QUEBEC BOASTS A BIG SURPLUS

Half Million to Good this Year. Editor Fournier's Appeal was Dismissed.

MONTREAL, June 29—(Special)—Hon. Mr. Weir, Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, after the meeting of the cabinet today, stated that although the figures for the fiscal year are not quite complete, the Province would have a surplus of about $500,000.

Last year the surplus was greatly increased by the Federal subsidy for which there had been no previous disposition made, and the surplus was over a million.

QUEBEC, June 28.—(Special)—Justices Carroll and Lavergne today rendered a decision on the matter of the habeas corpus of Fournier, Editor of Le Nationaliste, who was condemned to three months incarceration for contempt of Court.

Judge Carroll and Lavergne decided to dismiss the petition in favor of the prisoner.

TWO MINISTERS RESIGN

LONDON, June 27—The resignations of two members of the Government were announced last night. Ostensibly they were handed in on account of ill-health, but it is alleged they were due partly to the disapproval of the budget. Lord Fitzmaurice, as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, is succeeded by Herbert Louis Samuel. Under Secretary for Home Affairs, who thus is promoted to Cabinet rank, and Thomas R. Buchanan, Parliamentary Secretary to the Indian Office, is succeeded by the Master of Elibank, Alexander William Charles Oliphant Murray.

JOHN BURNS WANTS PURE MILK SUPPLY

LONDON, June 27—So active has John Burns become as an anti-tuberculosis campaigner and watchdog of the food supplies of theBritish public that he has been dubbed the "minister of health." His new milk bill, which is attracting great attention, aims to save the children of the poor from germ-infected milk. It permits sanitary authorities in urban areas where the population exceeds 50,000 to establish depots, and provides that the plants shall be regularly examined and the homes of the persons supplied with the milk visited. The measure is regarded as drastic and yet reasonable. It adds a considerable burden to the rates, but not a greater one than is generally believed to be justified.

So great are the powers conferred by the bill that the dairy farmers are confronted by a revolutionary change in their practice. They are much concerned since a person twice convicted is liable to be inhibited from continuing in the business. The general public views the outlook with keen satisfaction. The pure milk depots, already tried to some extent in England, have proved a remarkable success. In Liverpool the children fed on milk from the depots died at the rate of 78 per 1,000, against 159 for the whole city, or 212 in the worst district, this figure including those fed by the mothers. In the borough of Lambeth, London, the death rate among children fed on milk from the depot was 58 per 1,000, against 134 for the entire borough, 187 for one of the worst quarters and 272 for part of another. Thus the estimated saving of life was from 97 to 182 per 1,000.

The depots to be established will be maintained by the boroughs. The milk will be specially prepared for infants under two years old. The local government board is authorized to make regulations almost exhaustively detailed for the purchase of milk, for safeguarding its character and quality for fixing the price and, generally speaking, for doing all that is essential to provide for the sustenance of the children concerned and for obtaining and recording information as to the results which follow its consumption.

The bill surpasses all previous English legislation as regards effective registration, the inspection of dairies and dairy cows and the careful regulation of imported milk. Full powers of inspection are conferred on medical officers of health.

EXTREME HEAT IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, June 28—The six hottest consecutive days in June ever recorded by the Boston Weather Bureau, came to an end last night with a cool east wind.

The six days' heat, when the mercury soared from 90 to 97, resulted in 13 death and 175 prostrations in Boston City, while hundreds of men, women and children were forced to sleep in public parks and even on the bridges over rivers.

MILITIA ORDERS REGARDING CHILDREN

OTTAWA, June 27—Militia orders issued to-day contain this somewhat cryptic notification: "No child under 14 years of age will be admitted to any part of the liquor bar, but any children resident in the premises may be allowed to pass through the liquor bar when there is no other convenient means of access or egress from that part of the premises where the child resides."

HE SEEKS TRADE WITH CHINA

MONTREAL, June 27—China's first consul-general to Canada arrived in Montreal recently on his way to Ottawa, in the person of Mr. Kung Hsin Chao, who, with his suite, has come to Canada via London, to look after the commercial relations between Canada and the Celestial empire. This is the first time that China has entered upon consular relations with the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Kung was received at Montreal by a large deputation from the Chinese colony here, and was given a warm reception.

The new Chinese consul-general speaks little English. He, however, is accompanied by an English-speaking secretary, Mr. Siao, and a Chinese secretary. In an interview, Mr. Kung stated that China was going through a period of commercial, social and industrial reform, and recognized that Canada was rapidly becoming an important commercial country, so that it was desirable to enter upon consular relations. He said he hoped that trade between the two countries would develop to such an extent that ere long the Canadian government would send commercial agents to China, as it had to various other countries.

China, he said, was taking large quantities of wheat, flour and lumber from the United States, and there was no reason why Canada should not take its share of this trade, while in return it could import tea and other manufactured products from China.

CHIEF ENGINEER HAS RESIGNED

Hugh Lumsden Resigns High Position for Reasons Not Made Public.

OTTAWA, June 28—(Special)—Hugh Lumsden, Chief Engineer of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, has tendered his resignation to the Governmen.

The cause has not been made public.

MOOSE TROUBLES GOLF PLAYERS

MONCTON, N. B., June 27—A moose which is in the habit of feeding in the vicinity of the Moncton Golf Club links, one mile west of the city, created some excitement Saturday afternoon by taking the unusual liberty of roaming over the course while some twenty golfers, including ladies, were playing. The animal got started from its usual haunts by dogs and ran through the fields into the city. Then it doubled back and passed down over the golf links, paying no attention whatever to the golfers who were scattered all over the field. It passed over a corner of one green where two ladies were playing before its approach was noticed and at another point ran so close to one of the gentlemen golfers that he could reach it with his stick.

In descending a steep hill on the links the moose fell and was so exhausted from the dogs chasing it that it lay five minutes surrounded by golfers while a caddy more daring than the others, approached and put a hand on its head. Eventually the animal leisurely arose and walked off in the direction of the woods.

GEORGE WOODWORTH INJURED AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., June 27—George Woodworth, of the Wanderers base ball team, formerly of the St. John Marathons, had his right leg fractured in two places on Saturday afternoon in a game with the Phoenix. Woodworth was running from first to second base and was in the act of jumping on the bag when he slipped and fell. The game was postponed and the injured man was conveyed to the hospital.

DEGREES FOR PROVINCIAL STUDENTS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 28—At today's meeting of the faculties of Harvard University, the names of the winners of degrees to be conferred at the annual convocation tomorrow were announced. Ten Canadians—the largest number of Canadians in the history of the University—receive degrees in the various departments. Among the number are several from the Maritime Provinces including three from Prince Edward Island.

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy was conferred by the Department of English in the Graduate School, on Cyrus McMillan, of Charlottetown, a graduate of McGill. His research work was on the "Ballads and Folk Talks of Canada, and their relations to those of Europe." The degree of Doctor of Philosophy was also conferred by the Department of Comparative Literature on William F. McNeill, now of Maine, but a native of Lower Montague, P. E. Island, and a graduate of Harvard. His research work was on "The History and Development of the Romantic Drama." Mr. McNeill goes to the English Department of Queen's University and Mr. McMillan to that of McGill.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws was conferred on G. Roy Long, of Tyne Valley, and the degree of Master of Arts on George Steel, of Bedeque. Among other Canadians receiving degrees is W. L. McKenzie King, Minister of Labor in the Laurier Cabinet, who receives his Ph. D., from the department of Political Science. He completed the work for this degree ten years ago, but only recently passed his final oral examinations. His research work was on "The Influences of Oriental Immigration to Canada and the United States."

AMHERST PLANT REPORTED SOLD

Rhodes Curry Shops May Go to Ontario Men Who Will Enlarge Them.

SACKVILLE, June 28—(Special)—It is reported here that the negotiations for the purchase of the business and plant of Rhodes, Curry & Company, Limited, by Upper Canadian capitalists has been brought to completion.

The men whose names are mentioned in connection with the new company are Montrealers, though there is a report to the effect that the Canadian Northern is seeking to acquire the plant.

The Upper Canadian people have planned on extending the plant considerably, probably with the addition of locomotive-making shops and facilities.

N. Currie, the present chief, will remain with the new company for several years if the deal is carried through.

SPEAK KINDLY

He was released the other day from a Canadian penitentiary. The prison pallor, that hesitating way, that only those who have seen or felt, can ever know, had stamped itself upon him.

Poor fellow, if he were the only one—but there are thousands just such as he not yet released, but in durance truly vile.

Just the other day he passed through our city, and shared the seat with me on a Grand Trunk train that was heading west.

He apologized as he sat down. His clothes were new, his shoes were new. His whole appearance was new. We chatted as the cars went on, and he told me his story.

He was an ex-convict and captured with a pal while cracking a safe. He was wounded in the chase. Not caught red handed, his mate turned State evidence and got off free.

He went down for ten years.

"See those hands," he said.

They were calloused.

"See these clothes, these shoes, this outfit and $10 is all I got for ten years work."

He told me his history more fully.

He has been well educated, but had no trade, and when he left Branford, England, for Canada, he fell to the level of those who were criminals.

He was caught in a petty theft at first, and received a short sentence, but lapsed, got caught, and served a year in prison, and there became acquainted with a cracksman.

He came out with a firm resolve to be an honest man.

He couldn't get work.

"References please, where did you work last?"

Now, prison wardens are not very fine references, and the ex-convict tramped about in vain, till at last, feeling that there was no avenue for an existence by honest toil, he joined his jail bird friend.

So they planned, they two, the cracksman and he who sat in the seat beside me.

They planned and failed, the combination of the safe was wrecked, and the door fell out, but there was yet the inner vault, and alarmed, they got no swag.

His friend who went state's evidence escaped with a light sentence. He got ten years.

"There's hope now, you-re not old," I said.

"Thirty-four," he replied, "but what have I got? I'm a criminal, and my face is in every rouge's gallery in America. I've no hopes, the old world's against me."

I tried to encourage him, but 'twas like talking to the dead. He was cold, impassive.

I neared my station and giving his hard hand as warm a pressure as I could, I said "Good luck, old man, keep your courage up and you'll win out yet."

In that moment his face lit up, his voice softed and his whole being changed, as he answered, "My God, it's 10 years since any one has shaken hands with me."

Man may be discouraged, may have sunk till he has scarcely enough clothes to flag a train, but let some one speak kindly, and life takes on new meaning, and he will resolve again.—C. F. R., in Toronto News.

KIPLING'S POEM CITY OF BRASS

Is Pessimistic And Opposed to Present Government's Various Policies.

NEW YORK, June 28—(Special)—Rudyard Kipling has just written another political poem.

This time it is a long pessimistic contribution to the Morning Post, an organ of the Tories.

It is entitled "A City Of Brass" and is an attack upon the present policies of the Liberal Government.

Kipling apparently sees the ruin of England because the Asquith Government caters to the masses instead of to the traditional classes.

JOHN D. JR. TAKES H. H. ROGERS' PLACE

NEW YORK, June 27—The presence of John D. Rockefeller at a meeting of the directors of the Standard Oil Company yesterday led to a report in the financial district that the board had taken up for consideration a plan to increase the capital stock of the company and distribute the enormous surplus which had been piled up for a quarter of a century. It turned out that the meeting had no such significance.

The elder Rockefeller had come to town, to be present at the election of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to succeed the late Henry H. Rogers as vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Young Mr. Rockefeller has been in training for many years for a responsible position in the company which his father created, and the elder Rockefeller braved the heat to witness the promotion of his son to this coveted office.

James A. Moffett was also elected a vice-president, to succeed the late W. H. Tilford, and the four vice-presidents are now William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, James A. Moffett and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., retains the presidency of the company, but he has not been active for seven years.

SPECIAL SERVICES BY DR. ELLIOTT

TWO CHINAMEN MADE A MISTAKE

Rode Into Calais, Maine and Were Arrested. An Unfortunate's Rash Act.

ST. STEPHEN, June 28—(Special)—Two Chinamen who conducted a laundry here for some time ventured on a car-ride that took them into Calais.

The sharp-eyed immigration officers arrested them for infringing the immigration laws and they were hustled off to Bangor.

Considerable annoyance is felt here over what appears to be rather sharp practice.

A Calais woman, Etta Dinsmore, arrested on Sunday for consorting with the men in Milltown, was placed in the Calais lockup.

During Sunday night she committed suicide by hanging with a strip torn from the mattress in her cell.

HON. ARTHUR BOYER GOES TO SENATE

OTTAWA, June 27—Hon. Arthur Boyer, of Montreal, has been named Senator, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Thibaudeau. It is understood that there was not an application to the Government on behalf of any one for this Senatorship. The honor goes to Hon. Mr. Boyer entirely unsolicited.

It is worthy of note that the last Senator appointed, Dansauiles, received his appointment without solicitation, and it was a complete surprise to him when he received word of his appointment.

BOSTON PARKS OPEN FOR SLEEPERS

BOSTON, June 26—The third successive heat added a fifth and sixth fatality to the total of the sun's victims today, while twenty-seven persons were treated for heat prostration at the various hospitals of greater Boston.

Today's dead are Miss Catherine Head, 35 years old, of 213 E street, South Boston, who was overcome near her home early in the day and died at the Carney Hospital. The second victim was Michael J. Murray, 42 of 37 Portland street, who collapsed on Causeway street and died at the Relief Hospital.

As last year, the parks of the city were opened to those who cared to sleep in them.

The official maximum temperature in Boston today was 90 degrees, somewhat lower than yesterday, but the additional moisture in the atmosphere caused greater discomfort.

JEWELLERS' EMPLOYES GET HALF HOLIDAYS

We, the undersigned watchmakers and jewelers in this City of Charlottetown hereby agree to close our places of business on each Monday at one o'clock p. m., commencing with July 5th and ending August 30th, both dates inclusive.

Signed, E. W. Taylor, W. W. Wellner, G. H. Taylor, W. N. Tanton, G. F. Hutcheson, C. W. Patterson.

We, the undersigned, on behalf of the employees in the watchmaking and jewellrey establishments, tender our sincere thanks, to our employers for granting our request for the "Monday Half-Holiday."

Signed, Earnest Trainor, Hector C. Macmillan.

BELLE ISLE FULL OF ICE.

NORTH SYDNEY, June 28—Capt. Bonnell, who went as pilot on the steamer Minto to the Marconi stations down the Straits of Belle Isle, has returned and reports the Straits still blocked with ice.

The Minto went as far as Belle Isle and had difficulty in forcing her way through the ice at the northern end of the Straits and hundreds of immense bergs were met.

Capt Bonnell states that he has never seen such quantities of ice at this season. It will be at least a month before the Belle Isle route is available for the transatlantic steamers.

14-YEAR GIRL IN LONG BATTLE KILLS SNAKE

WILKES—BARRE, Pa., June 27—After a battle lasting half an hour with a seven foot six inch blacksnake, 14-year-old Jennie Jenkins, of Edwardsville, killed the reptile.

She discovered the snake in the yard of the family's cottage at Harvey's lake and attacked it with a stick. The snake fought back, and the girl for a long time had difficulty in avoiding it, and at the end of half an hour had so crippled it that she was able to end the fight.

A few hours later some neighbors and Miss Jenkins found the dead snake's mate and killed it also. It was six feet eight inches long.

WOMAN FOUND IN BURNING BUILDING

PATERSON, N. J., June 27—Bound hand and foot, an unconscious woman was found today in a burning building from which she was rescued with difficulty. The fire was in a haberdashery store owned by the woman's husband Meyer Rosenbloom, at Sixth Avenue and River street, and Rosenbloom was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct as a result of investigations by the police.

When the woman, who was slightly burned about the arms and shoulders, and bore a bruise over one eye, was revived at the general hospital, she said that she had been attacked by a man who told her he was a policeman. He struck her over the eye, she says, and then bound her with a clothes line, which confined her feet and arms and was then bound about her forehead. Then he threw a sack over her head and she lost consciousness.

Investigation tended to show that Rosenbloom was at home a half hour before the fire was discovered. His little daughter, Annie, says that her father told her to wait for him in the street, and that after remaining in the house for some time he came out and they started for the Juvenile Court, where the child was in some difficulty. Rosenbloom said that he thought the fire must be the work of thieves, and that he had found a blaze on the night previous in the rear of the store, but had not thought it worth while to notify the police.
