What Ho, The Phillies Phlash!

By QUIN HALL

There is usually so much baseball chatter about Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics, and the Philadelphia National League club, has been so consistent in staying in the dust kicked up by the other clubs, that some folks have lost sight of the fact that there really is another club besides the A's in Philly.

Fortune Bridge And Vicinity

Messrs. Thomas Cameron, Joseph Frowsdale, accompanied by Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Frowsdale, motored from Crapaud Friday, May 17th, to attend the funeral of the late John S. Francis, Fortune Bridge.

Visitors to Fortune last week included H. H. Acorn, W. L. Dingwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Creamer, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Francis, Mr. Neil McPhee, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Dawson.

It is our sad duty to report the death of the late William Praught, of Souris, whose call to the better land came almost without warning. As has been already reported Billy (as he was known to all) left home on Thursday morning by the train for Harmony to load lumber.

However the train did not stop there, and both decided to jump, with the result that Billy rolled under the train and met instant death. His body was immediately taken back to Souris and the funeral (one of the largest ever held) was held to the Roman Catholic Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Deceased was only twenty-four years of age, and a young man of splendid qualities and his passing has cast a deep gloom over his many friends.

The pall-bearers were Harry McCallum, Edmond Lavie, Philip Carter, Glen Stewart.

Among the losses of the 24th of May was the loss by fire of the valuable residence of Mr. Neil Ross, Fortune Head. At the time a funeral was passing and this halted to permit the men to assist in fighting the flames, and although everything in venow was a tough one for the Phillies will be the surprise team of 1929. For a time, the Boston Braves had the honor but they weakened, and it was discovered that there wasn't much holding them up.

The Phillies, however, continued their march and, while some of the experts explained—or tried to explain—the showing by stressing the weakness of the other teams, the Phillies were really showing much strength.

Possibly the explanation lies in the fact that Mr. Shotton has a pretty fair ball club. Some of the boys ignore that item. The injury to Th-their power was done all was to no avail, as the building was burned to the ground. However the greater part of the furniture and movables was saved.

This is a terrible loss, happening at this particularly busy season and Mr. Ross has the sympathy of his many friends.

Lobster fishing still continues good both on the North and South side.

On May 24th, the funeral of the late William McDonald was held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. McLeod, Mt. Hope, to Bay Fortune Cemetery. Mr. McDonald was highly respected in the community where he resided. He is survived by a widow, four sons and one daughter.

We congratulate Mr. Edwin Reid on his recent appointment to the position of High Sheriff of King's County.

Spring weather is proving very unfavorable thus far. A great many people are sick, and quite a few from this section have "crossed the bar", among whom we may mention Mr. James Bryan, New Harmony, also her son, Mr. Isalah Horne, Chesham; Miss Maud McDougall, city, formerly of Rollo Bay; Mr. John S. Francis, Fortune Bridge; Mr. William McDonald, Red House; Mr. Albert Coffin, Bay Fortune; Mr. Aeneas McAulay, L. Harbor.

Messrs. Hardy and Buntain, City, were visitors East last week. Mr. Hardy of the Hardy Harness Co., is in a business trip for his firm. This phase of industry is a very important one and might well be ranked foremost among our Island industries. "Buying at home" of this article would be money well expended.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McInnis, City, spent the week end in Souris. The work of rebuilding St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Souris (recently destroyed by fire) began last week. No tender was accepted, and the work is being carried on by day's work.

The students of P. W. C. and S. D. U. are at home again, after a year's hard work. Most of them were successful, but of course as always, a few did not "pass," in almost all cases owing to ill health. A large number of pupils from the Eastern section attended P.W.C. and made a very creditable showing. Worthy of special mention are Helen McLean of Souris, who secured her second year's certificate; Richard Matheson, of Albion Cross, who came fourth on the 1st year pass list; Annie Bushey, of Souris, who came sixth; and Mabel Keefe, of Bay Fortune, who came eighth. All of the above-mentioned are very young, and no doubt we shall hear more of them in future years.

Mr. Richards, of the Magdalen Islands, is spending a few days with his son, Mr. Norman Richards, of Souris. We regret to hear that he is not enjoying very good health. His daughter, Mrs. Pineau, R.N., of N. Y., is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Souris. She is accompanied by her little son, McKinley.

The funeral of the late Maud McDougall of Dorchester St., City, was held from the home of Mr. John McRae to St. Alexis Cemetery, Rollo Bay, on Friday morning, and was very largely attended. "Maudie" as she was familiarly known to all, was a resident of Rollo Bay until a few years ago, when she moved to the City, and it is deeply regretted that one so young and such a general favourite with all should be called so soon.

She was a young girl of beautiful disposition and led an exemplary life. She is survived by her parents, who have our sympathy in their bereavement.

Despite the heavy rain on Thursday evening moving pictures were well attended. The comedy "I'm In the Navy Now" kept the audience in laughter all evening. A special feature "A Whistling Solo," by Mr. Roddie McIntyre was greatly enjoyed. The selection chosen was "All By Yourself in the Moonlight."

Mr. Yeo, popular movie man, presented the youthful performer with a $2 dollar bill.

On Friday, May 17th, the funeral of the late John S. Francis, of Fortune Bridge, took place to Bay Fortune Cemetery, and was followed by a large concourse of friends and relatives who came to pay their last respects to a grand old man.

Deceased had reached the advanced age of eighty years and was in possession of all his faculties, until the last. Mr. Francis retired from active business (being the head of the firm of J. S. Francis & Sons, Sleigh and Carriage Builders of Fortune Bridge) about ten years ago. He suffered from no illness and his passing was absolutely peaceful. He is survived by his widow and three sons, Harry, Arthur and Edgar, and five daughters, Mrs. W. H. Townsend, Rollo Bay; Mrs. George A. Wood, Rollo Bay; Mrs. Robert Dixon, East Baltic; Mrs. Reginald Dingwell, Bay Fortune; Mrs. A. G. Dawson, Central Bedeque, all of whom were with him at the last.

Of him it may be truly said "Beautiful is old age, beautiful is the slow drooping mellow autumn of rich glorious summer. In the old man Nature has fulfilled herself, and surrounded by his children and his children's children, she rocks him softly away to a grave which is followed with blessings."

Mr. E. J. Campbell is a weekend visitor to the City. It is deeply regretted that Mrs. Campbell, who is in the Hospital, is not improving as fast as would be desired.

Mr. Elmer Harris, noted playwright of Hollywood, Cal., is at his summer residence at Bay Fortune.

Congratulations to Miss Jean McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. McLean, of Souris, who won the Gold Coin at Mt. Allison for 1st. year Prize Essay, also to Mr. Fulton Underhay, of Bay Fortune, who graduated with distinction from Dalhousie.

Messrs. Howard and Leigh Dingwell and Master Ray Sylvester, City, spent the 24th in Fortune "trying the trout." They report good luck.

Cupid again busy in Fortune Bridge—this time the young man being Mr. Aubrey Aitken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Aitken, and the young lady Miss Sadie Webster, popular young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Webster, Cardigan. The ceremony took place in Charlottetown, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. Edwin Aitken, cousin of the groom. The happy couple will reside in Fortune.

Mrs. Annie Trainor, City, and Miss Alex. McDougall, City, who accompanied the remains of the late Miss McDougall to Rollo Bay for interment, have returned home.

Mrs. A. Smith and child, Kinkora, were visitors to Souris Sunday.

Mr. Bernie Praught, Kinkora, was called home last week owing to the death of his brother.

Mr. Valentine Morris, Can. Bank Commerce, St. John, is spending the week end and holiday with friends in Souris. Mr. Morris is a Souris boy.

Ode To Spring

Er—Spring. You perfectly priceless old thing! I'm frightfully bucked at the signs that one sees; The jolly old sap in the topping old trees; The priceless old lilac, and that sort of rot; It jolly well cheers a chap up, does it not? It's so fearfully bright; So amazingly right; And one feels as one feels as if one got rather tight. There's a tang in the air, If you know what I mean; And the grass, as it were; Is so frightfully green. We shall soon have the jolly old bee on the wing— Er—Spring.

Old fruit. You've given old Winter the boot. The voice of the tailor is heard in the land (I wonder what my rotten credit will stand?) And the birds and the flowers (but especially the "birds") Will be looking 'too perfectly priceless for words.

We shall have to get stocks. Of new ties and new socks. And of course we must alter the jolly old clocks; So a young fellows fancy Turns naturally towards The river and Nancy Or Betty or Maud; In fact, as I said—you're a priceless old thing— Er—Spring.

Old bean! It's—well, it's—you know what I mean. It's time I was oiling the jolly old bat. So, cutting a long story short, and all that, The theme of this jolly old song that I sing. Is—er—jolly old Spring! Desmond Carter.

BOY DIES UNIQUE DEATH

LONDON, June 8.—(British United Press)—A peculiar injury has caused the death of Albert Cecil Clark, aged 5, a school boy in a London suburb, who stumbled and struck his throat against the corner of a table at Singlegate School.

Dr. C. Davis, house surgeon at Nelson Hospital, where Clark died, said at the inquest that the child probably caught his larynx thus crushing the cricoid cartilage, which meant that every time he expelled breath, instead of passing out of the mouth, passed into the tissues of the neck.

The breath gradually killed the tissues of the skin, even as far down as the knee. There was no sign of injury to the neck.

and was on the staff in the Souris Branch for a number of years. At present he is assistant accountant. Needless to say his friends are pleased to see Val and glad to hear that he is making good.

Mrs. Ray Crockett, Souris, is spending a few days at her old home in Rollo Bay West.

The fishermen here and at Rice Point report some excellent lobster catches this season.

The school is making good progress under the splendid management of Miss Mary MacKay.

Miss Beatrice Campbell, teacher, who has remained home for the last year, owing to illness in the home, is at present taking a short course in teachers' training at P. W. C., Charlottetown.

THE MARKETS

MONTREAL, Que., June 9 — No price changes were announced on the Montreal grain and flour markets on Saturday. Butter continued firm with eastern townships Number 1 pasteurized selling firm at 35 1-2 cents per pound. This price was 1 cent higher than at the beginning of the week. Local dealers said that the Montrealers must be eating more butter this year than ever before as receipts have been ahead of previous years but there still seems to be an inadequate supply. The retail trade prices ruled steady during the week at 37 cents per pound for solids and 38 cents for prints. Receipts were 6,511 boxes. The cheese market ruled firm during the week closing on Saturday at 18 3-4 cents to 19 cents for Number one Ontario white and colored and 18 1-2 cents for Number 1 Quebec white and colored, wholesale. English buyers are showing more interest and offering 18 3-4 cents per pound, Montreal. Eggs held steady and unchanged during the week. Saturday's receipts were 2,460 cases. The potato market weakened toward the end of the week and New Brunswick Green Mountains were selling on Saturday at 50 cents per pounds in bulk for shipment and 50 to 55 on track here, in carlots. This was 5 to 10 cents cheaper than at the beginning of the week. Prince Edward Island potatoes held at 75 cents for whites and 80 cents for Green Mountains per 90 pounds in bags which was 5 cents cheaper than Monday.

A great deal of pains has been taken in its compilation. The president, James Paton, esq., and the Secy., Mr. Wilfred Boulter, with the assistance of officials of the Dept. of Agriculture, and the various livestock associations, have produced what is considered the best prize list ever to be offered at an Island Exhibition.
