—FOX STUDY CLUB MEETS — The Summerside Fox Study Club met for the first time this season on Tuesday evening and plan to resume their regular weekly meetings next Monday. The members all expressed themselves as being glad to more fox ranchers attending the meetings. J. Lowell Hancock, Vice President, presided. The discussions were most favorable to the fox industry and brought out that there have been an advance of 50 to 60 per cent over January prices at both New York and London auctions. The members were most interested in illustrations from London of the very newest designs in silver fox garments. These included some very lovely specimens of fur wraps which were in the shape of shawls with two skins forming the front terminating in a muff. These were made of lighter silver skins and were very attractive. They displayed the new puff sleeve on the shoulder. These garments were selling very well in London, and New York, in fact they were creating quite a sensation. The new fashions in furs is creating a definite demand for all light silvers and prominent in the fur trade both in London and New York. The members also discussed the increase in pups this year and local ranchers reported an increase in most cases. There are quite a number of breeders with platinum and white faced pups of good sized litters from 50 to 75 per cent marked. Feed problems and the fact that ranchers carrying vikens on lighter and more laxative feeds and less feed than previous to whelping and directly after whelping to be having little or no trouble raising their pups. Altogether the members looked forward to a good year and were most optimistic as to the future of the silver fox industry.

—CRIBBAGE TOURNAMENT — A very successful cribbage tournament was brought to a close recently in Miscouche with a banquet tendered to the players by Mrs. Urban Perry. —LORSTER SEASON OPENS MAY 1st — The lobster season opens on May 1st and there is much activity round the shore with fishermen repairing their traps and retreating their motor boats in order. Mr. Martin, Fisheries Inspector wishes to draw the attention to the size limit of 6 1/2 inches this year. Fishermen should also remember that when they wish to transfer from No. 8 district to No. 7, to make sure that they get their certificates of identification. This is very important. It is too early to predict what sort of a season will be but it has every indication of being a good one. S.

—TROUT SEASON OPENS — The trout fishing season opened here on Monday and many sportsmen were to be seen with fly and rod. Fisheries Inspector Peter Martin and his assistants were very active the past few days in the vicinity of the Dunk River, Wrights Mills, Cape Traverse and Bedouet to see that no one violated the law by fishing before the 16th. Mr. Martin says that if sportsmen would cooperate with the fisheries department and take the small trout off the hook with care and throw them back in the water at once they would be helping to restock the rivers and in a few years would bring back the trout fishing to something like its former capacity. This would be one of the greatest drawing cards for the tourist trade. Much favourable comment has been made on the wonderful display of fishing gear in the window of Foley's Drug Store. This is the work of Mr. C. Jones and his assistant, both ardent fishermen and is worthy of more than passing notice.—S.

—FIGHT THE GOOD FIGHT — By James MacLean

Fighting the fight that's been fought for us, for our door, Fighting for all that hath mankind achieved, Fighting for the good and let Liberty score, Fight—'tis your duty—and be not deceived.

Fight the good fight for our Freedom and Right, Fight for the honour of nation and home, Fight for humanity's progress and Light, Fight for the peoples who yet are to come.

Fight for the Innocents living today, Fight the good fight for the honoured gone on, Fight till the tyrants are driven at bay And safe again what the ages have won.

Fight the good fight till our conscience is clear, Guarding the honour of madhood well kept, Cling not to trifles that o'erwhelm a bold deed, Cherish not that for which weaklings have wept.

Rise to the thrill of the moment that wings, Life to the greatness of all that's to be, Welcome each effort that nearer us brings, The brave and the fair of Eternity.

And what is there here for all but a test, Of what we measure of what we are made, And practical prayer is doing our best, Ere out from this moment of Life we fade.

—NEW YORK, April 16—(CP)—The pound sterling closed one cent off at $3.49 1/2 in relation to the United States dollar in the foreign exchange market today.

While the small decline coincided with the news that the United States Treasury Department had accepted the official British price of around $4.03 for valuing English imports for tariff purposes, money dealers said the connection between the two events was slight.

Other currencies were quiet. The Canadian dollar 86.25 cents was unchanged. Ottawa Foreign Exchange Control Board rate 9.09—9.91 per cent discount. The French franc was off .00 1/2 cent at 1.98 1/2 and the Belgium beiga 1.21 cent. The Swiss franc and the Netherlands guilder held unaltered.

Belgium Foreign Minister Sounds New Warning

BRUSSELS, April 16—(CP)—Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak today warned that while Belgium is determined to maintain her neutrality at all cost, she will fight if her independence is endangered.

Speaking to the Belgian Senate, Mr. Spaak said, "Belgium's feelings to Norway and Denmark, which he said were invaded despite their perfectly correct and perfectly neutral policies.

Belgium too, he said, has remained faithful to her moral obligations to Germany as well as to Britain and France.

The speech highlighted a day in which the low countries witnessed a Belgian order for immediate expulsion of foreigners who have entered the country illegally since March, introduction of an anti-censorship bill at Amsterdam and reports of fresh German troop movements on the Luxembourg border.

BRINGING UP FATHER

—WHEAT MARKET IS CLOSELY WATCHED — (By R. K. Carnegie) OTTAWA, April 13—(CP)—Two of Canada's good wheat customers, Norway and Denmark are out of the market for the present because of Nazi war operations and an official spokesman today said a situation might develop quickly that would cause the Government to take over the entire wheat marketing of the Dominion.

The cabinet has not discussed wheat marketing since the election but the Government, it was said, would be prepared to cooperate with Great Britain if the Cereals Board of the British Food Ministry became convinced the situation could be better handled by Government Control of wheat markets in Canada.

Chief buyer in the Winnipeg grain pit is the British cereals board headed by James Rank. However there has been other buying over Holland and Belgium.

Also, the spokesman said, it was difficult to see how, with war operations being conducted in Scandinavia, Sweden could import much Canadian wheat while uncertainty hangs over Holland and Belgium.

The United States has plenty of wheat of its own and other wheat importing countries have not been coming into the Canadian market to any extent.

The bulk of Canada's wheat in storage, according to latest figures 310,995,452 bushels, already is held by the Canadian Wheat Board, a Government organization. The unchanged Ottawa Foreign Exchange Control Board rate 9.09—9.91 per cent discount. The French franc was off .00 1/2 cent at 1.98 1/2 and the Belgium beiga 1.21 cent. British Farmers Co-operate in Food Drive

By Harold Fair Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 16 —(CP)— Britain's agriculture minister, Sir Reginald Dorman-Smith, is the lord of the island's farmhands with powers of a dictator—given by Parliament as soon as war broke out in an effort to increase domestic food production in a country which normally imports half its supplies.

The minister can dispossess a neglectful owner who mistreats his land or compel a landowner to mend his ways or leave the farm. There have been few cases of this, however, nor has there been one instance of authorities having to use their powers to compel a farmer to work land suitable for ploughing.

Wheat Market Is Closely Watched

(By R. K. The Swiss franc and the Netherlands guilder held unaltered.

How ever the board refused to take more than a 5,000 bushels from any one owner and the growers who had more than 5,000 bushels the balance to one of the 37 pools which are private buyers.

Some farmers held their wheat and will sell it to private firms getting the full market value. The cash price today was 89 1/8 cents for No. 1 northern.

If it reaches the point where Great Britain is the only important buyer, many here feel there would have to be only one seller and that would be the wheat board.

If the Government does take over the wheat marketing, it was learned here, the Government is likely to follow the course taken in the bacon control and by the Cereals Board in the United Kingdom. The private exporting firms and pools would continue to supply their customers in the free world and would be permitted to export wheat, the wheat board being allowed a fixed commission for their services.

Cardinal Verdier Laid To Rest

PARIS, April 16—(CP)—The body of Jean Cardinal Verdier, Archbishop of Paris, was lowered into the crypt of Notre Dame Cathedral tonight after imposing funeral services attended by notables of church and state and great crowds of the faithful.

President Lebrun and Premier Reynaud of France, foreign diplomats and 55 bishops and archbishops from all the major cities of France were present at the services in the historic cathedral on the banks of the Seine.

For hours after the services, mourners were permitted to pay a last tribute to the primate, who died suddenly April 9, of a heart failure following an operation. They filed past the bier in a steady stream.

At nightfall the body of the 22nd Archbishop of Paris and the 182nd successor to its first bishop, Denis, was placed in the crypt of the Cathedral beside the other Archbishops of Paris.

A shortage of intensive ploughing campaign became a ear when it was seen that England and Wales had 2,000,000 less acres of arable land last year than in 1914. The people set out to plough 2,000,000 acres.

By March 15, after what Sir Reginald called "the worst ploughing winter in living memory" 1,370,000 acres had been ploughed in cultivation. Every country was given its quota of land to be ploughed.

and about 8,000,000 tons of feed were brought in yearly.

Now however when shipping space is needed for munitions, and conservation of foreign exchange is vital, farmers have been forced to cut down imported supplies. Pig and poultry keepers, on "specialist" farms where no feeding stuffs are grown, have been told not to expect more than 66 per cent of normal supplies from abroad.

A Canadian, used to Ontario's big bank barns, wonders where "feeding stuff" could be stored on an English farm. Country trips have failed to disclose any larger storing places than the low, rambling structures near the big farmhouses with their forests of chimney pots.

The agriculture program can be carried out on more balanced lines than in the first great war when absence of a big world wheat surplus placed the emphasis on wheat growing. Now, farmers can grow oats or barley, mixed cereal crops or fodder. Old grassland can be ploughed and resowed with better grass mixtures to increase stock-carrying power of the pastures.

ANOTHER 'SMALL BUT MIGHTY' ARMY — SWEDEN'S — SOON MAY FACE TEST

Czechozlovakia, Poland, Finland, Sweden—over the years their armies have been touted as "small but efficient," making up in technical excellence for what they have lacked in size. But the first three crumbled when actually confronted by mass military might. What performance may be expected of the Swedes, if the Russo-German pincers close upon them? Realistic maneuvers, like above, where cavalrymen bring horses across a deep river, keep the Swedish troops in trim. Sweden's less than 600,000 men (including reserves) are commanded by Lt. Gen. Olof Thorenell (left, top), considered Sweden's "strong man."
