Many friends of Mrs. Strong, mother of Ross Strong of Strong's Service Station, O'Leary, also of Mrs. Everett Collicutt of Cape Wolfe were sorry to learn that she had fallen and injured her hip. Mrs. Strong is in her 80s so this will be quite a hindrance to her.

A person only has to drive over the local by-roads since the plow went through to realize what good old-fashioned winter Islanders put in. When one looks at the heaps of snow on each side, in many places all one can see is the roofs of buildings along the way. But by the calendar it sure can't last much longer. Here's hoping.

"SWAMP PLOW"

CANBERRA — (CP) — An Australian farmer has invented a plow which is efficient in water-logged and swampy land. The plow has a "drainer" attached to the back which can dig drains up to 22 inches deep. It can be converted to a conventional plow by bolting on a regular share.

FRIZZELL - TODD WEDDING

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, Rose Valley, on Saturday afternoon, March 6th, 1948, when their daughter Hazel Frizzell, became the wife of Leslie Todd, son of Mrs. and the late James Frizzell, Stanchel. Rev. Horace F. MacIntyre performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride and groom.

The young bride looked very lovely as she entered the living-room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus played by her sister, Mrs. C. E. Sherrin. She was dressed in a flared crepe dress of frost aqua with gold trimmings, and wore a corsage of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Todd who wore a dress of light beige crepe with gold trimmings and a corsage of yellow tulips. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Leeland Mayne of Emerald.

Following the ceremony, after all had extended best wishes to the happy young couple, a delicious supper was served in the dining room, attractively decorated for the occasion. The table was centered with a lovely three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

During the evening a jolly crowd of serenaders gathered to extend best wishes to the newly-weds. Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home, at which she received many lovely and useful gifts as well as a substantial sum of money. The young couple will reside in Rose Valley, where the groom has recently taken up farming. Their many friends wish them many years of happy wedded life.
