Word has been received that Lieut Donald Maclean of the "Princess Pats" was killed in action on July Fourth. Lieut Maclean was a son of the late Rev. R. Maclean of Valleyfield, P. E. I.

The sad news has just been received of the death of Gr. Arthur J. Johnstone, of the 2nd Siege Battery, which took place in No. 6 Field Ambulance, Depot, France, July 8th. No particulars have been received. The late Gr. Johnstone is a son of Mrs. Andrew Johnstone of Long River.

Another son, Ernest, is in training in England, and expected to join his brother in France in a few weeks. One sister and two brothers are left at home.

Word has been received in this city that Signaller George W. Gardner Jr., of Charlottetown, has been awarded the Military Medal for valor.

Signaller Gardner is one of the group of gallant young lads who left here almost immediately upon the outbreak of the war, have offered their services as signallers, and have acquitted themselves nobly. The others were: Ernest G. Weeks, H. Ronald Stewart, Harry Whitlock, Vernon McLeod, Heber Large and Clyde H. Scott.

Mr. Gardner is to be congratulated upon the distinction he has earned.

Recent Island Casualties at the front include the following: Killed in Action.—Eneas Dowling, Nine Mile Creek, who left here with the 105th Battalion.

Wounded.—Emile Gallant, St. Timothy, also a member of the 105th Battalion.

Died of Wounds.—Gordon A. Ferguson, Charlottetown, son of Conductor Harry Ferguson, of the P. E. I. Railway.

A telegram received by Gunner Ferguson's father yesterday stated that he died in the Seventh General Hospital, Stoner, of gunshot wounds. He was only in his twentieth year and his parents will have the sympathy of many in their sorrow. He is the first member of No. 5 Siege Artillery to yield his life for the Empire.

EVERYTHING LOOKS GOOD.—Mr. Gerivase McNally of Lot 14, was in the city on Saturday. Mr. McNeill reports that in his section and all through Grand River the country never looked better for the time of year. The prospects for a bumper crop is very encouraging and that the oat crop will be a good average.

his district (the) is being held in a more than at the general election. The feeling throughout the entire district is without a doubt strongly in favor of Hon. Mr. Arsenault. Mr. Arsenault's genial and unselfish character is known to all and his opponents can give no logical reason to show why he should be defeated.

WEDDING BELLS.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Weeks, Fredericton, P. E. I., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on July 11th when their only daughter, Anne Mildred was united in the Holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Louis W. Roper, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Roper, East Royalty, Charlottetown. The Rev. L. J. Leard officiating. The ceremony being performed on the lawn, the bride and groom together with their attendants took their place under a large white bell with appropriate decorations, suspended beneath the trees. Miss Mary Weeks, cousin of the bride acted as bridesmaid while Mr. Francis McKay supported the groom. Miss Wadine Roper, niece of the groom acted as little flower girl. The bride was gowned in white silk crepe-de-chine trimmed with silver lace with bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid was attired in white marquisette trimmed with white lace and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The flower girl wore a very pretty gown of pink silk and carried a basket of white roses and pink blossoms. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Vera Haslam, cousin of the bride. After the ceremony supper was served and the evening was spent most enjoyably. The senders arrived and entertained the occasion with their many old costumes and musical programme marked by more noise than melody. The many presents from city and country showed the esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

How I Suffered With Pimples

No One Knows, Says Miss Stodalika. Many Nights Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"My face broke out all over with red pimples which would fester and then a large scale would form. Many nights I could not sleep because of the burning and itching. How I suffered no one knew. My mother requested me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I did so. In less than a month I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Rosebelle Stodalika, Richmond, Sask.

Prosecutor Bruce was at Georgetown Saturday where he made a seizure of eighteen cases of liquor on the premises of Andrew Lavers. It is believed that they were placed there for use in the election campaign. There were also twenty-four cases of liquor at the station addressed to J. W. Carruthers, Georgetown. Whether they were part of the same lot could not be ascertained.

A good deal of activity is noted among the Liberals in the Egmont Bay District, and it is expected a similar seizure, probably several, may be made there, within the next few days. A certain automobile driver is being closely watched, and interesting developments are expected.

Two new road masters of this year who deserve great credit for the excellent work they have done are Mr. William Howatt of Albany and Mr. Arthur Green, of Searle town.

Mr. Howatt had his section of the road widened eight feet more than the average for a distance of almost two miles and had the remaining three miles widened to a considerable extent.

Mr. Arthur Green did work which is a delight to the eye and a pleasure to the travelling public. From Albany station to Searle town school a distance of 2 1/4 miles, the road is 40 feet wide part of the way and in no place as is less than 30 feet wide. Mr. Green has just completed about six miles of the finest country road to be seen on this Island. While a novice at the work he has proven that he is capable of becoming a first class roadmaster.

Mr. William Thomas, of North Tryon, deserves much praise for the manner in which he handled the road loop. Mr. Thomas is certainly an expert at this kind of work. This road, on account of the splendid manner in which the work was done is most highly commended by motorists touring from Summerside to Charlottetown.

W. M. S. CONVENTION.—The annual convention of the Summer side district of the Women's Missionary Society was held in Pleasant Valley, July 14th.

Prayers and benedictions were offered. All, with one exception reported an account. The total amount raised in the district was about $150 ahead of last year. This was the most gratifying as we felt during the first year that we would find it difficult to bring our funds up to the previous year owing to the many demands for money made upon the people. The convention enjoyed a rare treat in having with them the Rev. Brackhill, our pioneer lady missionary. This she told many very interesting and amusing things about the customs and habits of the Chinese people. But this is not the object of our missionaries in going to China. They are there to tell these people of the love of Christ and Miss Brackhill did not forget to tell us of the wonderful results accomplished by these brave missionaries. These people who live in darkness are indeed, seeing a great light. They are waking up after their centuries of ignorance and superstition and it is for us to see they are given the true Gospel. They need more workers there, more young people. We prayed for China to be awakened and it is; we prayed for funds and we have them; now we must pray and work for new recruits for our front line in China. In a paper given by Mrs. Sellar of Kennington, "Giving the Tenth" was recommended to the convention as the solution of the problem of raising in the evening Pleasant Valley choir gave us a delightful program. This, with Miss Brackhill's instructive address and a sketch of the year's work given by our beloved organist, Mrs. Thomas, made a very interesting evening. The people of Pleasant Valley were most hospitable and kind, and all are grateful to them for their kindness and for their help in making the convention the success it was.—Com.

At his home at Selkirk, on Thursday, June 14th, the death took place of Archibald McPhee, at the age of 81. Deceased was the eldest son of the late Arch. (Ban) McPhee, who was the first to settle and literally hew out a home from the primeval forest that less than a century ago stood entirely unbroken where now there stretches mile after mile of prosperous homesteads.

The eldest of a large family, carrying on the struggle for existence under the handicaps incident to such primitive conditions, it might naturally be expected that the more sordid affairs of life should in the average individual stifle all aspiration, and eventually,

"Narrow down to some dusty scope the timeless wing and the tireless hope That for the skies were born."

But unwavering perseverance, engendered in such a rugged school, overcame to a large extent the obstacles of material environment: working all summer to extend the paternal acres and throughout the long cold winter walking at least five miles to "The old log school-house," he acquired the rudiments of an education such as might arouse the envy of many a modern intellectual. This, as the leisure of more prosperous days afforded opportunity, in maturer years, he supplemented by extensive reading, and few in any walk of life could lay claim to closer intimacy with the works and thought of classic authors, or more just appraisal and intelligent acquaintances with the various developments in many spheres of mental speculation and activity.

A close observer and unbiased student of political men and measures, his powers of perception in that regard may best be illustrated by mention of the fact that in the early days of "Our rough Island story," he was amongst the first, if not indeed the very first, to propose the late Hon. Edward Whelan, as a candidate for political preferment. And what result the history of our country will years to come.

In a proportionate sense it might be said of him as was once remarked of a great British steamer: "To know him was in itself a liberal education."

More than passing a gap is left that really made for peace.

More recently he filled the offices of Road Master and Postmaster of the extensive territory served by the Armadale rural routes, all with un-flagging devotion to duty and unvarying satisfaction to all concerned.

Over a year ago his health began to fail but being of such buoyant temperament it was only within the final week that all realized the end was near at hand. The tenderest ministrations of a devoted wife and family, supplementing medical attendance, did all possible to alleviate his bodily ills, and his spiritual necessities were faithfully attended to by his parish priest, Rev. K. C. McPherson. Recall with increasing pride through years to come.

The funeral, with High Mass of Requiem, took place to St. Margaret's on Saturday following, and was very largely attended.

Survivors include a mourning widow, Mrs. John C. McPhee, and four daughters, Mrs. Joseph McDonald, Mrs. Joseph J. McDonald, Mrs. John A. McDonald, and Mrs. John A. McDonald. Also three sons, John A. in Worcester, Mass.; Joseph, John, and Alexis in the home of the late Mrs. McPhee. To those the Guardian Armadale rural routes, all with un-

"SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The Souris District Sunday School Convention met last week in Bay Fortune Presbyterian Church. In the absence of Field Secretary, Rev. W. A. Ross the convention was fortunate in having the services of Rev. J. W. Williamson general Secretary of B. S. S., Board, who was assisted by Rev. A. McKay and Rev. H. A. Brown of Souris. The evening session was particularly interesting and helpful. Stirring addresses were given by the Souris Ministers. A beautifully rendered solo by Rev. J. W. Williamson, also the delivering of an earnest eloquent address was a great inspiration to the large congregation present, especially to the Workers to assume more responsibility in the great work to which God has called them. Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President—T. H. A. Brown; Vice-President—W. B. Leard, Dept. Superintendents Elementary, Miss Lily Ross, Sunday Division, Randolph Bruce, Adult, Neil Ross, Home Dept. (Rev.) H. A. Brown, Department, Rev. A. McKay, Department, Mrs. Rev. J. W. Williamson, Miss Alberta Yates.
