—SUCCESSFUL EXCURSION—The first moonlight excursion on the Car Ferry, "Charlottetown" Wednesday evening was a grand success. The affair, sponsored by the Summerside Golf Club, was largely attended, and so great was the rush for tickets that permission was asked to allow the passenger list to be increased to 1,000. Dancing was enjoyed in the large and roomy saloon on the lower deck. Music being furnished by Albert Blanchard's nine-piece orchestra, while on the upper deck, under specially arranged lines of electric lights the League of the Cross Band entertained the excursionists to a varied and well selected programme. A feature of this was the triple tongue cornet solo by Mr. Thos. Covey. The dining room was crowded during the sail and although the staff did not anticipate such a rush, the waters handled the crowd in a most satisfactory manner.

AGE APPROVES YOUTH OF TODAY

AURORA, Sept. 7—Mrs. Jane Chapelle of Armitage, believed to be the oldest living resident of York County, is preparing to celebrate her 104th birthday this week, with a quiet family reunion.

Despite her advanced years, Mrs. Chapelle is a wonderfully preserved woman, nimble and agile as many who have seen less than half her years, and a keen observer of modern events and changes. She has no quarrel with the young people of today. At the same time she is frank and open in her criticism and has pronounced opinions concerning the dress of the girl of today.

When bobbed hair was mentioned, however, she declared that nothing looks nicer, but when bare arms were discussed she gave expression to rather different opinions. "The only time I ever went out with my arms bare was when I worked in the fields, and even then my sleeves reached to the elbow," she remarked.

Mrs. Chapelle recalls the days when, as a young girl in her teens, she was accustomed to following the plow, when a twelve-hour day was regarded with no disdain. Hard work, according to Mrs. Chapelle, is the only formula for longevity.

Throughout her life she has been a staunch Liberal, and looks forward to casting still another vote for her party. A lifelong abstainer, she frowns on girls who indulge in cigaret smoking. They are, in her opinion, lacking self-respect.

When she attained her 100th birthday the grand old lady made a trip alone to Saginaw, Mich., where she visited a married daughter. She saw Toronto for the first time exactly seventy-five years ago, making her last trip to the Exhibition at the time of her ninetieth birthday.

Market for Canadian Tobacco in Norway

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 5—Less than twenty per cent of the tobacco stock used during recent years in Norway has gone into cigarette making, the greater part being consumed in smoking and chewing tobaccos and snuffs, states the Natural Resources Department of the Canadian National Railways. Only about one per cent is used in the manufacture of cigars and cigarillos. The largest portion of the Norwegian tobacco imports is made up of raw leaf, the Virginian types being in the greatest demand, and it would appear that there is an opening for Canadian tobacco of these types if and when Canada's production is sufficient to supply markets other than Great Britain.

Keep Watchful Eye Housecleaning

TORONTO, Sept. 6—(C.P.)—If you are planning to do a thorough housecleaning and throw out the old papers which seem to collect in the attic, it might be well worth your while to go over them carefully before giving them to the ragman. They might conceal a small fortune.

In the past four or five years, Torontonians have cashed in by doing the same thing. They found among papers, rare old stamps. Two stamps at least were worth $3,000 each, Frank Aretz, stamp expert, said at a meeting of the Canadian Philatelic Society. If old stamps are found, the lucky finders are advised to leave them stuck on the envelope, as they are worth more than if they are loose, according to Mr. Aretz. Any stamp posted before 1880 might net a substantial windfall, if it is in good condition, he said. Stamps bearing postmarks later than 1880 usually are not worth very much.

Just a few years ago a Torontonian found a Canada sixpenny stamp of hoary vintage which he sold to a collector for $3,000. But old stamps are getting harder to find.

Will Modernize Slum Districts

LONDON, Sept. 6—(C.P.)—Back-to-back houses and slum basements are doomed if proposals made by Lord Moyn's Departmental Committee on Housing, are approved. The chief proposals are: Houses may be acquired on behalf of a public utility society which will repair, improve and manage them; formation of a strong Central Public Utility Council of not more than five, with payment on a part-time basis; power to local authorities to acquire compulsorily for reconditioning working-class houses which can be made fit for habitation for at least 20 years.

Management should be based on the Octavia Hill system, and wherever practicable women housing estate managers should be employed. Under the scheme started by Miss

Two New Jobs Created By New N.S. Government

HALIFAX, Sept. 7—(C.P.)—Nova Scotia's new cabinet arose last night after having traversed a wide range of subjects in the second meeting since its inauguration and action was announced on questions ranging from possible wider markets for Nova Scotian products in England to administration of the franchise act under the retiring government.

An announcement by the new Premier after the Cabinet dispersed late tonight said it had been decided to send two men to England shortly to seek markets for provincial products, particularly lumber and apples.

The appointments would be hastened, he said, in view of the fact there was at present no Canadian fruit commissioner in the old country. If in the meantime, however, the Federal Government appointed a fruit commissioner, the Province might send only one man to the old country, Mr. MacDonald declared.

The problem of marketing was dealt with further in a decision to proclaim the Nova Scotia marketing Act of 1933, which provides for the appointment of a marketing board. The board will be attached to the Department of Agriculture, which will later become known as the Department of Agriculture and Marketing.

Franchise Act

Turning attention to the Franchise Act, object of much criticism in the election campaign, the Cabinet determined upon an investigation into its administration during the campaign. The Premier's announcement said the investigation would focus chiefly upon "the conduct of certain returning officers, registrars and revising barristers in various parts of the province."

Another measure of the late government was dealt with also by the cabinet in bill 151, an act, never proclaimed, which gave the government power to restrict timber cuttings. In fulfillment of a pre-election pledge, the new government decided to introduce a repealing bill at the next session of the Legislature. "At the same time," it was stated, "the cabinet considered plans for the proper conservation of our forests."

Notice went out today that the duties of the present provincial fire ranger force would be discontinued on September 20. By this date, a new policy will have been placed in effect under which the present staff will be greatly reduced.

The new ranger system, Premier MacDonald declared tonight, would "cost the province considerably less than the present scheme, without impairing the protection against forest fires."

MEN FORGETFUL SEX

NEW YORK, September 6—"It's the men who leave their belongings behind them. They leave five times as many things when they check out as women do."

Miss Mollie Plitz, head of the lost and found department in a New York hotel, has been cataloguing Octavia Hill in 1664 working class property is transferred from a number of small private landlords to responsible public ownership for management, the basic principle being mutual obligation for responsibility between landlord and tenant.

the left-behinds of both sexes for some time now, and men, she says, "are awfully forgetful."
 "They leave shirts, neckties, pyjama tops, false teeth. They even leave bottles of gin. Not very good gin, usually. Once we found a quart of elegant cognac."
 Since the depression, Miss Plitz has noticed that men have started writing back to have their things forwarded. "Women always have sent for the things they left, but men never used to bother," she said.
 "The most unusual thing I ever knew that got left behind was a baby," said Y. A. Price, manager of another hotel. "However, the woman who left it also left the address of the husband from whom she was separated."

171 WOMEN TEACHERS "SACKED" IN HAMBURG

LONDON, Sept. 8—With the slogan "Woman's Place is the Home" the Nazi Senate of Hamburg has decreed a holocaust of married female teachers, says the Berlin correspondent of the London News-Chronicle.

No fewer than 103 teachers who had engagements for life with the Hamburg state and 69 temporary teachers have received notice of dismissal. The authorities have assured themselves that the dismissed teachers can be supported adequately by husbands, and it is explained to them that they will render the state more service by looking after husband, home and their own children than by doing public work which unemployed men can do just as well.

It is argued that many of the male teachers to be appointed in place of the women will be able to marry and to found homes, thereby contributing to the "more babies" effort which is so important an aspect of the Nazi domestic policy.

In the textile mills of Leipzig and district, too, a drive against married female labor is in full swing. Nazi works councils insisting that where a woman has a husband or brother to support her, she must return to the home in the interest of an unemployed man.

Poultry Barons Gather at Rome

ROME, Sept. 6—(C.P.)—The ancient market of Trajan, one of Rome's scenic highlights, will become a poultryman's paradise Sept. 6 to 15, with the opening of the Fifth World Congress of Poultry Farming.

The Congress will be held under the patronage of King Victor Emmanuel and is expected to bring together more than 1,500 delegates from more than 20 states and nations, including Canada.

Each section of the congressional work is being organized in advance, and Italian officials believe the various national committees will find the least possible delay in getting their work started.

The outstanding feature of the Congress will be the poultry show which officials say will be the most complete of its kind ever held. In it live fowls will vie with machine exhibits and detailed illustrations of all problems connected with the breeding, feeding, hygiene, organization and marketing of chickens.

Numerous excursions to the Macchese and Pontine marshes agricultural regions have been organized for the entertainment of the farmers during the Congress. After it closes the delegates will be grouped and conducted by Italian officials on tours across central and northern Italy where they will visit this country's principal farms.

Great Britain, the United States, Germany, Belgium, France, Denmark, Uruguay, the South African Union and the federated Malay states are among the countries which already have officially promised to send delegates and exhibits to the Congress.

MR. PETER MATHESON

The community in which Mr. Peter Matheson lived was very much shocked when it was learned that he had passed away on the morning of July 24th. Although he had been blind for many years he had enjoyed excellent health and had always been an unusually rugged man. But a day or two before he died he was taken seriously ill and despite all that could be done he passed away on the above date.

The funeral was held on the 26th and was conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. U. MacNevin, assisted by Rev. D. M. Sinclair of Valleyfield. The remains were laid away in the Valleyfield cemetery.

Mr. Matheson had been born in Valleyfield 76 years ago. From there he moved to Dover and then on to Milltown where he had lived for the last thirteen years. His wife passed away only a few months before him but the following children are left to cherish his memory: Malcolm and Elizabeth at home, and Catherine in the United States. The following brothers and sisters also remain, Angus, Mrs. Chas. McKinnon, Mrs. Jonathan McLeod, Mrs. Alex Bruce and Mrs. Robert Elliott. To the bereaved we convey our deepest sympathy.
