fellowship that we have formed here, for it will be a blessing in later life.

We are proud to have among our numbers this year many returned men, who, having fought right nobly on the field of battle, have come back once more to resume the arts of peace.

The physical element in education has not been neglected this year. Football and hockey, as usual, constituted our chief athletic efforts.

Our league teams have striven nobly, and through perseverance not always gaining as many points as their opponents, yet the fact of having done their best is victory, and to shoulder defeat manfully is better than a crown.

Debating Society, we feel it has been quite up to the standard of former years. Everyone knows the great advantages of such an exercise, after the first plunge made here among friends, where the nervousness attending such an attempt is to a large extent dispelled.

the youthful speaker, when next he finds himself before a stranger, more critical audience, will be quite at ease and will have a far better mastery of himself. We have had some enjoyable socials this year, which do so much to rest the weary mind, weighty with affairs.

To you, our Principal and members of the Faculty, we say farewell. The time has come when we must leave these halls and be on our way, but rest assured that wherever our paths in life may lead, no matter how broad the seas between us, we shall not soon forget the earnest efforts which you, Sir, and those associated with you on the Faculty, have put forth for our welfare.

We cherish the memory of the days spent here under your guidance, and hope that each one of you may be gracious in your thoughts of us. To you, citizens of Charlottetown we say farewell.

The National Anthem brought the memorable proceedings to a close.

And you who by some mischance are not rewarded of effort—be not disheartened. Remember that efforts are always successful and that it is a greater thing to try without succeeding than to succeed with out trying.

And no matter where I go, People disregard me so; I don't seem to count for much. 'Mongst the profiteers and such. Bill, take heart, your luck may change.

I'll admit the times are strange, Though you're weak I love you if still— Crinkle, crinkle, little bill.

And each of us will have a bier, No matter who we are.

BALL GAME TODAY! The second game of the City Base ball League is scheduled to take place this afternoon at the Abegweit grounds between the Abegweit and the War Veterans. The interest in baseball is growing and it is expected that there will be a large turnout of devotees of the game at the grounds today to see who is to carry off the victory.

DOMINION DAY TO BE A BIG DAY IN LOCAL SPORT July 1st, Dominion Day will probably be a big day in athletics in Charlottetown. In the forenoon a big marathon road race promoted by the Examiner is scheduled to take place for a silver trophy. In the afternoon it is likely that the inter-scholastic sports will be held. The prizes for these events are beautiful medals presented by Mr. George L. Prowse, proprietor of "The Toggery," for the encouragement of the junior athletes.

THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT would not put forward the hands of the clock. They believe in putting the clock backwards.

THE TAX ACT taxes our patience. THE MOTTO of the profiteer doubtless is, "Never put off for tomorrow the public you can do today."

THE HOUSE of too much trouble—the Legislature. IN OLDEEN DAYS members of the local Legislature all wore chin whiskers. Now they have the chin without the whiskers.

WHAT about those oil boring operations? Let's hope everything will be "well."

MORSEL of comfort. The Government intends to "bore" the people anyway.

THE PREMIER calls his native Province, Prince Edward's Island. After this in spelling it he should see that the additional "s" is marked like this—$!

THE MORE you puff a cigar, the smaller it becomes. And that's the case with some men.

THE HIGH cost of living ought to teach us all a lot of things we can do without.

THE RATTLE of pans and dishes in the kitchen sounds better to a hungry man than classical music.

KING ALFONSO is said to have set a new fashion by appearing at dinner in purple evening dress, with a pleated shirt. But the fashions of going clothed in purple and fine linen is as old as the Bible.

TO A FIVE DOLLAR BILL (Exchange.) Crinkle, crinkle, little bill; Goodness gracious, you look ill. Are you losing all your power? You seem weaker hour by hour.

Now that prices are so high, I'm so tired that I could die, I just circulate all day; No one dares put me away.

When the evening board is set. With the fruits of father's sweat, My small voice is hushed and still— I am in the butcher's till.

And no matter where I go, People disregard me so; I don't seem to count for much. 'Mongst the profiteers and such. Bill, take heart, your luck may change.

THE BELL GOVERNMENT may also be termed the Bill Government.

A GOOD LIBERAL once said that the Bell Government had the right ring about it. That was before they started trying to wring the money out of the people's pockets.

TALKING about bills and rings the Bell Government has got a hollow sound.

HOLLOW, because they are going deep into the peoples pockets.

WHEN the Bell Government succumbs some doleful dirigit will try to raise the Dickens with his "little knell."

THE TAX ACT taxes our patience.

THE PAPER SHORTAGE is getting serious. An exchange remarks that "owing to the scarcity of paper we are forced to postpone several deaths and births until next week."

AT THE RAILWAY Passenger.—(At railway station) "Where does this train go?" George—"This train goes to Summerside in five minutes." Passenger.—Goodness! Pretty quick travelling, isn't it, eh?"

PRESCRIBING A CURE. The automobile tire collapsed. And said, "Well I declare, I think less speed is what I need. And entire change of air."

THE KING has asked his subjects to observe his birthday but not to go to too great expense in celebrating. Charlottetown with due deference to his Majesty's request will "fly the flag" on that day.

IT MAY BE of some comfort to some people to state that though water isn't intoxicating yet it makes barrels tight.

THE CLAM The clam never gossips, while other folks do, And the clam never monkeys with cider and brew, And he stays in his bed just as a yam, He's a quiet and peaceful, harmonious clam.

Clams never stay out with Bacchus at night, Clams never dissipate, clams never fight, They partake of the mud flat, drink the salt chuck, And, never complaining, just think they're in luck.

The clam never hustles for silver and gold, Never complains of the wet and the cold; Cloudy or sunshine, he never complains, Proving that happiness comes with out brains.

Clams never speculate, clams never lie— Except in their beds—and we never know why? Clams are so happy, until we behold That silence is full of the finest of gold.

Clams never boodle throughout the campaign, Clams never pilfer your friendship for gain, The tide may run high, or the tide may run low, The clam and his family continue to grow.

I look on humanity's grasping and greed, On the wealthy, the wasteful, the pauper in need; The true and the faithful, the false and the sham, And I envy the silent and solaceful clam. —Exchange.

ENGINE TROUBLE Little drops of water, Little grains of sand, Make the angry motorist Say things like "He be jammed."

SATURDAY: GOT A JOB IN A TELEGRAPH OFFICE AS AN OPERATOR. A GIRL CAME, AND GAVE ME A MESSAGE TO

SEND, SAYING: "PLEASE RUSH THAT, AND OH— IS THERE ANY WAY TO SEND A KISS WITH IT?"

"YES, INDEED!" SAID I, "JUST GIVE IT TO ME AND I'LL SEND IT!"

"OH, HOW NICE! GRANDMA HERE WANTS TO SEND ONE!"
