DEATH THREATS

knits stand around the drug store and the gasoline station talking things over, and they got a fine tid bit tonight when the death threat was received by one of the witnesses to be heard tomorrow. The note, illegitimately scrawled on a piece of wrapping paper, was thrown over a transom into the room of a reporter who has been working with the investigating forces.

The death threat said: "If you don't quit writing up Johnny Gerards, we will shoot your head off. He never done no harm to no one. Take our advice, and get out of town or you are going to wake up dead."

County Attorney Williams learned late today that Governor Fields has given orders that none but the military shall handle the probe. This coincides with Mr. Williams' views, in that he welcomes the assistance of trained military intelligence men in digging out facts for the grand jury.

Collapsed Like Bubble

Work at the cave collapsed today like a bubble, so far as the casual observer could see, but closer scrutiny showed that more progress was made than in some days. At midnight 38 feet had been sunk of the shaft work, more than half way to where Collins is said to lie. But many of the men working in the pit quit and went home today. Carmichael, who has led the rescue work said they left because they did not care to face the inquiry, although naturally innocent, many of them being from the outside.

Carmichael immediately sent for more men and they will be here in the morning. The crowd disappeared, too, due to several reasons, the chief one being a rainstorm in the early morning which made the nine-mile road nearly impassable and which for a time threatened to fill the shaft. A few feet of water did get in, but the pumps soon had it out.

Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago, who has not had a night's rest for eight of the ten days Col. Hiss has been entombed today took an amplification test of the electric wire running to Collins and around his neck and announced that the imprisoned man is alive and in good health. No symptoms of diphtheria or pneumonia was noted in the regular respiration of 18 to 21 breaths a minute. The breathing was labored but regular.

Intelligence officers tonight were rounding up witnesses for the court, which opens tomorrow

—VERY SAD DEATH.—A particularly sad state of affairs is revealed in the death of the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Manderson, Lot 16, which took place on Wednesday night. The little boy's mother set out for Summerside, accompanied by her husband, to undergo an operation. The little lad was noticed by those left in the house playing with a box containing A. B's and C. pills. Later on the child became deathly ill and passed away. It is thought that the little fellow ate the pills, which contained strychnine thinking they were candy. The father and family are heart broken over the affair. The mother has been operated on in the Prince County Hospital and will be confined to the hospital for some time yet and unable to be home even for the funeral. The Guardian joins with the whole community in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Sensational Story

Particular stress will be placed on the testimony of Lieutenant Robert D. Burden, of the Louisville fire department, one of the outstanding heroes of the early rescue work. He is frank in his charges that the way in which the rescue work was carried on until Lieutenant-Governor Denhardt and H. T. Carmichael arrived, was "murderous." His sensational story will be aired in full.

Another to be quizzed closely is William Becke Miller, Louisville boy reporter, who is said to have crawled into the hole beside Collins and who is the roughly convinced that he is still there and probably alive. He believes the entire story is one hundred per cent correct as does Lieutenant Benwell, of Ogden College, another of the rescue workers.

They say that whatever may happen Gerards is a man of courage.

It was disclosed this afternoon that on Gerard's last trip into the cave, with Lieutenant Wells right behind him, he noticed Gerards halted some distance from where Collins was trapped.

"What's the matter, Johnny?" he demanded.

"You've got to get another man, lieutenant," the hill man answered, "I'm done. My nerve's gone, and he crawled out into the open while the others kept on."

Governor Fields' appointment of a military court this morning denounced the "idle rumors by irresponsible or unimportant persons that Collins is not entombed." He named a court consisting of the following: Brigadier-General H. H. Denhardt, president; Lieutenant Colonel J. H. Stiles, Louisville; Major W. H. Cherry, Bowling Green; Captain John A. Nolin, Springfield; Captain Julius L. Tompkins, Smith Grove; Captain Alex L. Cheney, Bowling Green recorder.

Most of these officers have been on duty at the camp.

Shaft to go Down

Superintendent Carmichael said tonight that he is going to keep the shaft going down so long as he has two men to handle the show, and the host, beside himself, but that he expected a large new force of labor in tomorrow probably from Louisville and Nashville (La.) road, which already has done much of the manual labor.

It will go down in the annals of this part of Kentucky, this story of Floyd Collins, and a chief epic will be the talk of the hard-living two-fisted men of "Kyrock," of which Carmichael is the chief. Early in the imprisonment the "Kyrock" clan volunteered their services. "Kyrock" is a name derived from that of an asphalt quarrying company 30 miles from here and is a contraction of "Kentucky rock," and like the rock of the mountains behind this pit the "Kyrock" men have stuck to their task and are still in the pit. They worship Carmichael. He never sleeps and neither do they. He works hour after hour, and so do they. That's his secret—to impose tasks of setting the pace. And if Floyd Collins is found, and found alive, he will owe his life to the gaunt Kentuckian and the hewn-muscle men from the rocks who toil with him through this beleaguered night of mystery.

Tributes To Colonel

And Mrs. de Castilla

The following item from the Bloemfontein Friend of Dec. 17th will be particularly interesting to many friends here as Mrs. de Castilla is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bremner of this city and sister of Mrs. (Col.) D. A. McKinnon.

WINBURG, December 13 — A large number of citizens gathered in the Town Hall this afternoon to bid farewell to the departing magistrate, Colonel de Castilla and Mrs. de Castilla, who, during their five years' residence in Winburg, had won the esteem of all sections of the community. Among those present were: The Mayor and Mayoress (Dr. and Mrs. van Lingen), the Deputy-Mayor (Councillor F. R. Cronje) and Mrs. Cronje, Councillor (Mrs. de la Harpe), Mr. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coetzee, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Baumann, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Womersley, Mr. and Mrs. de la Harpe, Mr. Nicholson (Sub-Inspector of Police) and Sergeant McHardy.

The Mayor said that owing to the shortness of the notice of the departure of Colonel de Castilla an inconvenient time had necessarily been chosen for this farewell function. He paid a tribute to the work that the Colonel had done in various directions, particularly mentioning his devotion to the interests of the library and the tennis club. Mrs. de Castilla's "At Homes," he said, would long be remembered by all who attended them.

Mr. F. R. Cronje, who spoke on behalf of the Side Bar said he regretted very much the departure of the Magistrate and Mrs. de Castilla, who, during their stay in Winburg, had endeared themselves to all sections. The magistrate had always been held in the great esteem by the members of the Side Bar. He had always shown himself to be a thorough gentleman, his courtesy had endeared him to all; they had always admired his conscientiousness and the manner in which he handled cases. His judgments were sound and consequently one did not hear of appeal cases from Winburg. In his work he had given a kindly hearing even to the poorest. He wished them on behalf of the Side Bar every prosperity and happiness in their new sphere.

Mr. de la Harpe, the Assistant Magistrate, who spoke on behalf of the staff, said the news of the departure of Colonel de Castilla had come to them as a blow and they felt it more keenly than anybody else. The good fellowship existing among the staff at the Magistrate's office he ascribed principally to the kindly manners of the Magistrate. He had "played the game," and words could not express their appreciation. Their unanimous verdict was that they had not served under a better chief or kinder gentleman.

After Mr. Nicholson, Sub-Inspector of Police had also paid a tribute to the personal character of Colonel de Castilla, Mr. P. G. van der Merwe read an illuminated address from the residents of the town.

Master Andre de la Harpe presented Mrs. de Castilla with a beautiful sheaf of wadioli.

Chesmen All

The Magistrate who, on rising to reply, was loudly cheered, said he did not think it would be so difficult to leave, but it was with the deepest regret that he had received their marching orders. We are all chessmen, he said, and one move necessitates many others. His staff he said, deserved every praise. Mr. Nicholson had made some pleasing remarks, which he fully appreciated, being himself an old "bobby." He thanked them very much for the address, which would get a prominent place in their new home. He concluded by congratulating them on the beautiful season and he was glad to leave, as he had prospects of prosperity before him.

Mrs. de Castilla also briefly acknowledged the good wishes and presents which had been bestowed on her husband and herself.

The gathering dispersed with three hearty cheers for Colonel and Mrs. de Castilla.

When Kidneys Hurt

Drink More Water

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

—EASTERN NOTES.—The East Baltic Women's Institute held their customary concert and picnic social in East Baltic School on January 30th and despite the inclement weather, quite a number came from the outlying districts making the entertainment a success beyond their greatest expectations. Much credit is due those taking part in the programme on account of which will appear later. After the programme was ended the "old folk" departed leaving the young lads and lassies to enjoy a good dance. The programme consisted of the following:—

Dixon's Mill is shut down for the winter months. He is busy through hauling their wood and are having it sawed up. MacNeil's site Wilbur Robertson and Howard Campbell returned to the U.S. last week after spending a pleasant visit with their friends in East Baltic and Kingsboro.
