Local Chapter Of Polio Foundation Planned Here

The Canadian Foundation for Polioyelitis which has been formed to aid in the fight against polio will have a local chapter organized here at a meeting Friday night in the City Hall at 8 o'clock. Mr. John H. Danell-Jenkins, Director of Chapter Organization will be here to aid in the formation of the local chapter. He has discussed the matter with some of the major concerns in the city last week. The raising of funds and the organization of citizens in combating polio is the purpose of the Canadian Foundation. It is modelled on the United States Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which was founded by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938. The Canadian Foundation is an organization. Consultations are held with Americans who have experience in this field. The foundation has a three-fold purpose: 1. To provide or support existing care for polio or post polio paralysis, especially those who cannot afford the cost of treatment. 2. To raise funds for research in Canada. 3. To organize local communities to help the polio victims. The local chapters will assist the Canadian Foundation to launch a Canadian march of dimes campaign in January. LIVELY SESSION

Continued from page 1. Many brokers and stock exchange employees learned of the devaluation of the pound for the first time when they came to their offices. For nearly an hour there was quiet. Finally one dealer took the plunge and began quoting prices. The boom then developed like an explosion.

Two thousand brokers, jobbers and clerks soon were shouting orders in an unofficial open-air market. These were the highlights: 1. Gold shares made spectacular rises. The biggest leaps were recorded by low grade mines. 2. Coppers, tin, rubber, and oil showed big rises. Anglo-Iranian oil alone bounced up about $1.66 to $22.40. 3. Unofficial dealings in gilt-edged (government) securities were noted.

DOWN 10 PER CENT

Continued from page 1. exchange adjustments abroad will tend to result in an increase in the total value of our imports." Dr. C. P. Pepp, Sr., president of the American Veterinary Medical Association and president of the Canadian Veterinary Association and president of the provincial associations of all the provinces, will address the association at the three-day conference include Dr. T. Childs, Veterinary Director General of Canada; Dr. C.A. Mitchell, Chief Animal Pathologist of Canada; Dr. J. F. C. Anderson, president of the American Veterinary Medical Association; Dr. J.F.C. Anderson, president of the Canadian Veterinary Association and president of the provincial associations of all the provinces; and Dr. J. F. C. Anderson, president of the Canadian Veterinary Association and president of the provincial associations of all the provinces.

CURRENCY

Continued from page 1. that Canada might import many commodities from the sterling area which she now buys from U.S. This would have an offsetting effect in keeping costs down. Imports From England. Prince Edward Island as an exporter of farm products which have already been arranged for with England, on the whole would seem to benefit. Goods imported from England will, in the natural order, cost less. These include English cars, dinner and china-ware, shoes, whiskies and runs, clothing materials and textiles. These benefits will be cut by the amount the Canadian dollar is devalued.

Penalonsers Affected

A considerable number of people receiving various types of pensions from the United Kingdom will be hard hit. There are also a number of people who are bringing their Old Country funds to Canada as fast as regulations allow. These funds will be considerably reduced unless special provision is made to accommodate such cases. Mr. W. R. Jenkins, an importer of English cars, believes that there is little doubt that Canadians would buy at least four times the number of these cars if their value drops in relation to the pound. Such a reduction would place the English 12 hp. car in direct competition with the Canadian-made "big three", with the finish and quality of the smaller car weighing heavily in its favor.

Coal Situation

Mr. A. Pickard does not expect the devaluation of the English pound to reopen the Welsh coal import business which he carried on before the war. At least not this season. Mr. Pickard explains that he used to import some 2,800 tons annually. Most of those customers, however, have installed oil burning equipment and there is no longer the demand. He made the point, however, that devaluation of the Canadian dollar would increase the cost of U.S. coal and would thus offer a better chance to the British coal in the Canadian market.

May Aid Tourist Trade

Devaluation of the Canadian dollar in relation to the U.S. currency is expected to help the Canadian tourist industry, since the travelling American will get more for his American dollar in Canada than at any time since 1946. It will hit the Canadian importer of U.S. merchandise. "We may be able to dispel any feeling that there might be an attempt to settle something by legislation which would more properly be determined by judicial process." Mr. Caldwell said his party welcomed proposals to facilitate the attainment of Canada's complete nationalization.

HOPE, FEAR

Conclusion of a five-year $100,000,000 ($280,000,000) trade agreement with Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia. The Government said the deal was reached Saturday, before devaluation was announced, and is subject to ratification by the two governments. A responsible East-European diplomat in the Soviet orbit said it was highly unlikely that any country in the Russian sphere would devalue its currency to conform to the shake-up in Western Europe.

HOPE, FEAR

A Treasury spokesman said the sterling price of gold has been set at 250 shillings ($38) a fine ounce. Until yesterday the gold price in sterling was 172s. 3d. The increase represented an increase to South Africa's gold mines of about $10.80 an ounce. While British exporters looked for a boom, importers feared a slump due to higher prices for their imports from the United States.

HOPE, FEAR

Housewives rushed to buy flour and cheese—most of which is imported. Bread and flour prices will rise soon because wheat is bought with more expensive dollars. Most merchants limited customers to a few pounds of flour. Sales of most other goods generally were normal, throughout Britain, however. Most observers felt that the full shock of devaluation would not reach the people for many months. Britain has stock piles of cotton and tobacco, for example, which could last for several months.

Gerald R. Foster Called To The Bar

In the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Gerald R. Foster, Charlottetown, (above) was enrolled as an Attorney and called to the Bar. Mr. Foster is a son of Mrs. C. Foster and the late Mr. Foster. He attended West Kent School, Prince of Wales College, and received the degree of LL.B. from Dalhousie University on the 11th of May, 1948, having served in wartime with the Royal Canadian Mounted Corps, attaining the rank of Lieutenant. Mr. Foster read law in the chambers of Mr. James B. Johnston and Mr. David L. Mathieson, K.C. Mr. Mathieson put the motions for his admission as Attorney and Barrister. Mr. Justice George J. Tweedy in making the orders for admission, complimented Mr. Foster on his fine scholastic record and predicted for him a successful career in his chosen profession. Mr. Foster plans to continue for the time being with the firm of Bell and Mathieson.

Scout Council Seeks Support For Movement

Members of the Provincial Council of the Boy Scouts Association are presently engaged in an interim driving-up collection to help meet expenses up to the end of December this year. It was made known last night. The Council, Major N. W. Lewin, chairman of the Financial Committee pointed out, had not entered upon a campaign since 1946. Nor did it intend doing so until the National Campaign in February of 1950. However due to the expansion of the Scout movement and the need for a full time field man fund were required to tide the organization over the next three months. It was deemed best to conduct a quiet collection at the present time and then line-up with the other provinces in the full scale National Campaign to be launched early next year.

British Rail Workers Demand Wage Boost

LONDON, Sept. 19 (Reuters) - London rail workers voted tonight to "go slow" from midnight Wednesday to press a demand by their union—the 450,000-strong National Union of Railwaymen—for a general 10 shilling ($1.40) weekly wage increase. The decision taken at a meeting of delegates representing 50,000 London and suburban rail men is the first workers' reaction to the "work harder for the same pay" appeal by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps. Their action could bring chaos to the transport system on which greater London's 10,000,000 people depend. The decision will be one of the important factors before the general council of the 8,000,000-strong British Trade Unions Congress when it meets here tomorrow "to consider the economic situation in the light of the revaluation of the pound."

Air Cadet Guest Of Rotary Club

Sgt. Air Cadet Donald Thompson told Rotarians at their weekly luncheon yesterday, that he had expected to find a depressed people in the British Isles when he visited there this summer as a member of the Air Cadet group chosen from all the Squadrons of Canada. "It was quite the reverse," he said, "I met very happy people working as hard as they know how, to regain their former place in world trade, and they are feeling far from down and out." Sgt. Thompson described his trip by air from Charlottetown, via Moncton, Rockcliff and Trenton, and the leaving Canada from Dorval on August 4th. On arrival in England they made their headquarters at Auxbridge. From there they visited Windsor Castle the guides of which were very proud of the 900 year old history and their talk was very informative. At one of the British Air Stations they were shown around by Squadron Leader Jenkins who was mentioned during the war in this city, and who had married Miss Marion Andrew of Pownal St. "The tour had a number of Japanese and German planes and rockets, some of which at the time they were built were much superior to any on our side." Sgt. Ldr. Jenkins also presented many V-1 bombs landing in England by diving upon them and giving them a slight flip with the wing tip, heading them in the direction of enemy territory. Lincoln Cathedral which was started by William the Conqueror in 1065 is a wonderful piece of architecture. The main tower rises 400 feet and has a taper of only two inches, said Sgt. Thompson. "The hospitality of the people of Scotland is unique," said the speaker. They had visited Edinburgh, where they saw the National War Memorial, famed Princess Street and Holyrood House. He told of meeting a reporter and telling him he would like to get in touch with a friend who had been in Prince Edward Island with the result that the item had appeared in the Edinburgh paper and had been seen by the mother of the person he wanted to see. Then at Glasgow, they had been shown over the shipyards. The tour had concluded in London with visits to all the points of interest. "Charmers were Rotarians A. Pickard and P. W. Turner. Guests were Rotarian A.H. Birtwell, Montreal, and Dr. J. D. Griffin, Toronto.

Air Cadet Guest Of Rotary Club

Sgt. Air Cadet Donald Thompson told Rotarians at their weekly luncheon yesterday, that he had expected to find a depressed people in the British Isles when he visited there this summer as a member of the Air Cadet group chosen from all the Squadrons of Canada. "It was quite the reverse," he said, "I met very happy people working as hard as they know how, to regain their former place in world trade, and they are feeling far from down and out." Sgt. Thompson described his trip by air from Charlottetown, via Moncton, Rockcliff and Trenton, and the leaving Canada from Dorval on August 4th. On arrival in England they made their headquarters at Auxbridge. From there they visited Windsor Castle the guides of which were very proud of the 900 year old history and their talk was very informative. At one of the British Air Stations they were shown around by Squadron Leader Jenkins who was mentioned during the war in this city, and who had married Miss Marion Andrew of Pownal St. "The tour had a number of Japanese and German planes and rockets, some of which at the time they were built were much superior to any on our side." Sgt. Ldr. Jenkins also presented many V-1 bombs landing in England by diving upon them and giving them a slight flip with the wing tip, heading them in the direction of enemy territory. Lincoln Cathedral which was started by William the Conqueror in 1065 is a wonderful piece of architecture. The main tower rises 400 feet and has a taper of only two inches, said Sgt. Thompson. "The hospitality of the people of Scotland is unique," said the speaker. They had visited Edinburgh, where they saw the National War Memorial, famed Princess Street and Holyrood House. He told of meeting a reporter and telling him he would like to get in touch with a friend who had been in Prince Edward Island with the result that the item had appeared in the Edinburgh paper and had been seen by the mother of the person he wanted to see. Then at Glasgow, they had been shown over the shipyards. The tour had concluded in London with visits to all the points of interest. "Charmers were Rotarians A. Pickard and P. W. Turner. Guests were Rotarian A.H. Birtwell, Montreal, and Dr. J. D. Griffin, Toronto.
