There is a splendid opportunity for some one to open a real estate office in this City. Hardly a day passes but some enquiries are elicited which would fall within the duties of a real estate agent, and the Tourist Association would be glad to have such an official assume the duties of secretary of that Association. There should be such a convenience in Charlottetown and the right man in the place should be able to make a good thing out of it.

Mrs. Jane Carruthers, a native of Scotland, who lived in Canada a great many years, died on Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Skinner, King Street east St. John, N. B., aged 89 years. Deceased had lived in Nova Scotia and Carverhill, York county, but for the past ten years she made her home with Miss Skinner, who was a distant relative. Besides Miss Skinner she had a nephew and niece in Nova Scotia and P. E. Island. W. J. Carverhill of Fredericton is a nephew. Miss Carruthers had been in bed since last February. She was never thought to be seriously sick and death was due more to her advanced age than anything else. The funeral arrangements were not completed last night. Miss Carruthers was an aunt of Mrs. Vinnicombe.

A Rose Valley correspondent writes: The farmers have completed their spring crop and are now at the root crop. Miss Florrie Trowsdale is visiting in Inkerman the guest of Miles and Mrs. MacDonald. What might have been a very serious accident happened to George Trowsdale the other night. While returning home from Stanchel, his horse took fright at some unseen object but there was a damage to horse or carriage and the driver escaped unhurt. Robert Edward and Fred McKenna are spending a weeks vacation on the Junction Road. Wm. MacIntosh has left to spend the summer in Maline. Mrs. K. J. McKenna, with her children, of Portland, Maine, has come to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKenna of Rose Valley.

There have been a number of minor accidents of late owing to horses being frightened by autos in the City streets, but fortunately no much injury has resulted on any of the occasions until Wednesday evening when as a result of an encounter with a motor, and the fact of the driver of the team becoming confused, Mrs. Stephen Haslam of Brackley Point was the victim of an accident. It appears that she and a lady companion were driving on Great George Street and near the residence of Dr. Conroy met a motor car. Mrs. Haslam dropped the reins and jumped to the street, falling down as she alighted. Her companion picked up the reins and pulled on the horse which had become excited. One of the reins broke and the strain on one side turned the horse around so that it stepped on the pastern body of Mrs. Haslam, severely bruising her right hip and breaking two of her fingers. She was carried into the office of Dr. Conroy and attended to. She remained in this city until yesterday when she was taken to her home in Wright's ambulance.

W. Wheatley and J. K. MacKenzie, Royalty, had a successful day's fishing Thursday, in the western part of the island and returned in the evening with one hundred and sixty-nine of the speckled beauties. A special page of to-day's Guardian tells the story of Monte Carlo the most notorious gambling resort in the world. What the gambler's passion is cannot be understood until one reads the actual facts which have made Monte Carlo notorious above places of its kind, and the graveyard of many a ruined suicide. On another page will be found a most interesting contributed article from a local writer describing in graceful style the course of nature study at Guelph, a course which so many of the teachers in this province have lately taken. The splendid attractions of the famous school are well told of and readers should look up and read the article. A movement has been on foot for some time with the object of bringing to Charlottetown the noted evangelist, Dr. Torrey, who has been holding revival meetings with such wonderful results in Toronto lately. The matter was brought before the Ministerial Institute of this City, for them to consider and approve, but they did not consider that the present time was favorable, and it is reported did nothing definite just at that time. The matter has not been wholly dropped, and further correspondence has taken place with Dr. Torrey. It is possible that he may come here in the autumn, but nothing is decided. A homecoming who a few days ago returned from the far West (to assume his happy old life way down upon the good old Prince Edward Island farm on which he grew up) told The Guardian reporter a tale of the west which was not bordered with the golden haze which is attached to many of the stories one hears. Although he says some get along, there are dozens living in shacks, far from neighbors, deprived of the advantages which attach to settled communities, and working very hard. He very properly concluded that by coming home and putting the same amount of energy into his farm work here that he would be much happier and just as well off.

John Murray and Thos. Dawson two of Cape Traverse's best fishermen landed the largest lobster ever seen here on Thursday last. This great monster had caught hold of the back line with his claw and was rather enjoying the ride when suddenly he arrived at the surface. Dawson seized him just as he was letting go his hold to take a high dive. He weighs thirteen lbs; eight foot and half; feelers foot and half in length. He is a beautiful specimen of a male lobster, free from blemishes and all intact. Ed Grosby, station agent bought him and shipped him to W. F. Tidmarsh, Charlottetown where he will be embalmed and mounted after which he will become the property of C. L. Baxter, Portland, Me. Messrs. Murray and Dawson are two brave sailors as well as skilled fishermen. The former has his net set for another big fish at Inkerman—Com.
