Everything ready For opening of Fox Show today

Everything is set for the big fox show opening today at the Provincial Exhibition Grounds. For the past three weeks, caretaker William McAusland and assistants have been getting the main building and the Paton Pavilion ready for the 12th annual Fox Show.

A total of 710 wire crates were set up, disinfected and partly filled with straw and made ready for the foxes. The building has been thoroughly gone over and the Paton Pavilion roof has had two coats of heavy cement to prevent any water from coming through. All the booths have been set up and are ready for the occupants. The lights have been turned on and the Paton Pavilion has been scrubbed and made spotlessly clean. In fact everything possible has been done to contribute to the comfort and satisfaction of the exhibitors. This includes restaurant service that will do away with the necessity of the exhibitors having to eat off a tray for an hour. This service will be conducted in the restaurant under the Grand Stand where excellent facilities are available.

From advance entries received Saturday, totalling several hundred, expectations are that possibly an all time high for the first time in fox competition will be shattered. The largest number of foxes from one fox farm, said to be Raoul Rey, is expected to be shown. The show will be held by Hilliard Murray and son, Ralph, Summerside, with 60; and the Ohio National company with Mr. W. H. Hancock with 44. All the old exhibitors have been notified their intention of being on hand and dozens of small breeders are expected to show their stock.

The new types will have a representation of between 250 and 350 and are bound to attract attention. All in all, the 12th annual Fox Show is expected to be one of the most successful of them all.

one name, that of Senator Meighen. No other name, so far as could be learned, was put forward for leadership in the absence of a national committee of 52 was appointed to make a recommendation and returned to the main meeting with a majority proposal that the convention be held and that Senator Meighen be asked to take the leadership. The vote in the committee was 47 to 12 in favor of his proposal and it promptly encountered a measure of opposition in the meeting as a whole.

Meighen's opponent, Mr. LePage, was understood to have formed a motion to recall the former leader.

Quebec delegates who recalled that Mr. Meighen was a member of the Dominion Conservative Association, Dr. Herbert Bruce (Con. Toronto, Parkdale) and Senator A. D. McRae of Vancouver were appointed to tender Mr. Meighen the unanimous request of the meeting.

Mr. Meighen had boarded the afternoon train for Toronto and Mr. Hanson then announced the same committee would wait on the Senator later Monday.

Expected To Accept

In party circles it was taken for granted the new leader would resign his seat in the Senate and seek election to the House of Commons at the earliest possible moment. The idea was held by some that he might find a seat in Toronto through the resignation of one of the present Conservative members.

12,000 Servicemen Use K. of C. hut in past 3 months

Twelve thousand members of the armed forces made use of the Charlottetown Knights of Columbus hut in its first three months of operation, according to the report of Rev. Leonard Ayres, at the meeting of the Charlottetown Council of the Knights of Columbus held last night. Grand Knight J. Alfred Doyle presided.

Father Ayres told that after receiving a grant from the Knights of Columbus War Services the local Holy Name Hall had been equipped to serve as a K. of C. Hut. The alleys had been completely renovated by a Montreal firm which specializes in such work and today these alleys conform to the standards set by the American Bowling Association.

Only one other such alley is so equipped in this province. A canteen has been installed and a reading and writing room is being set up in the upper floor of the hall. The achievements of this hut according to Father Ayres, compare favourably with the work done by huts all over Canada.

Lecturer John B. Richards announced that the local council will hold a dance and card party at the Holy Name Hall on Thursday, November 20. Lecturer Richards also reported on activities carried on by the council. These include a bowling league, card tournaments and educational classes in the spiritual life of a layman and public speaking. All these activities are attracting a large number of participants and it is planned to continue them throughout the winter months. Mr. Richards stated that Dr. J. D. MacGuigan, Mr. M. Alban Farmer and Dr. J. T. Croteau were appointed on a committee to investigate the possibility of holding a fourth degree, with the three Island Councils cooperating.

A program of talking motion pictures, featuring a number of recent war releases, followed the business meeting.

Remembrance Day At Queen Square

"View it from any angle you will, this present great conflict is still a clash of the same ideals which slightly different alignment, that precipitated the war of 1914-18," Mr. L. W. Goodwin, speaking on behalf of the Canadian Legion, told pupils of Queen Square School Friday. He addressed the Free Peoples of Remembrance Day.

"Kaiserism of 1914 is replaced by Hitlerism of 1939. The cruel unscrupulous Prussian of a quarter of a century ago, is the cruel and unscrupulous Nazi of today. They did yesterday and they do today, represent all that is despotic, all that is tyrannical, all that is unjust, all that is cruel, and they have demonstrated by their foul actions and deeds that the same old bad sinister is still emblazoned on their crooked shields," Mr. Goodwin said.

"On the other hand, opposed to this ungodly faction, we have what is still left of the free peoples of the earth, and bear in mind that these free peoples have never reached perfection, they have their defects, plenty of them, they have their faults, many of them. Yet still, they are not covered by the tyrant's hand of steel, and foremost among these peoples and at one time, burdened but unbowed, the British race stood alone. Those heroic people of Great Britain led their indomitable Free Ministers through withstood the most withering and devastating fury that the long-prepared and vicious enemy could unleash," he continued.

"The storm is not yet over, but the worst may be yet to come, but the united and vigorous might of all her far flung Dominions and colonies, with a rejuvenated Russia and the assistance of that great English-speaking growing army, an incomparable Air Force and a still mighty fleet, we know that we shall conquer but that day near or be it in the distant future, we must, at all times united front to the enemy, and so today, the Legion would ask you to work, to save, to remember the sacrifices of our immortal dead, and the glorious living to the end of the journey," the speaker declared.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Goodwin explained the significance of Remembrance Day and explained why the Poppy was chosen as an emblem of remembrance. The pupils contributed to the program by singing, "O Canada" and the National Anthem.

Mr. J. W. F. McCallum, principal of the school, presided.
