OLD PEOPLE NEED STRENGTH

This Woman of Eighty-one Years

Tells How Vinol Creates Strength for the Aged

She says: "It is with great pleasure I tell others of the great benefit I have derived from VINOL. I am now eighty-one years of age, and I have never found any remedy that would create an appetite, overcome nervous conditions and build up strength equal to VINOL."

The reason VINOL is so successful in such cases is because it contains the tissue building and medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood making, strength creating properties of tonic iron, beef peptone and hypophosphites.

Thus, in a natural manner, it increases the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood with thousands of red blood corpuscles and imparts strength, health and vitality to every organ, muscle and tissue of the body.

If feeble old people only realized the good VINOL will do them our druggists would not be able to supply the demand.

Fox and Fur Notes

Mr. V. E. Gowland, Secretary-Treasurer New Brunswick Black Foxes Ltd. states that they have had good success in their Silver Black Fox ranch this season. He also says that there is a great deal of enthusiasm in New Brunswick concerning the fox industry. The farmers around Moncton and Salisbury are talking fox and are planning to put in a number of pairs.

Lt. A. E. B. Murphy, Tignish has recently returned from upper Canadian Cities. While there he made sale of some pairs of high grade Prince Edward Island foxes to be delivered in September to parties who will ranch them in British Columbia. He also sold some foxes to parties who will ranch them near Ottawa. Mr. Murphy realized good figures for his sales. While at the G. W. V. A. Convention Mr. Murphy was "snapped" as a delegate from Prince Edward Island. He had sufficient foresight to carry with him a nice specimen of silver fox which he wore around his neck while being photographed. This picture is now being exhibited in Moving Picture Houses through Pathe News, thereby creating a good advertisement for Prince Edward Island foxes.

A prominent authority on conservation states that at the rate of extinction of fur bearing animals that in twenty-five years wearers of certain kinds of furs will have to depend exclusively on the ranch bred article.

In Rusisa torn as it is with dissessions of internal strife there has been established on the Siberian Coast a ranch for Russian sable one of the most valuable furs in the world. It is said that Japanese capital is interested in this venture. Prince Edward Island would be a very suitable locality for the rearing of Russian sable could they be secured.

Michigan is the skunk farming country. Skunk farms are becoming more and more plentiful although the owners do not get immense percentage on their investment they do very nicely.

The London fur sales which were held last week were more than usually successful as regards silver fox. A gentleman whose name we will be at liberty to mention later on sent fifteen pelts on which he had a reserved bid of $12,000. He received a wire yesterday stating that they had been sold. He does not yet know how much more than $12,000 they realized. These figures show that old London is still on the map as regards silver fox furs.

Several Movie Stars have recently been photographed in their acts wearing beautiful silver fox sets made up in the style prevalent in London. That is with practically the full pelt hanging down the front of the body. There is said to be perfect rage in Paris also for Silver fox sets.

Russia once the greatest inporter of silver fox skins is now practically out of the market owing to suppression of the Imperial family and the practical destruction of the aristocracy. The Bolsheviki are not good customers for silver fox sets although the Ukraine still absorbs a certain number of pelts fashion being more fastidious in that vicinity.

South America is now a good customer for Silver fox. One pleasing feature about the situation there is that the ladies do not object in any cases to a slight mahogany tint in the skins.

The following furs are to be sold in Funsten Bros. & Co., St. Louis, sale commencing May 10th, 1500 silver fox, 1000 blue fox, 2100 cross fox, 10,000 white fox.

The total measurements of Dougal, the winner of the first ribbon in the adult non-pure blood class at the Boston Fox show last November were as follows:—Total length 52 inches, breadth 21 inches, height at shoulder 17 inches, weight December 1st 21½ pounds.

Recent advices state that Mr. Ned Deanborn who has been prominentiy connected with the United States Government Bureau at Washington is to embark in the fox business as manager of a large ranch to be built in the United States and stocked with Island foxes.

A new silver fox company called the Anglo American Silver Fox Company Ltd. with a capital stock of $190,000 and with head office at Moncton, N. B. has lately been incorporated.

Spring wear dealers who specialize in furs report a large increase in spring orders over last season. The total offering of the St. Louis fur sale aggregated $30,000,000, the total offering of all kinds to be auctioned at New York, St. Louis and London fur auction aggregated $60,000,000.

Proceedings in The Legislature of this tax the Premier said there would be two people who would be very important personages—one will be the man on the public roads known as the Inspector and the other the collector. The man to assess values will be the Inspector—the collector will be the road-master or overseer. The reason given for the government chosing this method was ascribed as in the interests of economy—a desire not to multiply public offices and costs. Other bills to increase revenue are to come—one will be the Succession Duties Tax.

HON. MR. LEA in seconding the resolution declared this was the most important legislation yet before the House. Conditions must be faced as they found them. Taxation was something which he claimed he had pointed out to the late government which is necessary and must be faced. In the past we had been depending on the Federal subsidy. In view of the prosperity of the country he thought it ridiculous going into debt from year to year.

It was useless harking back to any statement made by any individual man. An increase in taxation was necessary and every resident should pay something. The thing to do was to get more of our money and spend it on ourselves.

He heartily concurred in the sliding scale of income tax.

The Commissioner was speaking at one o'clock and moved for adjournment until 3 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

House met at 3.35 in committee for further consideration of the resolution introducing the Taxation Act. Hon. W. M. Lea resumed his speech, begun in the forenoon.

He made a comparison between the proposed taxation and that under the old act. He claimed that the real and personal property tax of one half of one per cent was the lowest in Canada, To justify this assertion he quoted taxes paid in Nova Scotia. The province was now facing conditions which made it necessary to face taxation. He claimed that the proposed tax of one half of one per cent was really lower than when the tax was one fifth of one per cent because money is so cheap today. He did not know what system of assessment had been in vogue heretofore but he knew that there were incongruities which needed readjustment. With reference to the proposed poll tax of $3 he said it was quite justifiable. It was a tax on many who heretofore had escaped taxation. It did not matter now what men had said or would say about taxation or the need of it. We were now up against conditions of high cost of material and of living the labor and the situtaion must be faced, There had been a veritable carnival of extravagance throughout the country. This tax would teach the people economy and prudence. The tax would not amount to more than an average of $10 a farm. There were unjustifiable losses, farmers lost heavily through neglect of spraying for fungous diseases, and through other avoidable causes. He contended that the expenditure of sufficient money in instructing the farmers would save the province many thousands. Under the present proposal it was expected to have money enough to carry on an educational program which would be of immense benefit to the whole province.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT said that with the meagre information before the House he did not propose to spend much time in discussing it. When the bill is submitted for second reading an intelligent discussion would be possible. He did not know who was the father of the present bill but he understood that it was the Attorney General and it only added more proof to what he, Mr. Arsenault had said last night, that the bill was a stone hung around the neck of one whom they wished to drown politically. He was somewhat surprised to find the Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture dilate so enthusiastically on the benefits to be expected from this taxation. It would be remembered that last year when the government proposed to put on a tax of one third of the existing tax his Hon. friend was one of the first to jump up and oppose it.

HON. F. J. NASH followed. This was the most important measure brought before the House in some time. The question to be faced was "have we enough money to properly carry on the affairs of the province." He quoted one of the first utterances of Sir Auckland Geddes after his arrival in America showing the necessity of facing difficulties fearlessly, remembering each other's failings and cheerfully bearing one another's burden. As to the proposed tax, Mr. Nash asked "Do we keep it? No! We hand it back to the people in the shape of packet service, good roads, public ulities and because of it we shall have progress." To try to run this country without taxation would be to lead to inevitable ruin. He saw the other day the amount of Canada's indebtedness. "Was Canada going to stop because of this enormous debt? No! After all, we are face to face with conditions that are prevalent all over the world All production has its origin in the land or in the sea. Therefore he took it, any increase imposed upon the merchants and the corporations is borne by the farmer or the fisher man. The present taxation is going to bear more lightly on the poor man than any we have had. The tax as proposed is the fairest possible. The only way to get at the wealth of a country is to get at the incomes. He justified the real property taxation—taking for his figuring a $4000 farm on which he showed that the new tax would only be $20. Not to impose such a tax as is proposed would mean the closing of the schools; no more would we see the groups of merry children trouping to school to take up their daily educational tasks; it would mean the closing of our Infirmaries and Insane Asylum and letting the poor mentally afflicted go without that care to which they are entitled in our Christian civilization. He said it didn't matter what newspapers said, the tax was necessary. He said every word published in the Patriot was true in the light of what was known when the articles were written (laughter). Taxes were never popular and never would be. The tax on lobster cases would be denounced by the packers and applauded by the farmers; the tax on the farm would be denounced by the farmer and applauded by the packer and so on through the whole round. He stood for the bill he would stand by it and he believed it would be approved by the House. He was satisfied that before the end of the term, the government would be justified for its acts.

The House went into committee on the resolution with Mr. A. E. McLean in the chair.

NO NEW CARDINALS NAMED AT PRESENT

ROME, May 3.—Confirmation of reports that no cardinals will be created at the coming consistory, has been received from an official source at the Vatican. The consistory will concern itself entirely with the work of the canonization of Joan of Arc and Marie Alacoque, a French mystic and nun, who died in 1690.

Another consistory may possibly be held in June, but it is possible it will be postponed until the end of the year, when the question of the creation of new American cardinals will be considered.

The creation of cardinals is a personal prerogative of the Pontiff, and, therefore, any reports as to who may be given the Red Hat are considered pure conjecture.

They Don't Clean Teeth

In Your Way Now—Not the Men Who Know

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

They Now Combat the Film

Dental science has found a new way to clean teeth—a way that combats the film.

Able authorities have proved it for years in clinical and laboratory tests. The facts are beyond any question. Leading dentists all over America now urge people to adopt it, and a million or more have done so.

This method, for home use, is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And this week we offer, to every home in this city, enough for a ten-day test. For your own sake you should make that test.

Why Teeth Discolor and Decay

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to the teeth, gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary dentifrice does not dissolve it. So, night and day, that film may do ceaseless damage. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of many other troubles, local and internal.

You Must End It

Millions of people find that brushed teeth discolor and decay. Tartar forms and pyorrhea starts. Statistics show that, despite the tooth brush, tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

The reason lies in that film. To prevent the troubles you must end the film. Let this ten-day test show you the way to do it.

Now Millions of Teeth Are Kept Whiter

Pepsodent is now applied to millions of teeth every day. The result is seen everywhere in glistening teeth. Some of your friends can show them.

Those teeth glisten because they are clean. The film is kept removed. Now we ask you to see how your own teeth look after a ten-day use.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed forbidden. It must be activated, and the usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. What science has now found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily—can be left between the teeth. And five years have proved that this discovery opens a new dental era.

Look at Your Teeth in Ten Days

The results are easily shown and we urge you to see them. Read how they come about. Then decide for yourself what is best for your teeth and for your children's teeth.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare the results with your present methods. Remember that those whiter teeth mean cleaner teeth—teeth kept freer from film. Then decide for yourself about going back to former cleaning methods.

Make the test this week, while the 10-Day Tube is free. The result will be of lifetime importance to you. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

They Keep Teeth White
by keeping them free from film. The old ways failed to do that.

They Teach Children
how to really clean teeth, and how to combat the film which is the source of most tooth troubles.
