—or on Victoria Day—May 24—as the prime minister has given notice of a resolution to this effect on the order paper of the commons. The Premier's notice is taken as an admission that he does not expect parliament to prorogue before the first week of June. Both May 17 and 24 are civil holidays. It is probable that the House will sit on two Saturdays to make up.

Forty divorce bills got through the House last night. The bill for the purpose of enlarging the capital of the Bell Telephone Co. was held up for the reason that the official copy of the bill had been lost, although Church of Toronto and Dr. Edwards had fully intended to talk it out in the hour allotted to private bills.

Mr. Williams, head of the Navy League, and ex-parson, appeared before the committee of agriculture and colonization this morning. His principal suggestion was that an effort should be made to get ex-service men of the Navy whose terms were expiring within twelve months as settlers, and he read a letter from Admiral Beatty and assured them of the complete endorsement of the idea by the Earl of Jellicoe. The physical fitness of the men, their good morale, and sense of discipline would make them excellent farm help, their having in view the idea of becoming farmers themselves.

A new angle of what might be called the migration question was disclosed yesterday by a delegation from Quebec that waited on the Government, which presented a petition signed by 125,000 persons, asking that a railway rate of one cent a mile be established for persons travelling to Western Canada to take up settlement of land, that minors under 16 be carried free and that a campaign should be carried out in the United States and Eastern Canada showing the advantages of settling in Western Canada.

The spokesman was Father G. M. Bilgodeau, supported by a number of others. The delegation was received by Hon. Ernest LaPointe and other French ministers in the cabinet. Mr. La Pointe assured the delegation of earnest consideration of the representations made.

This afternoon when the House met the submission of two reports by committees was responsible for a good deal of discussion that occupied a great deal of it. The motion for the adoption of the report of the banking and commerce committee brought a lengthy dissertation from Mr. Woodsworth and a remonstrance against the report not reflecting the views of "the new economic group" to which he and some of the members of the progressives belong. No motion followed.

The report of the railway and shipping committee was objected to by the Hon. Mr. Bennett on the grounds that in respect of the methods of G. N. R. bookkeeping it did not reflect the views of conservative members of that committee. The accounts were not kept to show the true state of affairs and were not in accordance with the systems of other similar large corporations.

"Tommy" Church, Toronto, took occasion to make a full-time speech in which he criticized the Canadian National Railway, its president and directors, and all its works, often provoking roars of laughter by his caustic references. One of his charges was that of granting free transportation to newspaper men. In fact he referred to the railway as a "dead head" system of transportation.

This brought a protest and strong denial from the minister of railways who stated that both railways were governed by a strict law in regard to passes and from investigation of rumors of violation he had found them unfounded.

Mr. McQuarrie, New Westminster, made a sweeping and unjust statement about it being rumored that on occasions when something affecting railway interests was before the House, high officials were in the press gallery and if they wanted something not to appear, or something enhanced in their favor issued passes wholesale to the members. This appeared to have been inspired by statements appearing in the press about members of parliament having free transportation, cheap meals in the parliamentary restaurant and free stenographers.

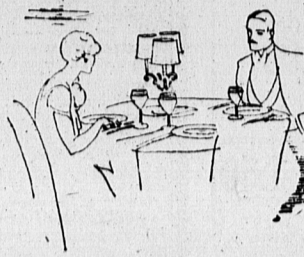

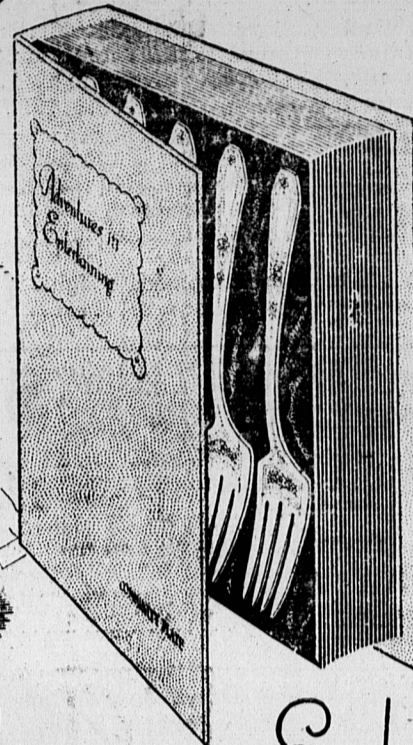

Some more rather irrelevant discussion occurred and the report was adopted.

Mr. Woodsworth complained that owing to the restrictions placed on the conduct of the House sufficient time was not allowed to discuss many measures, some of them being railroaded through upon their merits. He moved that these restrictions should be removed. The speaker ruled the motion out of order on the grounds that the Government had full control of the conduct of the House, and any such motion must come from the Government itself.

A member complained that the report of the fisheries commission had appeared in a Montreal paper several days ago, and asked that members be supplied with a printed copy, whereupon the leader of the opposition took occasion to say that this was the second time such a breach of House privilege had occurred and steps should be taken to prohibit it.

Something occurred which is rather rare in procedure of late years. On the third reading of the naturalization bill the Hon. Mr. Bennett moved the six months hoist. There were two reasons. One was that nothing had been disclosed to show that the changes in the present law were necessary or justified by instances of hardship or injustice. The other was that there was no uniformity in the procedure proposed for

PROCEEDINGS IN THE FEDERAL PARLIAMENT

PROCEEDINGS

(From our own Correspondent) OTTAWA, May 9.—As an aftermath of the delegation of last week to protest against the cancellation of orders-in-council to protect farmers against dumping, was a motion last night by the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, former minister of agriculture, before going into committee of supply, to the effect that the dumping duty on agricultural products be discussed.

After referring to the history of the dumping clause in 1907, and as amended and enforced since, and its beneficial effect, the member for Victoria, B. C., went on to say that the value of the dumping clause depended on its honest and steady enforcement. The effect of the cancellation of the operation of the dumping clause on March 28, had had a demoralizing effect and the matter should be dealt with immediately.

The seriousness of the situation had been indicated by a deputation which had waited upon the Government several weeks ago. Dr. Tolmie said. He then moved that in "the opinion of this House necessary action should be taken by the Government forthwith to effectively control the importation into Canada, either for sale or consumption, of natural products of a class or kind produced in Canada under conditions which prejudicially or injuriously affected or threaten to prejudicially or injuriously affect the interests of Canadian producers."

The Prime Minister stated, what is not borne out by facts, that the members of the delegation had come to Ottawa under a misapprehension, and had been somewhat surprised at what had actually taken place. The action still resided in the Governor-in-Council to fix values on goods coming into the country, something which he sought at great length to impress on the delegation, although it was only against the cancellation of orders against dumping that the protest was made, and in effect the same as if the dumping clause itself had been repealed, which, could only be effected by parliament.

Hon. W. D. Euler, who had not been sympathetic with the Prime Minister's remarks to the delegation stated that there was no request before the department for the application of the dumping clause which would necessitate action by the Governor-in-Council taking action.

Roeh Lanctot, Liberal member for La Prairie, declared himself in favor of a seasonal tariff for vegetables. He pictured the distressed local conditions as the result of Montreal market being flooded by American vegetables. The debate was adjourned at 11 o'clock, and will be resumed on the next occasion of the House going into committee of supply.
