at 8.15, Joan Thelma, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Osborne was united in matrimony to Eric Raeburn Moreside, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moreside, also of this City.

The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Louis A. Doucan, of St. Dnustan's Basilica.

The bride looked charming in a dress of Lime Green with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Kathleen Sentner, sister of the bride, wore a dress of American Beauty colors with matching accessories, and wore a corsage of Talisman's. Groomsman was Mr. Len O'Meara.

During the ceremony, James Power rendered with fine effect several solos with Al Blanchard being the organist.

The groom's gift to the bride was a matching bracelet and necklace; to the bridesmaid, silver earings and the groomsman a Ronson cigarette lighter.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at The Charlottetown, at which upwards of 30 close friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present The main table was centred with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, the toast to the bride being proposed by Dr. F.C. Dougan, while the toast to the groom was proposed by Lt.-Col. D.A. MacKinnon.

The happy young couple left by plane later in the day on a honey moon trip to Moncton and other points of interest throughout the Maritimes. For travelling the bride chose a grey suit with matching accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Moreside will make their residence in the City.

The Guardian together with a host of friends joins in extending heartiest congratulations.

Claims Fish Best For Growing Potatoes

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 — (CP) — Take it from Rev. Dan McIvor, Liberal member of parliament for Fort William, fish will beat the best of barnyard manure when it comes to growing potatoes.

In the Commons last night during consideration of agriculture estimates, Mr. McIvor, a native-born Irishman, gave the House this lecture on how they grow the finest potatoes—outside of Ireland—in his constituency:—

"The best potatoes I have seen since I left the old sod were grown not with the help of barnyard manure or artificial fertilizer, but with the help of fish.

"These fish were known by a special name, and even the Indians did not want to eat them, so they were made into fertilizer for the potatoes, and I have never seen a finer crop. There was not a smell of fish on the potatoes. When you fried them you got.."

A member: "Fish and chips!"

"....The very finest results and they were the best potatoes I have seen in this country."

HAVE PICTURES TAKEN — Two war veterans whose wounds in action overseas necessitated amputations had their pictures taken yesterday afternoon at Government House with General H.D.G. Crerar. They were J.D. Shepherd and Ed Corbett.

GENERAL CRERAR—

Indeed, as the means of obtaining overwhelming fire support when closing the beaches were then not available, nor even invented, tactical surprise was the only possible basis on which to plan. In the result, tactical surprise was in no way obtained.

"But," the General continued, "if by a one hundred per cent combination of all the circumstances turning out in our favor, the Canadian raid on Dieppe had proved a cheap and easy success, what then? Well, no man can be positive about the might-have-beens, but there is sufficient official evidence now made public to picture the extremely probable course of events. That course would have taken the form of an Allied invasion of the continent, a truly decisive operation of war, one way or another, without any adequate conception of the potential difficulties to be met and overcome, launched with quite inadequate means, with insufficient forces and far too soon."

"And so," he concluded, "when you think over the Canadian sacrifices on that August day in 1942 say to yourselves, the price paid was not in vain."

Met By Mayor, Council

He was met at the approach to the Town by His Worship Mayor J. F. Arnett and the members of the Town Council. Mayor Arnett welcomed the distinguished guest and presented him with a key symbolic of the freedom of the Town.

General Crerar then transferred to an open car, accompanied by Mayor Arnett, for a drive through the streets of the town. They were preceded by an R.C.M.P. escort and followed by a number of automobiles bearing the General's party and members of the Town Council.

The route was as follows: Water Street to Central, Central to Green, Green to Spring, Spring to Fitzroy to the Legion Home. At this point a guard of honor of men who had served in Europe was drawn up under command of Lieut. Francis McNeil. General Crerar inspected the guard and stopped and spoke to most of the men.

After the inspection the General and party entered the Legion Home where a reception was held for returned men and their relatives. At the entrance to the Home he was welcomed by Lieut.-Col. J. A. MacPhee, president of Summerside Branch of the Canadian Legion.

At 1.15 a civic luncheon was tendered General Crerar at the officers mess of the R.C.A.F. Air Navigation School. Present at the head table with General Crerar and Mayor Arnett were Group Captain Alexander Lewis, A.F.C., commanding officer of the station and Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell. Also present were Legion members, heads of the service clubs and other groups and senior officers of the station.

Group Captain Lewis welcomed the guest of honor on behalf of all the staff of the station.

Extends Welcome

Mayor Arnett in greeting General Crerar said: "It is an honor and I feel a great privilege to extend to you a welcome to the Town of Summerside. I only regret, Sir, that your visit to this Province of Prince Edward Island was not made when she was arrayed in nature's beautiful summer attire. We, the citizens of Summerside, are proud of the part played by our Town during the past six years of conflict. Enlistments in Prince Edward Island per capita are the highest of any Province in Canada. In the last, and all the preceding victory loans, Summerside greatly oversubscribed its quota. We are happy to meet in person the man who directed the instrument of our combined efforts so successfully against the enemy."

Mayor Arnett then outlined briefly General Crerar's military career and in conclusion said: "We are therefore honored to greet a truly great soldier who has by his leadership enhanced the name of Canada and installed himself firmly among the great military leaders of this war."

In his opening remarks General Crerar said: "My first utterance must be to convey to you Mr. Mayor my appreciation of the reception I received in Summerside. It makes me feel very humble to be the recipient of such a welcome but it is as the representative of the 1st Canadian Army and on behalf of that Army that I thank you from my heart."

given posts as his supervisors in the State Department and some were sent as advisors to the supreme commander in Asia, Gen. MacArthur.

"In such positions," he said, "most of them have continued to side with the communist armed party and at times with the imperialistic bloc against American policy."

The United States, he said, should avoid lining up with any "predatory idealogy." He said it should support revision of the United Nations charter to "make it democratic."

The State Department said it was surprised at Gen. Hurley's resignation, Michael J. McDermott, special assistant to the Secretary of State, told reporters that Gen. Hurley had sought to resign yesterday, but that Secretary Byrnes urged him to change his mind and go back to China, and he agreed to do so.

United Church Moderator Ends Visit To S'side

What he expected from each congregation in the United Church of Canada's current crusade for Christ and His kingdom, launched a short time ago, was outlined at a service at the United Church in Summerside last evening.

The Moderator, Right Rev. J.H. Arnup said that he was asking each congregation to enlist one person who would devote himself to the full time work of the church: and he was asking each elder to bring at least one family into the church during the year.

The Moderator was speaking at the last of a series of services to be held at Summerside in connection with his visit. He arrived in the Town Monday and today will go to Charlottetown.

The evening service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Kenneth Sullivan, assisted by Rev. Ralph Wagner, North Bedeque, and Rev. A.S. Murray, Wellington.

Earlier, at a meeting in the afternoon Rev. Bruce Miller had outlined the objectives of the crusade and the desires of the Moderator

His talk was followed by discussion and by reports by officials of congregations in Prince County on what had been accomplished in their churches in regard to the crusade.

Miss Elinor Harwood spoke on the place of women in the church and in the crusade.

A supper meeting was held at Epworth Hall when Mr. Miller again spoke. Rev. Austin Jardine of Tryon presided.

All the meetings and services were very largely attended.—S sions, tentatively fixed for three days, are now apt to drag on to the end of the week. Prime Minister King both today and yesterday declined to offer comment on this phase of the Dominion-Provincial parley, and the very mention of "Bill 15" to any of the Premiers is greeted with a knowing smile and silence.

A section of the Emergency Powers Bill having special reference to the Maritime Provinces is that which reads: "Any ship or vessel used or moved, or any goods wares or merchandise dealt with contrary to any order or regulation made under this Act, may be seized and detained and shall be liable to forfeiture at the instance of the Minister of Justice upon proceedings in the Exchequer Court of Canada or in any Superior Court."

Civil Service Act Violated

At this morning's meeting of the War Expenditures and Economics Committee, it was revealed that the Civil Service Act under which appointments are made to the public service, had been ignored and superseded during the war years. Notwithstanding definite provisions of this Act, men were appointed to government posts at salaries far out of line to regular civil service scales.

While this condition prevailed chiefly at Ottawa headquarters, instances of excessively high salaries paid to special government appointees are being turned up in almost every province.

housing because of a "pre-occupation" with long-term plans to nationalize industries.

The motion—which, if approved would lead to the resignation of the Labor Government — was foredoomed because of Labor's overwhelming voting majority. It will serve, however, to provoke a full-dress debate on the whole range of Britain's post-war plans.

Mr. Churchill offered the motion without comment. He was expected to open an oral assault on the Attlee regime tomorrow in a speech before the central council of Conservative Associations, the Conservative Party organization

The Government, Labor sources said, will set aside parliamentary time next week for debate on the motion of censure, which was so broadly worded as to constitute a denunciation of the Government's entire post-war program.

"This House regrets that His Majesty's Government are neglecting their first duty," the motion said, "namely to concentrate with full energy upon the most urgent and essential tasks of the reconversion of our industries from wartime production to that of peace, the provision of houses, the speedy release of men and women from the forces to industry, and the drastic curtailment of our swollen national expenditures."

It added that the House "deplores the pre-occupation of His Majesty's ministers, impelled by socialist theory, with the formulation of long-term schemes for nationalization, creating uncertainty over the whole field of industrial and economic activity, in direct opposition to the best interests of the nation which demands food, work and homes."

Whitehall correspondents predict that Mr. Churchill's speech tomorrow on what he regards as the weaknesses of socialism will be one of the greatest performances of his career
