and PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

Passes Away in Prince County Hospital

There passed away in the Prince County Hospital on Sunday, Gerald Killbride, nineteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin Killbride, of Freeland, Lot 11.

The deceased had been brought to the Prince County Hospital a few days ago suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis. An operation was performed and the young man appeared to be making good progress, then he took a sudden relapse and passed away Sunday morning.

The remains were taken to his home in Freeland, Lot 11, for burial. The funeral is taking place at the R. C. Church there this morning.—S.

SAYS RUSSIANS ORIGINATED PROPAGANDA

(By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BERNÉ, Switzerland, Oct. 29.—A 72-year-old Russian, Vladimir Berzen, recalled the sensational Jewish protocol trial here today with stories of how he hunted down promoters of trouble in Russia, finally unmasking the famous Azeff, ace trouble-maker.

Out of his Sherlock Holmes tales came allegations that the so-called "protocols of the Elders of Zion," which Jews claim are spurious, were fabricated by secret Russian agents. Who wrote the famous Protocols, which painted Israel as setting out to conquer the world?

When were the alleged falsifications of these documents committed?

These were questions which kept the trial at high tension throughout the day. Swiss Nazis, alleged to have enjoyed the support of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, are charged with spreading the allegedly spurious Protocols by publication in a Swiss Nazi organ.

The present portion of the hearings is devoted to an attempt of Jewish leaders to prove the "Protocols of the Elders of Zion" are forgeries.

Berzen, the Russian, said he was informed one General Rachowsky, supposed to be the head of the czar's secret police in Paris, had prepared the Protocols with the aid of a man named Golovinsky, an expert provocateur and expert liar, working in the French National Library.

Berzen insisted that these same Protocols were responsible for the persecution of Jews in Russia in 1918 and 1919.

Sympathy Expressed

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Sylvère Poirier of Misouche in the death in the Prince County Hospital at midnight on Saturday of their youngest daughter, Margaret, at the tender age of fifteen years, after a short illness of pneumonia. Miss Margaret was a bright intelligent child and will be missed in the family circle and by her classmates in the school room.

There are left to mourn, besides her parents, two sisters, Alina and Jeanne and three brothers, Toussaint, of the Provincial Bank in Campbellton, N.B.; Florin, who is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, and Martin, at home.

The funeral took place on Monday morning from the parish church at Misouche, Rev. Nazaire Poirier, of St. Dunstan's University officiating at the Requiem Mass. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Anthony DesRoches, Frank Gauget, Cecil Gauget, John Poirier, Herbert MacKinnon and Adrien DesRoches.—S.

Fugitive Heading For Canada

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) THE FORKS, Me., Oct. 29.—Murray Gilbert, former Elmira, N.Y., farmhand, sought for a double slaying in Benton, today was believed headed for the Canadian border.

A pair of shoes, a raincoat and a sweater, identified as Gilbert's were found in a wooded area in the Dead River region, known locally as Bouldie Field. A card found in a pocket of the raincoat definitely established its ownership, police said.

It was the belief of the authorities that Gilbert had obtained clothing from some camp, discarding the portions of lighter apparel in which he had more than a week ago from the farm of Mrs. Rose Ronca after slaying her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Emerson Nutt, 46, and Theodore "Jack" Butler, of Franklin, N.H.

Five inches of snow fell yesterday in this region, making travel by Gilbert's pursuers difficult. Officers plotting the fugitive's probable course said he would likely follow the Canadian Pacific Railroad across the border.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) VINAL HAVEN, Me., Oct. 29.—

The search for Walter and Lewis Chandler, Vinal Haven fishermen missing since they started out on a 25-foot open motorboat Saturday morning was abandoned tonight. Rising winds forced small fishing craft back into port.

Historian was another witness. He declared another historian living in Yugoslavia had affirmed that he saw the Protocols as early as 1895. This was two years before the Zion Congress at Basel, Switzerland, where, according to the critics of Jewry, the Protocols were drawn up.

Annual Meeting Of The Ladies Golf Club

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Branch of the Summerside Golf Club was held on Saturday afternoon, in the Town Hall with a very good attendance.

Mrs. G. Ennis Smith, the President, presided. The reports of the different committees were submitted and passed. The financial report shows the Ladies' Branch to be in good standing and a substantial sum was handed over to the Golf Club.

The officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. G. Ennis Smith; Vice-president, Mrs. F. J. E. Wright; Secretary, Mrs. F. J. E. Wright; Treasurer, Mrs. Lecky; House Com., Mrs. J. L. Roy Holman and Mrs. E. W. Mansour; Games Com., Mrs. Wm. Smallman; Grounds Com., Miss Gladys Holman; Membership, Mrs. Hillard Munnar.—S.

Society Girls Should Stay In Own Back Yard

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Professional lady models voted last night to protest against cheap society labor, which is hurting the model business.

Fifty mannequins held a meeting at the Mayfair mannequin institute to protest the use of Park Avenue debutantes, who have been picking up change by modelling for style shows. The professionals decided to picket the next fashion pageant that employs "amateur" models.

They signed a petition to be sent to the Junior League, the Fifth Avenue Association and the directors of fashion shows.

"And if that doesn't work," said Miss Gertrude Mayer, a brick young lady with red hair who heads the mannequins, "we'll start copping off their boy friends. Looking them over, I don't think it would be hard."

Miss Mayer was very serious about this. She was most annoyed over a remark made by Mrs. Harold E. Talbot, Jr., society leader, who declared professional models hardly could be ladies.

"Professional models may try to look like ladies," Mrs. Talbot said, "if those who run fashion shows choose persons who have a society background, isn't the reason obvious?"

This was quoted to Miss Mayer. "Try to look like ladies just being in society could make ladies out of some women in a thousand years. If you addressed them as 'ladies' they'd turn red in the face. We'll show them! Why don't they stay home and read a good book?"

"They're not only taking jobs away from girls that need them, but they're spoiling the business. A lot of them have bad figures and don't know how to walk.

"Conditions are growing worse every year, and it is time to put our foot down and ask the social life to stay in her own backyard."

The petition protested that more than 1,000 jobs a year are lost to the working girl through the use of debutantes as models.

Miss Mayer asked someone to volunteer to recite her experiences. Miss Marie Roostfort stepped forward and said:

"I had a job and a society girl took it away from me. I asked her, 'Do you need this job as much as I do?' and she said, 'No, but I have to earn some money to pay for my maid.'"

WATCH IDENTIFIES HERO

Although he tried to hide his identity, John W. Whittle was betrayed by his watch and he has been publicly honored as a hero in Sydney, New South Wales. Whittle dived into a pond in University Park and saved a boy from drowning by dragging the lad from the mud and clinging weeds, then disappeared. In the rescue he lost his watch, which bore his name. After being in bed for several weeks from the effects of his immersion in dirty water he was summoned to the Town Hall and was presented a Royal Lifesaving Society certificate of heroism.

Cliff Fall

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) GLACE BAY, N. S., Oct. 29.—Daniel McDougall, 18, appeared to be on the road to recovery in a Glace Bay hospital tonight suffering a dangerous spinal injury from a fall over a 60-foot cliff and 12 hours exposure in a bitter autumn night.

His clothing sodden from his fall into the waters, the lad spent last night helpless on the shore, half in and half out of the sea, suffering intense agony from pain and cold, and in danger of being carried away by the back wash of the tide—unable to crawl to safety because of his injury.

He had fallen over the cliff while playing football with friends. His disappearance was soon noted, and his father spent an anxious night searching.

The boy was found in the morning and rushed to hospital.
