UNUSUAL SERMON-In the Central Christian Church meeting last night, Dr. Robt. Whiston stated that his sermon was the most unusual one he had ever preached and then proceeded to speak on three things, death, judgment and heaven. Death, he stated, was mysterious, certain, silence, darkness and separation. Judgment was as sure as death and heaven was as sure as both. He said in part, "What is more mysterious than death and what is more mysterious than life or than man." Dr. Chas. Mayo gives his analysis of man as follows: "The constituent parts of 1200 eggs, fat enough to make 75 candles, hydrogen to fill a balloon and lift one above the clouds, phosphorus to cover points of 4000 N. matches, six teaspoonful of salt, a bowl of sugar and 6 gallons of water." He says further that the whole would bring about 99c. on the market. Science can make a body but it cannot make a soul, nor a spirit, nor a life. Only God can make a soul. Some years ago the two great exponents of the world's two greatest forces faced each other in the courtroom at Dayton, Tenn. W. J. Bryan represented the forces of righteousness and Clarence Darrow represented the forces of unrighteousness. With a sneer on his face, Darrow turned to Bryan and said, "What a fool a man must be to believe in the fool religion called Christianity." Fool religion, let us see. Human life is safe nowhere except where Christianity is preached. Hospitals, orphanages, libraries, all the institutions that stand for the good of humankind come from our blessed religion. It was Christianity that made strong men die on the Titanic, with the cry on their lips, "Women and children first." They were products of a Christian civilization. Had Darrow been there he too would have made the same plea because he himself is a product of our civilization and civilization is a product of Christianity." Dr. Whiston is bringing unusual messages each night this week at 7.30 and thinking people of all classes are enjoying them.

Received Large Coal Shipments

Large shipments of Scotch and Welsh anthracite, and of Nova Scotia soft coal have filled the bins of A. Pickard and Co., coal merchants. About a week ago the S. S. Myrtis discharged a cargo of coal from Scotland. The Avon Queen, a four masted schooner from New York also discharged a cargo. Those cargoes were probably the earliest discharged here in any season in the history of the port.

From their large stock in store, A. Pickard and Co. will supply a number of large contracts for public buildings, and local firms. A growing business has necessitated the rebuilding of a number of coal sheds to permit of the storing of larger quantities of coal. The sheds and offices are located on Pickard's Wharf at the lower end of Queen Street. All Scotch and Welsh Anthracite are screened with a Barber-Green power propelled conveyor and the coal is graded according to size.

A Most Important Business Slogan

Loyalty to the home manufacturer should be a principle adopted by both dealer and customer in this Province, when manufacturing plants are few and often operate at a disadvantage. In purchasing one should remember that the patronage of local manufacturers is important from the fact that local men rely upon the manufacturing plant for their livelihood, that the local factory pays taxes to both City and Province.

A. Lohnes' broom factory is located at the lower end of Queen St. The brooms manufactured at the plant are equal in quality and price to those manufactured elsewhere. Under such conditions Mr. Lohnes believes that he deserves the preference of patronage.

The "Little Jewel" the "Leader" the "Parlor Carpet" the "Special" and a stable broom are among those manufactured, representing many qualities grades, and prices.

Bakery Has New Delivery Service

A new delivery service for the City was begun this week in connection with the McInnis' Bakery on 15 Granville Street. The new service affords patrons of this bakery even better delivery of orders than herebefore. Citizens, however may buy direct from their grocery stores. Bread, pastry, and different kinds of cake, fresh from the ovens of McInnis' Bakery, are available in all parts of the Province.

Cleanliness is given the recognition it deserves. The products of the oven are made and kept in the most sanitary surroundings possible to create. The machinery is modern and up-to-date in every respect, and the ingredients used in the culinary art are the best procurable.

Located Opposite Railway Station

Conveniently located at the corner of Weymouth and King Streets opposite the Railway Station is the general store of Albert G. Kays.

Confectionery and fruit are specialties. Groceries are also sold. Clothing is a prominent line in this successful business stand.

Mr. Kays began business less than a year ago, and has been very successful, gaining a large number of customers and regular patrons. The proximity to the railway station is an added asset, as travellers may here make last minute purchases. Ice cream, confectionery and soft drinks are available at a moment's notice.

CELEBRATES PONTIFICAL HIGH MASS

Bishop O'Sullivan Was Guest At Official Dinner at Canadian National Hotel Yesterday - Reception Last Evening.

Rt. Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, D. D., celebrated Pontifical High Mass at St. Dunstan's Basilica at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, his first mass since his installation in the episcopal office as Bishop of Charlottetown. Leaving the Palace shortly before the appointed hour, attended by the visiting Prelates and clergy the Bishop took his place on the Throne where, while vesting the altar choristers rendered pleasing hymns.

Last evening beginning at 7 o'clock, Bishop O'Sullivan held a reception of which hundreds of members of the local congregations took advantage.

His Lordship was assisted during the celebration of Mass as follows: High Priest, Rev. G. McLellan; Deacon of the Mass, Rev. N. Polier; sub-Deacon of the Mass, Rev. C. McCarthy; Deacon of Honor Rev. J. Murphy; sub Deacon of Ceremonies Rev. P. McMahon, D. D.

Music was furnished by the male choir of the Basilica. The Kyrie (Van Bree) and the Gloria, Credo, Sanctus and Agnus Dei (D'Archembeau) at the Offertory "O Bone Jesu" (Palestrina) was rendered.

At the conclusion of Mass Bishop O'Sullivan imparted the Apostolic Blessing. Archbishop O'Donnell, in his sermon took for his text, St. Matthew, chap. 28, verse XIX: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations," in eloquent language he traced the Divine origin of the Church, and its special commission as teacher and custodian of the truth throughout all ages. This commission, in its very nature, was immune from change, and, on the contrary, unchanging and unchangeable.

He outlined particularly the great responsibility attaching to the power and dignity of a Bishop, and all that is implied in the solemn ceremony and sacramentals of his consecration.

Fitting reference was made to the saintly life and labor of the late Bishop Louis O'Leary, and the preacher closed with a moving appeal to priests and people to unite their prayers that the successor now installed, and celebrating his first Pontifical Mass here today, may long be spared to guide the Church in this diocese of Charlottetown.

THE DINNER

The dinner in honor of the new Bishop was held at the Canadian National Hotel at 1.30 p.m. yesterday and was attended by about 100 guests.

Right Reverend Monsignor J. C. McLean presided as toastmaster and the following toasts were honored: Our Dominion-Hon. J. A. McDonald, P. C.

Our Province-Proposed by Mr. J. D. Stewart, K. C., responded to by Hon. J. P. McIntyre, Acting Premier.

Our City-His Worship Mayor Prowse.

Our Guest-the Bishop of Charlottetown-Very Rev. J. A. Murphy, D. D., Rector of St. Dunstan's University.

PRESENTATIONS

Following the installation ceremony on Tuesday evening, in addition to the addresses of welcome published in yesterday's Guardian, Bishop O'Sullivan was presented with purses of gold by Rev. F. X. Gallant on behalf of the clergy and by Dr. W. J. P. McMillan, M. L. A., on behalf of the laity.

THANKS CITIZENS

In replying to the address of welcome read by His Worship Mayor Prowse on behalf of the citizens of Charlottetown, the Bishop expressed his appreciation of the magnificent Christian spirit which guided the person who wrote this address. This was the first time that he visited Prince Edward Island. His own native province of Ontario was called "the California of Canada" and Prince Edward Island has been called "the Garden of the Gulf." He expected that it would certainly prove true to name.

He smilingly remarked that the Mayor and City Council have accorded him the full citizen privileges of Charlottetown. He was glad in
