Consideration Of Provinces' Views Re Migratory Birds

The following discussion between Mr. A. E. MacLean, M.P., and Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, took place in the House of Commons on April 5 with reference to the Migratory Birds Convention Act:

Mr. MacLean: Before the resolution carries I would ask the consent of the committee to revert to vote 206 dealing with the administration of the Migratory Birds Convention Act.

Some hon. Members: Carried.
Mr. MacLean: There are one or two matters I should like to bring to the attention of the minister. The treaty was entered into in 1919 and will expire this fall, but it is provided that it shall remain in force from year to year after that date or until notice is given by either party to determine it. The people of Prince Edward Island think that our American friends have been getting the best of the bargain, and that we are really preserving the birds in the marlins for their benefit. Two or three years in succession the provincial legislature has passed a resolution objecting to the renewal of the treaty without the province being consulted. One recital in the resolution states:

Whereas the said prohibition was enacted without receiving the assent of the government or the legislative assembly of the province of Prince Edward Island.

They refused to be a party to the treaty. Another recital states:

And whereas the government of the province was requested to enact a law confirming the provision of the said treaty and the federal legislation thereunder, which the government refused to do.

The government of Prince Edward Island has absolutely refused to be a party to this legislation. As the treaty expires this year, would the minister consult the three maritime provinces, particularly Prince Edward Island, to find out just what their objections are? Perhaps he could give us some information regarding the proposal he has in mind for continuing the treaty.

Mr. Murphy: I am not in a position to state that the provisions of this treaty are satisfactory in their entirety to any or all of the provinces. I think the hon. member will realize the difficulties that any government would be under in drafting a treaty or formulating regulations under it which would be satisfactory to each province. But I may say for his information that the provinces have been consulted in regard to the operations of this treaty, officers of this department being continually in touch with officials of the various game departments of the provinces. As for over twenty-five years I have been a sportsman myself, I feel I have some little knowledge with regard to this problem. I am quite convinced of the value of the treaty to the people of Canada and to Canadian sportsmen. From my knowledge of its workings I believe it is very important not only from that standpoint, but by reason of the provision it contains for the protection of insectivorous birds. The hon. member knows that insectivorous crops, both grain and vegetable as well as fruit, have been suffering from the ravages of insects, and it is most important that we protect our bird life, especially the insectivorous birds. That protection is one of the main items in the treaty and I do not at present intend to take any step to discontinue the treaty although I do not say that regulations drafted thereunder might not be amended from time to time to suit particular areas in different parts of the country.

Mr. MacLean: Has the department received a resolution passed by the legislature of Prince Edward Island in connection with this matter?

Mr. Murphy: Yes; a resolution has been received by the department from the Prince Edward Island legislature. I have called a conference to be held some time during the present month, to which officials and ministers from every province in the dominion have been invited in order that they may lay their views fully before the department and the government.

Mr. MacLean: That conference is in connection with the treaty?

Mr. Murphy: In connection with the operations of the treaty, yes.

Mr. MacLean: I am pleased to get that information from the minister, and I trust that the representations which have been made by the local legislature will be given consideration, and that they will be notified when the conference is called.

Mr. Cayley: There is no item here for assistance to Jack Miner in his splendid work, and I do not know whether it is the intention of the minister to see that some assistance is given him. Since, however, the minister has revealed the fact that he is an ardent sportsman, I am sure that the work that Jack Miner is doing in western Ontario will appeal to him, and that he will do what he can to have the small amount of $2,500 which Mr. Miner is asking for included in the supplementary estimates.

Mr. Murphy: This item, I am informed, has always been included in a special vote in the supplementary miscellaneous.

Mixed Marriages

MONTREAL, Que., April 9.—Bishop J. C. Farthing's criticism of mixed marriage annulments by Montreal judges was "entirely wrong and regrettable," said Lyon W. Jacobs, K.C., today. Mr. Jacobs, who was attorney for the plaintiff in the case chosen by the Bishop to illustrate his contention, referred to statements made by Bishop Farthing in his charge to the 73rd annual meeting of the Synod of the Anglican diocese of Montreal.

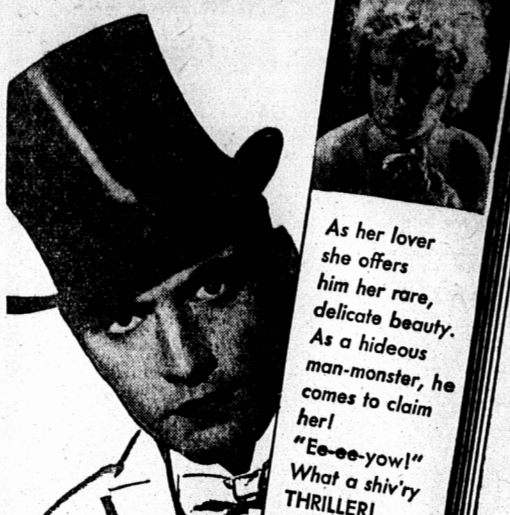

The Bishop cited a recent judgment of the Superior Court in which a marriage between a Protestant and a Roman Catholic, solemnized by an Anglican minister, was annulled on the ground that marriages between Protestants and Catholics were prohibited according to law unless there was a dispensation and that the defendant, a Catholic, falsely represented himself to the plaintiff, a Protestant, as being a Protestant. This, Bishop Farthing stated, was in spite of the fact that the Privy Council emphatically stated that a marriage is valid if the officiant is one who is authorized by the law of the province to solemnize marriages.

"The marriage was annulled on one ground only, namely error as to the person of the husband in the matter of his religious persuasion," Mr. Jacobs stated today, adding that "the judgment was properly rendered under article 148 of the Civil Code and did not invoke a new ground of nullity." Mr. Jacobs cited annulment of a marriage under similar circumstances in 1922. "Mr. Justice Coderre, the then presiding judge," said Mr. Jacobs, "decided that error as to religion and nationality of one of the parties was a cause of nullity. He referred to twelve others,

CHURCH SERVICES

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

A series of sermons on "The Seven Churches" was opened yesterday morning by the Rev. A. C. Vincent, who took as the theme of the morning "The Church at Ephesus." The ministers, many of the opportunity of the Church of Jesus Christ nearly 1900 years ago are repeated in the Church of this day. We may be inspired by their successes, led by their example, warned by their failures and mistakes. He who sends forth the message to the church at Ephesus is an affectionate, understanding critic who sees the good, but is not blind to the weaknesses of his group. "I know thy works," Ephesus was a diligent church, it was no "Sinner's Rest." It sought sinners as well as sustained saints, enthusiastic, vital, sound in faith, warm in heart, vividly wide awake, truly in this respect a model for us all. "Thou canst not hear evil men," Ephesus was a church of high ethical standard. Its membership was expected and presumed to be Christ in an act as well as in name. "Didst try them which call themselves apostles," Ephesus looked to the faith of those who would be its ministers. It was concerned for the truth. The gospel of Jesus who died for all and rose again was the message they loved and looked for. There are some things about which there are questions, there are some that are eternally true and for these things Ephesus stood. "Somewhat against thee, thou hast left thy first love," one sorrowful, tender rebuke. Christ saw not only sin in its concrete expression, he saw the potential danger of a loss of love while even the daily observers of the Church discerned no difference he sees and warns. "Remember—Repent—Return" says he to Ephesus and he says it to his church today. At the close of the morning service ten who had been recently received by baptism or church letter were officially received into membership.

The evening sermon "What think ye of Christ?" an eloquent and powerful appeal was delivered to a large congregation.

The Sunday School meeting as usual at 2:30 p. m. had another day of large attendance and much interest. The Minister called attention to the fact that the attendance for the quarter ending with the last Sunday in March had shown a large increase over the record for many years. The organization of a young peoples society, with a large attendance at the opening gathering, was reported.

In the music of the day was included Oley Speaks' anthem "More love to Thee." Slander's "God so loved the world." Wood's "The twilight shadows fall." In the absence from the city of the organist, Mrs. Full, Miss Margaret Stentford presided most acceptably in this position.

Y. M. C. A. SERVICE OF SONG

The regular weekly after church service was held in the Central Christian Church last evening with nearly 400 people in attendance. Rev. Dr. A. C. Vincent was the speaker of the evening, he took for his text "Abraham went out not knowing whither he went." Abraham made the great adventure. Dr. Vincent said all the world loved an adventurer and in his address which was a most stirring and inspiring one, he told many narratives of men of adventure in old testament times and up to the present century. At the close of his address Dr. Vincent extended the hearty thanks of all those present by the chairman Mr. Chester Stewart.

The musical numbers consisted of a solo "Just For Today" by Miss Nan McKay and a duet "I know my Saviour cares," Mrs. McLure and Miss Wyand. Both numbers were accompanied by Miss Helen Duchemin organist at Central Christian Church and were very well received.

Rev. W. L. Outhouse assisted the chairman and led in the prayers. The service next week will be held in Heartz Hall.

Canadians Honored By King Of Siam

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 9.—And now romance appears to have been hit by depression. At least ninety-six widows, many with bewitching eyes and enchanting smiles, found it so on a four months' trip around the world, for they returned today on the liner Empress of Britain as unmarried as on the day they left.

Eighty bachelors, hugh! said they. There weren't any. Most, thrilled of all passengers aboard the liner, perhaps, were Col. Philip Moore, President of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, his wife and daughter, 18. They were greeted on the vessel's arrival at Bangkok, Siam, by emissaries of the King and Queen and were invited to the Royal palace for tea.

On the journey of the Siamese King through Western Canada last summer, Col. Moore initiated him into the Trail Riders by escorting him on a 100-mile ride through the Rockies. The Queen was guided through a 50-mile ride to full membership in the Trail Riders by Mrs. Moore's brother, Jim Brewster. Herman Treile, "world wheat king" of Wembley, Alta., was also among the returning passengers.

Wheat Production Will Be Lowered

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.—Production of the great winter plant operated by farmers in the United States may be cut nearly in half this year.

This was forecast today by the Agriculture Department in reporting the condition of winter wheat on April 1 at 75.8 per cent of normal due to unfavorable weather. The estimated 1932 crop of 485,000,000 bushels is 42 per cent below last year's bumper production of 787,000,000 and is the smallest since 1917, with the exception of the 1928 harvest.

Farmers themselves sliced 10 per cent off their acreage last fall—answering in part the oft-repeated urgings of the farm board and the Agriculture Department that production be curtailed until the long culminating surplus could be disposed.

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

DELAYED—Engine trouble caused the Borden train to remain at Hunter River on Saturday evening until a relief train was sent from Charlottetown. The stalled train was brought to the City, after a delay of about two hours.

RETURNING TO COAST—Mrs. E. A. Heim, formerly of Toronto and now of Vancouver and her three children leave this morning on return to their new home after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Ross, city. Mr. Ross will accompany his daughter as far as Sackville.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY—The funeral of the late Mrs. Martha A. Lawson, widow of the late Thomas H. Lawson, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the McLean Funeral Home. Interment was made at the People's Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Murdock Ross, Preston McLean, Ernest Coffin, E. G. Love, Henry Callbeck and Peter McDonald. Rev. G. C. Webster officiated.

The Gibb Report

(Canadian Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 10.—Comment on the report of Sir Alexander Gibb, insofar as it relates to Vancouver and this coast, is generally reserved by shipping men who prefer to voice no opinions until shipping and trade organizations have received and studied the complete report.

However, there is a general feeling of satisfaction and an undercurrent of approval toward recommendations for unification of port interests in this area, and the appointment of an honorary advisory committee.

Executives of the Shipping Federation of British Columbia and of the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping will take the report under consideration immediately after it is received here this week, and will report as soon as possible.

It is understood that in a general way the report of Sir Alexander Gibb follows recommendations suggested by Vancouver shipping and business interests in many regards, but there is a generally expressed desire to lean on what the investigator bases his criticism of port charges. This is a matter which has long agitated shipping interests, and the feeling that costs are unequally distributed has often been voiced.

It has been publicly declared that the total port costs of a ship to Vancouver are not more than at the cheapest Pacific coast port of United States. This statement, while never challenged, has never been positively settled, and it is felt it will be the matter up so definitely.

For years leading shipping interests have urged that the harbor board have an honorary body, consisting of men versed in actual port business, to act in an advisory capacity, and the actual work of administration left to a superintendent or manager. Sir Alexander Gibb has apparently arrived at this conclusion himself, after careful investigation, and suggested that it be adopted in all parts of Canada.

Maintenance Of Way Employees Take Cut

MONTREAL, Que., April 9.—(By The Canadian Press)—Some 35,000 maintenance of way employees today were added to the thousands of other Canadian and United States railwaymen who have accepted cuts in pay, amounting to 10 per cent, for one year. It is estimated that 72,000 Canadian railwaymen have been affected this year by such reductions.

Today's agreement will remain in effect from May 1, 1932, to April 30, 1933. It concerns employees on maintenance of way of the Canadian Pacific; Canadian National; Quebec Central; Dominion and Atlantic; Esquimault and Nanaimo; Northern Alberta; Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railways.

Aviator Will Not Be Disfigured

WORCESTER, Mass., April 9.—Captain Frank M. Hawks' disfigurement from facial injuries received in a crash at the Worcester airport in North Grafton Thursday morning will be negligible, surgeons announced tonight after a consultation at City hospital. This announcement followed an examination by Dr. Varstead H. Kazanjian, famous plastic surgeon.

Captain Hawks was recovered from the effects of the crack-up to a point where he took an interest in events about him.

Dr. Kazanjian said Hawks' injuries were "largely superficial, though severe."

Motorcar Driver Kills Patrolman

BIDDEFORD, Maine, April 9.—Patrolman Honor DeRemble was shot to death here late today by unidentified occupants of a motor car as he rode on the running board of the machine. His slayers escaped.

Dutremble, a night patrolman for four years, was the father of 12 children. Police believed the officer had picked up the occupants on the suspicion of driving a stolen car and was accompanying them to headquarters for questioning when he was slain.

ARREST MADE

PORTLAND, Maine, April 9.—A man who refused to identify himself to police was arrested here tonight for questioning in connection with the slaying of Honor DeRemble, Biddeford patrolman, in that city late today.

He was taken to headquarters after he abandoned a motor car following a police chase through city streets. Authorities said the car had been stolen.

Canadian Swimmers Set New Record

MONTREAL, Que., April 9.—Alec T. Hapke, Yale, and P. Munroe Bourne, McGill, Olympic timber in their respective countries, set a new Canadian record for the 100 yards free style swim in the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association pool here tonight. They swam a dead heat in 53 3/8 seconds, four-fifths of a second better than the old mark held by Bourne, former Olympic swimmer. M.A.A.A.'s team won the Canad 400 yard relay championship edging out McGill and Columbus in 3:59 4/5, about three seconds slower than the record.

Only one tariff resolution is included in the budget in view of the approach of the July conference, and this resolution merely extends for another year the special lower duties introduced in the budget of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett last session on repair parts to farm implements.

Consideration of main estimates for the fiscal year 1932-33 are well advanced too, although there are a few matters still which may invoke some discussion.

N. B. TAX HIGHEST

New Brunswick is reported as having the highest amusement tax in the world. The revised schedule calls for one cent on all up to 25 cents, three on 25 to 35, four on 35 to 40, and one cent additional for each ten cents or fraction of it, with five cents on "comps." The tax applies to plays, pictures, dances, wrestling, hockey, prize fights and concerts.

Squires Back In St. Johns

No suggestion that the committee sought the government's resignation was made at this meeting. The one object, it was stated, was to secure an investigation into the charges of falsified minutes, made originally by Hon. Peter Cashin on his retirement from the Ministry in February. Delay in admitting to the Assembly a deputation to seek such an investigation was the immediate cause of Tuesday's disorders, which gave rise to reports of the Government's imminent resignation.

Further steps looking toward a complete probe are now under consideration by the citizens committee.

Previously, the matter of enquiring into the Cashin charges had been turned over to the Governor on an amendment sponsored by Sir Richard Squires, the amendment killing a motion by F. O. Alderice, opposition leader, for investigation by a parliamentary committee.

Reporting to the House on March 22, the Governor stated that no evidence of irregularity had come to his notice. The conduct of public business would be impossible if minutes of council could be called in question by government members after they had been confirmed by the Ministers themselves.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN J. CURRIE

The passing from this life on March 3rd, to the life beyond of the late John J. Currie, leaves a blank in the vicinity of Fairview and adjoining districts which will be greatly missed. There are times when death seems a stern messenger, whose dread summons comes perhaps, most unexpectedly, to one whom we would deem indispensable to his home or to his community, at such times we can but bow our heads and admit humbly that God's ways are not our ways, but that somehow he must know best, at other times death appears more like an angel of peace summoning to their eternal home, souls whose work on earth is ended. Mr. Currie possessed all the qualities that made an ideal citizen, true friend, and neighbor, a kind husband and father, always took an interest in the welfare of his church and community. Mr. Currie having felt the loss of his two sons, who preceded him three years ago, when he took ill and on the above mentioned date, he passed peacefully away fortified by the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church.

He leaves to mourn a loving wife and seven daughters, namely: Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. James Cavanaugh, Mrs. Richard Kappal, Mrs. August Frank, Stella and Lillian, of Brighton, Mass. Miss Selma at home, also two sisters, Mrs. Mary E. King, Rocky Point; Mrs. Ambrose Barry, Morell; and one brother Peter, of Rice Point. The numerous Mass cards and spiritual offerings and letters of sympathy received by the family bear testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. A beautiful floral wreath was sent by the members of the Women's Institute of Fairview.

The funeral, to South Shore Church, was largely attended, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Monsignor McDonald, after which the remains were laid to rest. The pall bearers were: Mr. Edward Currie, Mr. Michael Murphy, Mr. Hugh McPhee, Mr. Stanislaus Dolron, Mr. Joseph Doyle, Mr. Frank Smith.

in their hunt for the kidnapped Lindbergh baby and his abductors following announcement in behalf of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh last night that he had paid a ransom of $50,000 but the baby had not been returned.

NORFOLK, Va., April 10.—(A.P.)—John Hughes Curtis, member of the Norfolk trio seeking the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, left here in a navy plane for a conference with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

There were indications that Curtis might also endeavor to interview the kidnapers on his trip, but his associate, the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, former Canadian rector, refused to confirm this.

The Real Abductors

TRENTON, N. J., April 10.—(A.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh tonight authorized a statement that means of identification set forth in the original note left in the nursery of his kidnapped son had been used to satisfy him that the persons to whom he paid $50,000 ransom were the real kidnapers.

Alfred E. Smith Would Accept Nomination

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 9.—Alfred E. Smith stated vigorously today he will accept the Democratic United States presidential nomination if it is tendered to him.

In equally emphatic terms he denied what he called a "whispering campaign" that he is being used as a "talking horse" to help or hinder some other candidate.

"That is a role I never played and never will" he said.

He also made it clear he "certainly welcomes" the support of his friends and called it an "absurdity" for anyone to state he would repudiate the action of those seeking convention delegates pledged to him.

Want Men More Like The Peacock

CHICAGO, Ill., April 9.—If more men would only get the idea in his head that he should be more like the peacock, he'd be better off, in the opinion of Raymond Twyford of New York. And Mr. Twyford should know something about it because he's chairman of the style committee of the U. S. National Association of Merchant Tailors.

With a garden in the button-hole of his director's suit, Mr. Twyford, here on business, grew philosophical as he talked about what the well dressed man should wear. He drew on the birds and the beasts to illustrate, pointing out that in nature it is the vigorous male animal who has the glossiest coat and the male peacock whose plumes are the brightest.

"The merchant tailoring business," he said, "is a philosophy. We must show men how to get the fullest enjoyment out of life by dressing for every occasion. First of all we must break down the superstition that stylish dress for men is effeminate. This has done more to imprison the true masculine spirit than anything else."

of J. T. Haig, member of the Manitoba Legislature for Winnipeg. When N. V. Bachynsky, member for Fisher, told the House yesterday girls know a great deal about smoking and very little about sewing, Mr. Haig objected.

Mr. Bachynsky had said: "The modern girl has to go to the store for her clothes."

Most girls, of 14 years of age, replied Mr. Haig, can make dresses so expertly they are hardly distinguishable to the casual eye from the best that can be bought in the smartest shops.
