Collegians Hand Navy Team 11-4 Defeat In City League Encounter

Navy's defeat at the hand of the Collegians in last night's City League encounter adds to the interest in the City Softball League as it practically means the outcome of the first round of the schedule is a toss-up as to just which squad will end up on top.

Soundly beaten in their first start Gordon Bennett's team did not appear as very likely contenders but as has been the case many times before the students confounded everyone, including this writer by coming through with a bang-up performance last night.

Once they had jumped into the lead in the first inning they were not to be denied. Navy, after two straight wins, threatened seriously in the middle innings but the winners pushed across four runs of their own to nullify the upspringing that the "Tars" had created.

National Hockey League heads have finally settled on a president, and some names have been mentioned. Dutton will be in charge again for the next five years—at least.

Jumping into a two run lead in the first inning on the strength of Joe Hennessey's home run walk-off with a man on base Collegians last night defeated the Navy team 11-4 in a scheduled game of the City Softball League.

Undeterred in their two previous starts the "Tars" were fighting hard last night that once they had taken the lead just wouldn't relinquish it. For two and a half innings they set the Navy boys down in order while building up a 7-0 lead of their own and then as the Navy pushed four runs across the plate in the fifth and sixth Gordon Bennett's squad came through with a four run up-spring in the sixth that sealed the outcome of the game.

In addition to Hennessey's first inning home run walk-off Collegians accounted for another six runs base walk-off by Quigley lacking out double, and both of them rounding out a good evening's work by completing a smart double play.

Jeep Wins Peter Pan Handicap

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Col. V. Whitney's Jeep, making his first start since falling to run to expectations in the Kentucky Derby, won the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park today by easily defeating seven other three-year-olds in the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park.

As usual, the son of Manhood came from off the pace to chalk up his third victory in four starts this year. With Eddie Ararco in the saddle, Jeep caught the front-running Sun fiered from Mrs. Dodge's Brookmeade Stable in the stretch and pulled away to win by three lengths. Lieut. James M. Roebing, Wildfire trailed by another length in third place.

Despite his fifth in the Derby, Jeep was the favorite, paying $3.80 for $2 in picking up the purse $6,000.

Poland's Future Hinges On Success Of Moscow Parley

LONDON, June 19 (CP)—There is cautious optimism here that the present Moscow conference on the question of Poland's future administration will succeed in its effort to broaden the Polish provisional government at Warsaw.

If success were achieved, the Government would be recognized by Britain, the United States and Russia in accordance with the Yalta agreement. It would be the most tangible political problems would be solved.

London observers are following the conference with intense interest as closely as any political development on the continent and it seems clearly commented: "It has taken four months to bring about the current conference on Poland, which was decided upon at the February meeting of the Big Three at Yalta. Agreement was reached there that the Polish Provisional Government, backed by Russia, should be recognized as a broader Democratic basis with the inclusion of Democratic leaders from Poland itself and from abroad. Once this was achieved, it would be the Polish provisional government of national unity and be pledged to hold no members of the Big Three powers.

It is almost entirely a left-wing conference with no members of the right and centre Polish groups, strongly opposed to the present Provisional Government, invited by the Government to take part. However, authorities in London say it was ways clear in the Yalta agreement that the reorganized government would be built around the nucleus of the present administration, and that the reorganized government would be built around the nucleus of the present administration, and that the reorganized government would be built around the nucleus of the present administration.

It recommended the Provincial Government to having the above-mentioned advantages.

The Grand Jury found Falconbridge Hospital, and the erection of a new Admission building as one means of relieving the present congestion at the institution.

The Provincial Infirmary was also overcrowded. The Grand Jury found it noted the building was well kept and clean and suggested the steps and verandah in front of the building should be repaired.

In his charge to the Grand Jury His Lordship said it was a matter of congratulation that they were meeting under better circumstances than had obtained the past few years. The first phase of the war was ended with victory in Europe and he expressed the hope that final victory in the Far East would not be long delayed.

Moscow Trial Of Polish Leaders

BY EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, June 18 (AP)—Sixteen Polish underground leaders were tried in Moscow today were charged with participating in a plot to form a western European bloc including Britain, Germany and Poland—that would fight the Soviet Union in a "forthcoming" war.

The secretary of the military collegium of Russia's supreme court declared that 15 of the accused had confessed their total or partial guilt to charges that included the alleged murder of at least 594 Russian officers and of terrorist and propaganda activities behind Red Army lines.

Russia's indictment said 12 of Poles, led by Maj.-Gen. Bronislaw Okulicki, commander of the Polish Home Army, had pleaded guilty to all charges. Three others accepted partial guilt for some charges, while one pleaded not guilty. The indictment said, "acting on the instructions of the so-called Polish Emigre Government in London, the conspirators with the Germans were charged."

The 16 Poles were those whose disappearance and subsequent arrest by the Red Army created a crisis in the negotiations of the San Francisco United Nations Conference and stalled plans for the reorganization of a new Polish Government.

POLITICAL SITUATION

Service Vote

The service vote, with 36 per cent of the C.O.F. 36 to the Progressive Conservatives and 64 to the other, engendered only four constituencies when combined with the civilian vote. The Liberal seat total rose to 100, a gain of 10 seats and two losses. The Progressive Conservatives lost a seat and the Liberal gained one. Another seat, North Middlesex, was doubtless, went to the C.O.F.

Standing of the three leading parties, with the Liberal vote bracketed: Liberal, 119 (119); Progressive Conservative, 65 (65); C.O.F., 36. In addition there were 13 Social Credit Independent Liberals, eight Independents and five others, including two Bloc Populaire and one Labor Progressive.

The seven Independent Liberals, three Independents and possibly the Labor Progressive were expected to give general support to the Liberal Government to the Government to the count of 130 in the 246-member House.

One of the Independent Hon. C. G. Power, who broke through the Government on the conscription issue last fall, was being mentioned as a likely appointee to reshuffle cabinet. Reports were circulating that Maj. Power would succeed Veterans Minister Mackenzie as Veterans Minister, with Mr. Mackenzie switching to another post, possibly Postmaster-General, left vacant by the retirement of Mr. Mulock just prior to the election.

Other Cabinet Problems

Filling the Postmaster-General's spot is one of the cabinet problems facing the Government. Others include finding men to replace Defence Minister McNaughton and Revenue Minister Bennett, or finding the defeated ministers new seats. He is also said to be looking for a possible list of 130 to minister from Prince Edward Island.

Should Gen. McNaughton retire from politics, his deputy, Mr. Abbott, might go to Navy Minister Abbott or to Air Minister Gibson. There is also a possibility that either the Army or Navy or Army or Air Force may be combined under Mr. Abbott or Mr. Gibson.

Maj. H. F. G. Bridges, successful Liberal in Toronto South, and Lt.-Col. David A. Croft, also mentioned as cabinet prospects.

RECEIVED EYE INJURY

Baldly injured about the eye when plucked, Vernon Moore, 48 Kent Street, boatwain on the C.O.S. "Brant" was rushed by ambulance to the P. Island Hospital about 10:30 yesterday morning. The flames of a cigarette in the pocket of his shirt were burning on his face when he was taken to the hospital. He is in the city until Friday.

Small Service Vote

These changes, coupled with the loss of Mr. King's seat to the C.O.F. and the British Columbia riding of Victoria from the Progressive Conservative, resulted in a net gain of 10 seats for the Liberal Government. The Liberal vote in the service vote was 100, a gain of 10 seats and two losses. The Progressive Conservatives lost a seat and the Liberal gained one. Another seat, North Middlesex, was doubtless, went to the C.O.F.

Anti-Insect Arsenal Well Filled for War on Pests

Small change is seen for the release this year of any of the famous new insecticides, including D.D.T., which are now all going to the war effort. In the past, Victory gardeners will have plenty of the older insect killers, which have served them well in the past. Plants are protected from insects by means of two classes, known as stomach poisons, which are eaten by the insects, and contact poisons, which are applied to the leaves, and are used on those which do not eat leaves, but drink plant juices and so cannot be reached by poisoning leaves.

The same poisons are used in both dusts and sprays. For stomach poisons, our chief reliance during the war must be various forms of arsenic, and danger in its use is avoided by careful washing of the crops, before they are eaten. Contact poisons available to Victory gardeners are rotenone, nicotine sulphate, and pyrethrum. These should be available to every Victory gardener, and in a few cases, which will be used chiefly against aphids or plant lice, and leaf hoppers, which on the whole give more trouble in vegetable gardens than leaf eaters.

Nicotine sulphate, which is usually sold as a spray, may be easily prepared for dusting by the following method: Fill a quart with two-thirds full of hydrated lime, and add a few hebbles. Drop a little at a time, two table-spoonfuls of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate on the lime, and jar and shake thoroughly. The nicotine will combine with the lime without losing its potency. The resulting dust will dispose of any aphid it touches.

In dusting or spraying, the object should be to create a cloud of dust or vapor which will envelop the plant, and cover both upper and lower sides of the leaves. Leaves need not be damp for dust-
