APPRECIATION.—The many friends of Mr. Henry Atkins, mail courier for Campbellton Rural Route have not forgotten that the festive season has again arrived and on Christmas Day presented him with a purse of money as a token of appreciation for his services rendered. He was also remembered by a suitable gift from Stanley School, of which he is janitor. Mr. Atkins wishes to express his thanks for the above gifts, and to wish all his friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year. 3614.

SENT UP TO SUPREME COURT.—The case of St. James, a place on the farm of Samuel Kennedy, Jr., before Stipendiary Shaw yesterday was disposed of by the accused being sent up for trial at the next term of the Supreme Court. Two informations for the offence were made in December of last year by Mr. Kennedy, one against Morrison and the other against Wm. McCallum, also of Charlottetown. Both defendants left the Province when out on bail and Morrison was not captured until a few weeks ago when he returned to the island to see his wife who was then at the point of death. The arrest was made at the instance of his bondsmen, McCallum is still at large and his bail has been forfeited. The case will be at next sitting of the Supreme Court in January.

SCHOOL WORK.—The examination of Inverness School took place on Thursday evening 21st December 1916 and it was a great success under the efficient and successful teacher Miss Lauretta Monaghan of Kelly's Cross. The examination opened at 7 o'clock p. m. each class showing good results of their careful training. The school house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. There was excellent singing, recitations and dialogues all of the best kind. There was a beautiful Christmas tree which the teacher had loaded with candy and other presents for the scholars and with the assistance of Santa Claus helped to distribute to the scholars. The occasion was thronged with rate payers and spectators and after a vote of thanks to the teacher and singing God Save the King all dispersed well pleased with the highest praise for the teacher.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.—A social and entertainment held in Stanhope Hall on Wednesday, Dec. 20th, despite the inclement condition of the weather, was a decided success. Mr. Peter Brodie kindly acted as auctioneer. Twenty-eight pies were sold for the handsome sum of $48.15. Worthy of special mention was a pie donated by Mrs. George Gill for the good of humanity. The following programme was rendered in fine style. Opening remarks by the Chairman, Mr. Bernard McCabe of the Registry Office, Charlottetown. Opening Chorus—"When Jack Comes Back." Recitation—"Miss Whelan. Duet—"Mrs. G. Kinross, Mrs. J. McAulay, encore; Sing Drill—By eight school girls. Scotch Song—H. A. Lawson, encore. Recitation, Miss Raynor. Quartette—Mrs. G. Shaw, Miss B. Shaw, Mr. Ray Carr, Mr. H. A. Lawson. Closing Chorus—God Save Our Men. God Save the King.

SERIOUS FIRE.—Mr. John V. McDonald, of Selkirk Station, met with the very serious loss of having his dwelling house completely destroyed by fire Tuesday. It was about eleven in the forenoon when it was first noticed, and had it not been for a heavy wind, the fire is supposed to have started from a fuse. Mr. McDonald was away from home at the time, but returned shortly. In the meantime all the neighbors from considerable distance round had assembled, and with members of the family did all in their power to subdue the flames. But their efforts proved unavailing. The house and practically all its contents, including a considerable sum of money was quickly consumed. This was one of the most comfortable homesteads in the locality, and as there was no insurance the loss will be a heavy one. But even now, before the ashes in the ruins have cooled, Mr. McDonald and all his neighbors are at work with preparations to re-build. The same energy that made of this one of the finest homes in the countryside still proves itself undiminished in the face of disaster, and with willing friends doing all possible to assist it bids fair to be only a matter of a few weeks at longest until Mr. McDonald with his estimable wife and family are ensconced once more in a new home as comfortable as before.

The adjourned annual meeting of Panmure H. and Black Fox Co. will be held at Dr. Fraser's office, Montague, Thursday, Jan. 4th 1917. 3611-12-28M31.

WEDDING BELLS.—Mr. J. R. New of Wallace, Idaho, and Miss Beatrice Long of Calgary, Alta., were married Wednesday night at the home of the Rev. F. B. Short. Mr. and Mrs. Newsome expect to spend several days at the Coeur d'Alene hotel before going to their home in Wallace. Mr. J. R. Newsome is a son of Mr. J. Warren Newsome of Crapaud, P. E. I.

THE POULTRY SHOW.—At a special meeting of the P. E. I. Poultry Association, it was decided to hold the Annual Show on 10th, 11th and 12th of Jan. It is the intention of the Association to give Ribbons for prizes this year. They are also getting special Ribbons to be placed on the more popular varieties of fowl. Mr. J. H. Gill has kindly placed at their disposal his Show Room in the large Building on Great George Street.

PARALYTIC STROKE.—The many friends of Mr. George Godin, of the Marine Department, will be sorry to learn that he is seriously ill. On Tuesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, he was suddenly attacked with paralysis in his home on Kent Street and fell to the floor unconscious. He was still in that condition up to last evening. There is a group of splendid physique, who has always been in robust health and his friends will be very anxious to hear good news concerning him.

CAVENDISH.—On Christmas evening, Dec. 25th, a united Christian Festival Service was held in the Baptist Church. The Church was tastefully decorated in a fashion suited to the occasion. The text "Glory to God in the Highest" appeared on the wall behind the pulpit and the motto "Happy Christmas" over the entrance. The choir of the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches rendered suitable music under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Webb, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Sterling. Addresses were given by Rev. John Sterling, the minister of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. W. E. Piper, the Pastor. Offerings amounting to over $25 were taken up on behalf of the Great Britain to Poland Fund and the Rumania Fund. It was felt by all that a most enjoyable and profitable time had been spent.

HOW FRANCE MENDS INJURED SOLDIERS.

A correspondent writing in the London Times says: A short time ago it was announced that a study of the scheme for dealing with the disabled soldier evolved by the French Government was being made on behalf of our own authorities. This study will soon, it may be hoped, bear fruit in a considered French soldier he said, is regarded by the Government as an important national asset. As soon as his wounds have been attended to his future becomes a matter of serious consideration. Will he be able to return to the ranks, or will it be necessary to discharge him as a permanent unfit? In the latter case, in what matter can he be fitted to earn his living and take a place in the working ranks of the community?

The answer to this question is to be found in the arrangements which have been made at the Grand Palais. No longer does the visitor to this building encounter paintings and sculptures; in the well-known rooms there is now gathered together all the apparatus of the mechano-therapy, electro-therapy, and balneology. Straight from the hospital wards, where his injuries have been healed and his deformities corrected the soldier comes to this great refitting department, and without a day's delay his "after-treatment" is begun. He is still a soldier, for a measure of discipline has been found to be essential if the after-treatment is to be carried out successfully. A number of officers are in control, in addition to the doctors, and their work is of the utmost importance.

"White Magic" of Repair.

Then begins what has been fitly described as the "white magic" of repair. Stiff muscles are gradually won back to suppleness by ingenious machines which call out their latent energy; stiff joints are loosened; limbs which had become useless in other conditions are restored to strength by the use of the eau courante bath, followed by massage, or by applications of the high frequency current. As vigor returns the "dummy" machines are replaced by the worktable, and the saw, the offset, even the spade and scythe. The joy of work accomplished enters into the man's spirit, and the painful task becomes light and easy, until exercise is no longer, but rather a means to an end clearly realized and eagerly desired. Even while he is being cured of his disability the broken man is being remade as a citizen; he goes in a cripple, to emerge with a useful trade at his finger tips. There are lectures, too, and opportunities for recreation, including a gymnasium for the aimless. Those who wish to take up head-work are provided for and, if necessary, re-educated. A man does not leave the army until all that can be done to secure his future has been done and until he has won back the inestimable boon of hope and courage. It is the close connection between the Grand Palais and the hospitals which forms the most important aspect of this scheme. The man is never lost sight of; he is never given an opportunity to be despondent; he goes straight to his care, and he goes straight to the time. Special provision has been made at Jersey for those who have lost a limb, provision like that arranged voluntarily in this country at Roehampton and Ereskin in Scotland. Both officers and men are treated. It has been found that by means of this scheme the number of soldiers who can be sent back to duty and among those sent back the number of useful citizens gained is greatly augmented. Professor Camus and those associated with him in this work have achieved a splendid success and the scheme is in process of being extended to all the great French centres.—London Times.

MOVING FLOOR INNOVATION AT NEW YORK CAFE.

"In one of the Broadway cafes at New York a merry-go-round dining and dancing space has lately been introduced," says the April Popular Mechanics Magazine. "This consists of a revolving circular floor, the outer edge of which is margined with a row of tables, while the middle part is reserved for foot-trotters. As is obvious the floor is built on a turntable. It is 32 ft. in diameter, and in the center is inlaid with a round piece of plate glass, 6 ft. across, through which different luminous color effects are produced by means of concealed incandescent lamps. The floor surrounding this is stenciled to resemble marble mosaic. The turn-table is driven by a 1/4-hp. motor at a normal rate of one revolution an hour. Thus 30 minutes after guests have seated themselves at one of the merry-go-round tables they may be talking with friends around another table at the opposite side of the room. The movement of the floor is slow enough that an unobserving first-nighter might readily be confused upon realizing suddenly that both he and his table were 16 or 20 feet from the place he apparently should be."
