CLEMENCEAU HANDS GERMANY A WELL MERITED REPROOF

In Reply to Request for Favors for German Prisoners He Refers to Brutal Treatment During German Occupation and German Treachery and Declares "We Owe Nothing to Germany, Except Fulfilment of Peace Treaty."

(Special to The Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 26.—A wireless message from Berlin gives the text of a stern note from M. Clemenceau, President of the Peace Conference to the chairman of the German delegation to Versailles, refusing to deviate from the terms of the Peace Treaty in favor of German prisoners who are employed in the work of re-construction. Referring to the brutal treatment meted out to the population of this district under the German occupation, Clemenceau is quoted as saying: "The deepest sentiments of the human heart have been so cruelly injured that French public opinion cannot agree to grant the favor you request."

A NOVEL METHOD TO INDUCE IMMIGRATION TO CANADA

Prizes of $75, $50, and $25 Offered to Settlers in Each Province for Best Essay Detailing Their Successes in Farming.

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—The following resolution adopted by the Immigration Department has been passed: "Further, that the Department of Immigration and Colonization may have at its command authentic accounts of the experiences of successful settlers in various parts of Canada, it has been decided to offer cash prizes for letters or articles not exceeding two thousand words, written by settlers in each of the nine Canadian provinces. The articles will be judged by a committee appointed by Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, and should be mailed not later than February 14, 1920, to the Director for the Department. Three cash prizes will be given, one of $75, one of $50 and one of $25 in each of the nine provinces. It is explained that the competition is not a literary contest. The official announcement states that literary style, correct spelling etc., will not be essential, merely a letter story in your own words. It is believed that the procuring of a number of graphic and truthful stories of how success has been won from the soil in all parts of the Dominion will do much to encourage a future movement to Canada of the right class of settlers."

PREPARATIONS FOR FRESH OUTBREAK

Portuguese Monarchists Said to Be Awaiting Opportunity for Launching Their Effort.

LISBON, Portugal Nov. 25.—Every body knows that for some time past the Monarchists have been making their preparations for what appears to be a new uprising, and that they now only await a suitable opportunity for launching their effort. Whether such opportunity will be presented, or not remains to be seen, but the plotters are planning their faith on the Syndicalists and the Bolsheviki who seem to be going strongly for the time being and are said to be in possession of large supplies of money—in the paper of various countries. Items of Monarchist plot news are continually in circulation, and it is made to appear that the Royalists have of late been associating themselves closely with various political personages who were connected with Mr. Sidonio Paes. Royalist Schemes Confused. Most well-informed observers come to the conclusion that the Royalist scheme whatever it may be, is in a somewhat scattered and confused state. There have been various suggestions in recent times that Dom Manoel must be considered out of it, and that he actually is, disappointment being expressed that he did not make his appearance on the occasion of the rising in the north early in the year. The anti-Manoelists say that the deposed king has become listless and too fond of life in livelier countries than Portugal, and that what with one thing and another he finds it pays better in most respects to be off the throne than on it while at the same time they say it will not do to play tricks on the Portuguese people of sympathies such as were played at Royallist but of somewhat wavering sympathies such as were played at the beginning of the year when the most imaginative stories, strongly colored with romance, were circulated indicating in close detail how Dom Manoel in obedience to the call of the people had actually landed near Oporto. Story of Landing. One of the extreme variations as to what happened is that Dom Manoel had come to Portugal in a yacht escorted by British cruisers, and this was a favorite version indicating that the former king had the support and sympathy of the allied powers, which was everything. Nearly all versions agreed on the place in Portugal where he landed from a small boat at night being received by loyal and distinguished friends of the cause and departing thence by automobile. The story as presented was all ready for the films and could not have been better done. It was the kind of story that may have had something to do with the early successes of the Royalists. Recently it was stated with some show of definiteness that Dom Manoel had finally renounced all intention of prosecuting his claim to the Portuguese throne, but since then a denial of this has been issued. It is pointed out by some of his partisans that a moment's thought would give the true explanation of his non-appearance at the beginning of the year, in that he was then in England, and that he could only make a success of things if he had the assistance or sympathy of the allied powers, victorious as they were, especially England and Italy, which for various obvious reasons could not be given at that time or now either, that, as Dom Manoel personally and as a possible king had the sympathy of the Allies more than any other person and, as no Royalists endeavor could completely succeed unless it were to some extent supported by the said allies, Dom Manoel was the only man. This seems a fair argument, but it is hardly to be doubted that with the Allies more than any other person, if they count, Dom Manoel lost something through his absence on that occasion nearly a year ago.

IRISH HOME RULE BILL UNDER CONSIDERATION

Bill Will Be Ready for Submission to Parliament Shortly. Many Evidences That Bill Will be Acceptable to Irish. Sir Edward Carson Significantly Silent.

(Special to The Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 26.—A new Home Rule Bill, setting up two parliaments in Ireland with a council or senate of forty to be chosen by the two, will probably be introduced in Parliament within the next two weeks. Daily sessions are being held by the cabinet committee in charge of the measure, the subject under discussion at present being finance, which is in charge of a sub-committee under the chairmanship of J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Control of Customs has always been a point of sharpest difference when other Home Rule schemes have been debated and was one of the rocks upon which the Irish convention was shipwrecked. Control of police is another knotty point. The most hopeful sign of an agreement is the silence which Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, has preserved since the latest Irish kite was flown. Sir Edward has not issued any mandates to the Ulster volunteers "to keep their powder dry" while the presence of two hitherto staunch unionist leaders, Walter Hume Long and Baron Birkenhead on the committee shows that Ulster is tending towards conciliation. It is the supposition that there has been an understanding on the main points before the committee, and that, in fact there was a tacit agreement before the committee was named. The final word, however, does not rest with parliament, but with the Sinn Fein party. If that organization pursues its policy of refusing recognition of any British planned Irish Parliament it may come to nothing, since the Sinn Fein polled a majority of the Irish voters at the last election. Moderates, however, believe the Sinn Fein leaders may not be able to keep the mass of their followers in line against an offer of Home Rule, which promises to satisfy most of the ambitions of the old nationalist party.

STAGE SET FOR STRIKERS' TRIAL

(Special to The Guardian.) WINNIPEG, Nov. 24.—The stage is all set for the opening tomorrow of the actual trial of the eight Winnipeg strike leaders. All the preliminaries have been thrust away and at ten o'clock the men, including one minister and two alienists who face charges of a seditious conspiracy will take their places in the prisoner's box and listen to the recital of an indictment which takes up twenty-seven large pages of typewriting and the reading of which will take up almost an hour. Mr. Justice Metcalfe will preside.

(Special to The Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 26.—A bill introduced in the House of Commons today under which Viscount Astor would have been able to give up the title inherited from his father, the late Viscount (William Waldorf) Astor, was defeated by a vote of 169 to 55.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—An order issued by the Board of Commerce today fixes the margin of gross profit allowed to retailers of boots, shoes, rubbers overshoes, gaiters and other articles usually sold within retail establishments in Canada at 33.3 per cent. The order states that sales of any of these commodities in contravention of this order shall be deemed to bear an unfair profit. It is furthermore ordered that up to and including December 24, 1919, any person concerned, whether vendor or consumer, may apply in writing to the Board for any amendment or variation of the order, to have effect territorially or otherwise, but that, notwithstanding the terms of the order it shall have effect from today.

INTEREST REVIVES IN LONDON EXPO.

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—There is a growing local interest in the Canadian Industries Exhibition to be held in London, England, June 3rd to 17th next. The Royal Agricultural Hall has been secured giving the Canadian Industries Exhibition the second exhibition building in London and with a floor space of 60,000 square feet. It is located near the heart of the city and is particularly well adapted to exhibitions of the kind. A strong Canadian organization is behind the exhibition and prominent Torontonians are urging Canadians to take a prominent part in it. Exhibits of both raw materials and finished articles are asked for and particular stress is laid upon articles of Canadian manufacture which are particularly in great demand in Europe.

ENLARGED MARKET FOR CANADA WHEAT

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, when asked this afternoon what effect the removal of the United States embargo on wheat would have on Canada, stated it would simply mean an enlarged market for Canada wheat. Sir George said that all Canadian wheat for export was disposed of to the Canadian wheat board which acted as agent of the farmer in selling the wheat. It is the object of the board to sell to the best advantage and if the prices of the United States were higher the lifting of the embargo would afford an opportunity to obtain these higher prices no matter what the price paid to the farmer was in the first place. If his wheat sold for higher figures he got the difference, therefore an enlarged market with higher prices could not but prove beneficial to him.

ITALIAN KING WOULD ABDICATE

(Special to The Guardian.) ROME, Nov. 25.—Persons high in court circles declare that the King of Italy is desirous of abdicating. Recent political events, the growing strength of the extremists, combined with the entire royal family's wish to lead a quiet country life, all contribute to this desire. Prince Umberto evinces no ambition to undertake the burdens and responsibilities of kingship. On the other hand the king's cousin, the Duke Daosta, who married a Bourbon Princess is reported willing to step into the King's shoes.

GERMANY WILL START WAR AGAIN SAYS FIELD MARSHAL FOCH

This Statement Was Made in Connection With Disquieting Rumors from Germany Following Refusal of United States to Ratify Treaty. Foch Coming to United States to State Case of France.

(Special to The Guardian.) PARIS, Nov. 25.—Germany will start war again when she is able to do so. The military spirit of Germany is not dead; it will reawaken. This is the grave warning sent out by Marshal Foch in an exclusive interview. It comes at a time when disquieting reports are reaching Paris from Germany when the failure of the peace which was so dearly bought is being seriously imperilled by the action of the republican senators in Washington. The Marshal's measured and serious words are published in the form of the statement below. He speaks as a soldier and refused to comment on the work of politicians. There is little doubt that his remarks will be effective the world over in helping to bring political parties of all the Allied countries together in an endeavor to remain united and in the words of President Poincare to "reverse the treaty" and make the peace a lasting one. In answer to questions put to him Marshal Foch said "Yes I expect to go to America. I do not intend starting out immediately but perhaps in about two months time. I cannot tell how long I shall stay there. I shall go to enable France and explain some of our ideas to the Americans. For instance I shall explain to them that France was entitled to find in the peace real guarantees of its security, secured by the line of the Rhine instead of having only the protection of theories or leagues of an improbably stability. Believe me, people cannot dispense with barriers and every country has its own. Thus the United States of America has the protection of the Atlantic Ocean. Great Britain has the barrier of the North sea and the English Channel; we French have only one barrier, the Rhine; where the Rhine is there is our guarantee. I consider that the possession only of this line is the only thing to assure the safety of my country."

H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES HAS LEFT FOR ENGLAND

Spent Busy Day in Halifax Attending Different Functions and Paying Visits. His Farewell Messages.

(Special to The Guardian.) HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 26.—H. M. S. Renown with His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales on board, sailed for England at 3.15 this afternoon. His Royal Highness made an official landing at H. M. Dockyard at 10.45 today and was greeted with a royal salute from the guns at the Citadel. The Prince, who wore the uniform of a captain of the navy, was welcomed by Lieutenant Governor Grant, and inspected the military and naval guards of honor at the dockyard. From there, the Prince, accompanied by the Lieutenant Governor, proceeded by automobile to Citadel Hill, where he laid the corner stone of a monument to the Duke of Kent, who in 1803 gave Halifax the old town clock which is still standing. The Prince made a brief visit to the Childrens Hospital, the School for the Blind and the Halifax Ladies College. At 12.30 he returned to H. M. S. Renown to be the host at a luncheon to various city and provincial notables. As the Renown left the harbor she flew the Canadian Ensign at her mast head. The Navy League of Canada has received the following message through the Governor General from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, on his departure from Canada: "To the Navy League of Canada: I have been greatly pleased during my visit to Canada by evidence of the good work done by the Navy League of Canada for both the navy and the mercantile marine. I hope to see all your institutions flourishing on my next visit. Meanwhile please accept my best wishes and count on my warm interest in your work." (Signed) "Edward P." The Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce forwarded the following message on to Sir Lionel Halsey, H. M. S. Renown, Halifax, N. S., on the departure of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales. "The Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in bidding His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales farewell, venture to say nothing has occurred in recent years which has accomplished so much in spreading the imperial feeling as His Royal Highness's three months visit to Canada and it is the earnest hope that such visits in future may be more frequent." To this message the following reply has just been received from Admiral Halsey. "His Royal Highness appreciates telegram. Requests you will convey his thanks. His Royal Highness wishes all au revoir. His visit to Canada has been a most pleasant one."

Broadening of Connections of "Iron" Started

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—The first step towards the broadening out of the connections of the Dominion Steel Corporation culminated on Thursday afternoon, when the directors of the company accepted an offer from a prominent British syndicate for the sale of 50,000 shares of common stock at $70 a share. The syndicate represents leading steel, coal and shipping interests in England, with whom Canadian shipping interests such as Canada Steamship Lines and Vickers Ltd. are closely associated. The sale of these 50,000 shares in itself does not carry with it or suggest in any sense a controlling interest in the Steel Corporation, for these represent but ten per cent of the motive power. The authorized capitalization consists of $50,000,000.
