Enjoyable Recital At Montague

An exceedingly enjoyable recital was given Friday evening in the I. O. F. Hall at Montague, by Miss Barbara McNeill, assisted by Miss Kathleen Hornby, violinist, and Mrs. Lyman Davidson, accompanist and pianist. Mrs. J. J. Stewart, soloist and Miss Eileen Allanah, vocalist. There was a large audience and the proceedings throughout were of a very high order, musically and historically. Miss McNeill is a vocalist and an executant of exceptional talent and both her solos and readings were greatly appreciated by the audience. She sang very delightfully from groups of solos of one, two three each, also several readings all of which were artistically rendered. Mrs. Davidson is a pianist of very much more than ordinary talent and her rendition of the various numbers assigned to her as accompanist and piano soloist was exceedingly fine and enjoyable. Miss Hornby's violin numbers were gems and, like all the other numbers, were much enjoyed. A trio of Miss Eileen Allanah, Miss McNeill and Mrs. J. J. Stewart was also much appreciated by the audience. The recital was declared by all one of the most enjoyable ever held in Montague and Miss McNeill was urged to "come again" and bring her fellow artists with her.

In A Pulpit

(PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND HONORED)

Rev. J. Alexander Ford, B.A., M.A., for 40 years an ordained minister, and for ten years a Licentiate of the old East Point, P. E. Island Baptist Church, was given an ovation at his church at Cashmere, Wash., U. S. A., Oct. 29. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, cut flowers and ferns. The music was exceptionally fine. It consisted of anthems, quartettes, solos.

Dr. A. H. Bailey, the Supt. of the State Convention was present with his bride and gave the proceedings a pleasing official sanction. Greetings were read from the East Point Baptist Church, P. E. I., the church with which Mr. Ford and Mrs. Ford united in their early youth; also from Dr. D. G. MacDonald, who baptized them. Words of hearty congratulations were also read from old classmates of Acadia University, H. T. Ross, D. C. Secretary of the Bankers Association, Rev. S. W. Cummings, D. D. Redlands University, California; also from the Baptist Church, Houlton, Maine, where Mr. and Mrs. Ford spent eight of the busiest years of their lives, and from the "F.H.I. Bible Class" connected with the Houlton Church, and organized by Rev. Ford in 1905. The sermon by Dr. Bailey was drawn from the text, "There was a man sent from God whose name was John." He emphasized the idea of a God-sent man as being the basic qualification of a true minister. At the address the Rev. and Mrs. Ford stood in the presence of the platform supported by Dr. and Mrs. Bailey while Mrs. Allison City Librarian, presented each of the ladies with a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses with an appropriate and affectionate appreciation, while the congregation rose and sang a suitable melody.

The banquet at 6.30 p. m. in the church dining-room was largely attended and was moderated by the Rev. J. W. Murdock. At the close of the banquet a young lady appeared carrying an immense cake, especially prepared for the occasion, on which were placed 50 lighted candles emblematic of Mr. Ford's 50 years of service. This was placed before the pastor and his wife. As all the electric lights were turned off, and the faces of the people were turned toward the lighted candles, the scene was beautiful and memorable. At that moment one of the church officers in a neat speech presented Rev. Ford with a gold "Konklyn" pencil case, as a memento of the occasion.

At 7.30 the auditorium of the church was filled with people of many denominations. The choir rendered some acceptable selections. Dr. Bailey led in Prayer. A Seattle soloist sang. The pastor then read the words of Paul—"I may finish my course with joy." The address that followed was a swift survey of outstanding incidents in a busy career extending over 40 years of continuous service in five Canadian Provinces and four American States. Mr. Ford said in part: "My public life began in a humble way in a Prince Edward Island schoolroom. Fifty four years ago I taught my first school at Priest Pond, P. E. I., among the warmhearted farmers of that beautiful community beside the sea. Father Gregory MacDonald—a cultured and scholarly man, was the Parish Priest of that district, at that time, and frequent conversations with him inspired me with a longing to secure a college education. Later I taught school at Lakesville and North Lake, and in teaching others acquired a greater thirst for knowledge myself. Across the mid-pond from my old home lived a neighbor—Joseph McVane. He was my Mentor. He was one of the widest reading men and most apt and convincing writers in the Province, and his library was always at my disposal. At Prince of Wales College, I came into contact with Dr. Anderson, a teacher of rare keenness and accurate scholarship. Later, at Acadia University I came under the influence of that matchless master of the sciences, Dr. A. W. Sawyer, L. I. D. Perhaps in all of Canada he had no peer in influencing young men to go on and up in their educational career. My graduation and ordination succeeded in each other swiftly; and of the 13 parishes which formed the ordinary council, only one is now living. Since then pulp and pastoral work varied by magazine writing and the lecture platform filled the busy years while never in any sense a great preacher I had the joy of speaking in many churches to throngs of people, and welcoming hundreds into my churches, continuing the speaker said "It is easy on an occasion like this, to indulge the reminiscence—stirring scenes of other days—days when courage was high and the eager spirit of youth craved adventure and achievement. One incident, said the speaker, will be a memory for life. It took place in Maine-city. That city, for years had practically wide open saloons—about 20 in all—in defiance of a state prohibitory law. An organized and concerted effort was made by many law-abiding citizens to close the saloons and enforce the law. Feeling ran high. The pulpits rang with fiery denunciations of the liquor traffic. Personal violence was attempted by the mob party. One clergyman was brutally assaulted on the street. The Baptist minister was threatened, but his Bible class of 30 young men became his body guard and saw that he was safely escorted to the Hall where a series of mass meetings were being held. On one memorable Sunday night, a great meeting was advertised for Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Catholic Temperance Association.

The Baptist minister was asked to preside. A temperance lecturer of note from Boston was to speak. The hall was packed with friends and foes of temperance. At the last moment the speaker of the evening was taken suddenly ill and was compelled to quit the platform. It was a critical moment for the temperance people, a meeting of that kind at that time to end in disaster would be almost certain. The Catholic committee appealed to the Baptist pastor to save the situation. He said, "It is a serious business gentlemen, but will you stand by and boost 'Yes' was the reply 'to a man.' The hour that followed was full of intensity, loud and active service on the temperance platform furnished the Minister with abundant material. Having but recently attended the funeral of a young man who died full of rum, gave an added fervor, and the speaker marshalled all against the saloon without pause or rest. The hour that followed was full of intensity, loud and active service on the temperance platform furnished the Minister with abundant material. Having but recently attended the funeral of a young man who died full of rum, gave an added fervor, and the speaker marshalled all against the saloon without pause or rest. The speaker of the evening was taken suddenly ill and was compelled to quit the platform.
