RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. PAUL'S ANGLICAN CHURCH

Yesterday, the third Sunday in Advent, the services at St. Paul's Church were well attended. During the lifting of the offering the choir sang the anthem "Unto God Give the Glory" (Ashford).

At the morning service the Rector preached on "The call of the Christian ministry", taking as his text: St. Matthew, 4th chapter, verse 18-19, "Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men".

He emphasized the stupendousness of the task which the Master and His disciples undertook in response to that call. Becoming fishers of men meant putting away the fishing gear of Galilee and devoting their lives to the telling of the good news of Christ; telling people that God loved them; telling people that God forgives sin; telling people that God enables them to overcome sin; telling people that life is eternal.

Continuing, the speaker dwelt upon the strange agencies employed in the fishing of men down through the ages:—the persecution which scattered the faithful; the hostile empire which both protected and thwarted them; the hostile church of the Jews which admitted them to its synagogue and then cast them out; the historic period of the "Dark Ages" when religion prospered in hiding places. The influence of learning and the influx of modern transportation facilities. Speaking of the church of today, the preacher asked "Is the task completed?" "Have we failed?" and answered with the assurance that Christ's work will be done and the workers will be found.

At the evening service the text was St. Matthew 5th chapter, verse 44, "I say unto you love your enemies". This injunction of Christ though difficult of performance, is found in the Sermon of the Mount, where people are wont to expect an unruffled gospel peace. Jesus Christ demands whole allegiance; Jesus Christ cuts across human traditions. The enemy, the speaker pointed out, is a human enemy, personal or national.

At both morning and evening services, the prayers from the accession service were offered for our new King George VI and his Queen. Miss S. Wood of the choir sang beautifully the piece of music called "The Holy City."

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The theme of the morning service at Trinity United Church yesterday was suggested by the parable of the Pharisee and publican at prayer in the temple: The sins of the Saints. The term "saint" is frequently used in the New Testament, especially in the writings of St. Paul. It denotes, not perfection but all who consecrated themselves to God in Christ. There is something of the Pharisee in all, the speaker said. Good people have their besetting sins. There is the sin of a complacent self-satisfaction, due to the fast we have made our profession of faith in Christ, and spiritual blindness to our real condition and need. The result is an arrest in spiritual growth. The sin of self-satisfaction is frequently due to another sin, the sin of false comparison. Like the Pharisee we compare ourselves to others, whom we regard as greater sinners than we. We fail to regard ourselves the least of the saints, not yet having attained to full measure of discipleship.

"The sins of the weak" was the subject of the evening sermon. One of the cardinal tenets of democracy is that all men are equal. The truth of the saying is found in its modified form. Weakness as well as wickedness crucified Christ. Through weakness, Peter denied Him, Judas betrayed Him and Pilate condemned Him. Only for weakness they would have done otherwise. Evidence of our weakness is found in the many laws for our restraint and protection. The absence of all restraints and prohibitions, is the greatest test of all. Unrestrained weakness is as inexcusable as wickedness. Our sympathy is frequently expressed, "he is not wicked, only weak."

The musical part of the services included the anthems "O God, Who Hast Prepared," A. R. Gaul, and "Fear Not, O Land," Rogers. A Christmas sacred programme of organ, vocal numbers and readings will be given by the choir in the church Wednesday at 8 p.m.

ST. JAMES KIRK

A large congregation worshipped at St. James Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, the preacher being the Minister, the Rev. R. Moorhead-Legate, D.D., who took for his text "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it," Matthew X, verse 39.

The choir rendered the anthem, "Come now and let us reason together" (Briant), the solo part being taken by Mr. Arthur Bruce.

Special prayers were offered for the new King and Queen Elizabeth, for the Queen-Mother and for the ex-King now in exile. The congregation joined in singing the National Anthem.

At the evening service Dr. Legate preached from St. Luke VI, verse 48 "A Man which built a house ... and laid the foundation on a rc...

The ... pointed out that we can imp... and strengthen our life's foundation by spending certain periods in serious thinking, by reading good literature, which refers us to the book of books, the Bible.

We are enabled to "dig deep" and lay a solid foundation by doing our work well, realizing that work is the vehicle by which we may show the reality of our religion.

The anthem "Saviour Again to Thy Dear Name We Raise" (Lysberg), was sung by the choir, the duet part being rendered by Mrs. J. A. Lawson and Mrs. N. D. MacLean.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

At St. Dunstan's Basilica yesterday His Excellency Bishop J. A. O'Sullivan celebrated the 8 o'clock mass for the Holy Name men who also received Holy Communion in a body. At 8 o'clock the Rev. Dr. McMahon celebrated mass in the lower church for the children. Rev. Father Sullivan celebrated the 9.30 mass and also preached at the solemn mass at 11. The solemn mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Oswald Murphy of St. Dunstan's University, assisted by Rev. Father McCardle as deacon and Rev. Father Dougan as sub-deacon.

Catechism was held at 2 o'clock for the boys, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

In the evening Holy Hour was conducted by Rev. Father Dougan. The Corpus Christi Choir was in attendance under the direction of Mr. W. J. Brown with Mrs. Joseph Dougan organist.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

Yesterday, Holy Name Sunday, the members of the Holy Name Society of the Holy Redeemer Church received communion in a body at the 7.30 mass. Rev. Father Baines preached at all the masses. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Father McKenna.

Last evening Rosary was said, Holy Name Vespers chanted and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by Rev. Father McKenna.

After the service last evening the regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society was held.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Appropriate to the period, the Rev. H. L. Denton, B.D., took as the general theme of morning and evening sermons "Preparing for Christmas". Basing his sermon on the words of Isaiah "Prepare ye in the wilderness a way of Jehovah", the various factors that were involved in the timeliness of the advent were sketched; the breakdown of old traditions and customs, the eager seeking for a fuller and richer knowledge of God, the sadness of despair and the dawning star of hope; the coming of solidarity, transportation and order by the Roman Empire, the contribution of a new culture and a wide spread language by Greece, the dispersion of Jewish people with the establishment in each place of their dwelling of a new focus of spiritual religion.

Jesus is coming today and every day; it is ours through the church to "prepare a way of Jehovah"; ours to provide a universal language of prayer and ours to carry the thought of the coming one. "May we make this a fulness of time for a fuller revelation of Jesus."

Related in the thought to the sermon of the morning the Rev. H. L. Denton spoke again on a further aspect of the same subject "Preparing for Christmas", at the evening service. Appropriate Christmas carols were sung morning and evening by a large choir, under the direction of Miss Vera H. Malcolm Campbell, Mus. Bac., and Miss Helen Callbeck, organist.

Carols: A.M.—"Good Christian Men," traditional German melody; "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" (Mendelssohn); solo, "Bethlehem," (Charles Gounod).

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"That Other Disciple" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. S.C. Cooper at the morning service at the Central Christian Church yesterday. The regular sermon was preceded as usual by a short talk to the children.

The text of the morning sermon was John 20:3 "Then went in also that other disciple."

John, after a period of meditation is giving to his listeners his conclusions concerning the Christ which they held fast. The Fourth Gospel tells us how the faith was built and established. John relates his own conversion and continues to give account of events till he reaches the resurrection morning of which the text speaks. It was there that that other disciple had darkness made light.

Peter did not know that he was having an influence upon John, who came into the tomb after him. "We exercise influence upon our contemporaries whether we are conscious of it or not. History is the record of man's conscious influence upon society and the world", the speaker said.

Music at the morning service included an anthem, "Crown Him Lord", Miss Lorena Semple taking the solo part.

The text of the evening sermon was John 1:42, "And he brought him to Jesus."

The Fourth Gospel tells about Andrew who was a man of only average ability. His conversion happened when he was the Baptist's disciple.

Andrew is not only the first follower of Jesus but the first thing he did was to win one to Christ. He went after the hardest case, his own big, sceptical, hardened brother Simon. He was blazing a new trail. He had no teacher or rule book but he won his man.

The supreme ambition of every church member should be to win to Christ.

Evening music included an anthem "God So Loved the World."

fore he, too, disappeared. The powerless Frankie stood by for a short time in hope someone would appear. Then he crossed the river's east branch and ran home.

"Weltch and Pollock are drowned!" he exclaimed, excited and crying as he threw open the door. His father, H. A. Robertson, and a neighbor, Leonard McPherson, returned with him to the scene. Nothing of the victims could be seen, and the spot was marked by a hole in the honey-combed ice.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Richibucto were called by the elder Robertson. Constables W. Morgan and A. Thibierge took charge of the case and grappling began at daybreak. Neighbors with equipment to aid the search hurried to the scene.

The bodies were located 15 feet apart. R. Whalen found that of Pollock at 9 a. m. The body of Weltch was found two hours later by Rudolph McPherson. Senator T. J. Bourque, M. D., Coroner at Richibucto, was called and decided an inquest unnecessary. The bodies were taken to the public hall here, later placed in caskets and then conveyed to the two homes.

MAKING MARIONETTES IS NEWEST PASTIME

Marionette making has taken the country by storm, children and adults alike. You don't have to be expert; in fact the greatest fun in tht world can be had with just one simple marionette—a clown who bows and scrapes and dances grotesquely under even the most inexpert handling. Unless you want your show to end up in a fiasco, be sure the guide strings are strong—a size 8 six-cord sewing thread will do nicely—for a broken string can make the pertest clown droop sadily.

..*SOURIS PARISH C. W. L. The December meeting of the Souris C. W. L. was held in their league room on Dec. 8th, with a good attendance of members present. The president presided, meeting opened with prayer. The minutes of Souris, Chepstow and Little Harbor units were read and stood approved. Discussion followed on re-organizing a study club. It was decided to call a general meeting of all the different societies of the parish at St. Mary's Hall, at a future date regarding the matter. General regret was expressed for one of our active members who has gone to Charlottetown to reside for the winter months. A press convenor was appointed at this meeting that monthly reports from the sub-division be forwarded regularly to our local papers. At our next meeting, after the usual routine business a few tables of cards will be played and the hostess will lbe Mrs. Rooney, Mrs. Mullally, Mrs. Mooney and Mrs. MacInnis. Meeting closed with singing of hymn.
