V.C. Awarded Son of Former Island Premier

Reference was appeared in the local press to the awarding of the V.C. to the late Capt. F. T. Peters, son of the late Hon. Frederick Peters, a former Premier of this Province. The following details from an English paper will be read with interest: The Victoria Cross has been awarded to the captain of one of two ships that laid the foundations for the African victory. He is the late Actg. Capt. Frederick Thornton Peters, R.N., who was killed shortly after the Oran landings in an air crash while he was on a special mission. He was 53. He won the D.S.O. and D.S.C. in the last war. The citation in the London Gazette announcing the award of the V.C. said it was: "For valour in taking H.M.S. Walney, in an enterprise of desperate hazard, into the harbour of Oran on Nov. 8, 1942. "Capt. Peters led his force through the boom towards the jetty in the face of point-blank fire from shore batteries, a destroyer and a cruiser. "Blinded in one eye, he alone of the 17 officers and men on the ship survived. The jetty reached the jetty disabled and ablaze, and went down with her colours flying. "Walney and Hartland were two ex-American coastguard cutters, that had the task of ramming the boom at Oran as part of the plan for the landings in North Africa. Both ships broke through, a feat that was described as one of the great episodes in naval history.

Showered With Flowers

Capt. Peters was captured and thrown into prison by the French authorities, but when Oran fell he was released by the people, carried through the streets shoulder high, and showered with flowers. For his bravery in the action, Capt. Peters was in December awarded the American D.S.C.

Russian Purchasing Mission in Canada

OTTAWA, June 21 (CP) — A Russian purchasing mission, in Canada to negotiate the transfer to Russia of Canadian-made supplies under the $1,000,000,000 mutual aid measure, arrived today at nearby Rockcliffe airport after a flight from Moscow, via Siberia and Alaska. Members of the mission are assistant commissar of trade Sergeev and assistant commissar of equipment Weykin. They were travelling in a twin-engine Douglas DC3, bearing the Red Star of the Soviet air force. Capt. Fedor Panomarenko, Soviet air hero decorated for his work at Sebastopol and Leningrad, was at the controls. From Edmonton the Russian party was accompanied here by Sgt. Ltr. H.O. (Hump) Madden, R.C.A.F., who acted as navigator.

Commends Work Of P. E. I. Island Seed Growers

Warm tribute to the work of Prince Edward Island farmers was paid by President E. L. Eaton in delivering his annual address at the opening session of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association convention yesterday morning. The convention was held in St. Dunstan's University.

"The first annual meeting to be held in the Island Province seems a fitting time to pay our tribute to the local members of that small but distinguished group whose efforts did so much to aid the industry during the early years of our organization," said President Eaton. "Being the most purely agricultural of our eastern provinces," he added, "it was but natural that the thorough farmers on the carefully tilled farms of Prince Edward Island should support so heartily the advanced agricultural policy which had its inception around the turn of the last century in the Macdonald-Robertson crop competitions. Not only was this junior farmer movement enthusiastically backed here but a great many of the parents seized the opportunity offered later by the setting up of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association to systematize their entire grain production. Seed stocks processed by those early growers established a reputation for Island seed oats and seed barley which is still of immense dollars and cents value to the Province."

The President regretted that a complete record of all those who shared in this work in the early days is not readily available. He mentioned the Banner oats of Thomas Waugh of North River, the Kivora oats of Thomas Wigginton of Bridgetown and the Charlotte-town No. 80 barley grown on the weedless farm of James E. Murphy of Augustine Cove. The work of others was no less important but the strains developed by these men happened to be of wider adaptation and thus became more generally known.

He also referred to the part played by the Dominion Experimental Station at Charlottetown in the initial development of the No. 80 barley. Selected from what was known locally as Old Island Two Row, it became instantly popular because many of the awns were broken, the harvest, and it is still one of the best yielding varieties in the maritimes. Mr. Eaton referred with regret to the death of Mr. William H. MacGregor, Central 1st. 10, a former vice president and director of the Association, and member of the executive council, and advisory board of the Seeds Act from its inception.

He also paid warm tribute to the work of Mr. Gordon MacMillan of Cornwall, one of the few surviving original Macdonald-Robertson competitors.

The past year, he said has been a busy and difficult one for the national trade as a direct result of the war have altered very greatly the domestic seed requirements. Substantial reserves of many seeds in dealers hands have been drawn on to meet current needs and the national seed planning program, started at the beginning of the war, has rendered every possible aid in meeting these demands and the registered seed growers in every province have made splendid response as individuals.

The president mentioned generous contributions of seed by Association growers to the Canadian Seed Bank, Canadian seeds, because of similar soil and climatic conditions, being especially desired by Russia. It is probable that further supplies will be sought in Canada, he said.

War-time conditions have imposed certain restrictions on those who carry on inspection work of the Association. For the first time it may be necessary to limit membership to those for whom the necessary inspection services can be furnished. Every facility will be given the production of these seeds for which a special national or international need exists.

Reservists For Defence Duty In Magdalen Islands

By Jack Brayley
Canadian Press Staff Writer
A ST. LAWRENCE (CP) June 21 — (CP) — Quebec Gulf areas, including the Magdalen Islands, have been removed from Atlantic Military Command Control and placed under the jurisdiction of Brig. Edmond Blais, Officer Commanding Military District No. 5, in a move which is in line with the new Civilian Service Defence Policy for the Gaspé Peninsula. The move is designed to concentrate defence of the area under a single jurisdiction as one geographical unit, and following up this policy, Col. G. E. A. Dupuis, Officer Commanding the 35th Reserve Brigade Group at Quebec has just visited the Magdalen Islands and accompanied with army and R.C.A.F. officials to establish a program of defence. Our main object was to raise about 125 army reservists for defence duty," said Col Dupuis. They raised 200 including five veterans of the last war, among them Rev.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Will Not Permit Communists To Hold Convention

OTTAWA, June 21 (CP) — Justice Minister St. Laurent today told the House of Commons that in view of the existing ban on the Communist Party in Canada no convention of that party would be permitted to be held. Answering Ligouri Lacombe (Cons. Javal Two Mountains) who had asked the Minister if a convention of the Communist Party, scheduled for Aug. 21 and 22 would be allowed by the Justice Department, Mr. St. Laurent said that under the present Defence of Canada Regulations the Communist Party was still banned. "The Minister of Justice cannot allow the holding of any convention by any group considered illegal by the Defence of Canada regulations," he said. "The Minister of Justice can do nothing else but to apply the law as it exists. "However, if those who belonged to the Communist Party wish to form a new political group which did not advocate overthrowing the government by violence, it is not in his power to stop them," the Minister said. He said a group formed to act in an illegal way "would be subject to prosecution by his department."
