CROP ACREAGE AND LIVE STOCK.

The Census and Statistics Monthly issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa shows that Canada has this year under field crops of grain, and hay, (not taking account of potatoes and root crops) 25,660,118 acres. This is a gain of 1,541,305 acres over last year.

Canada's herds and flocks of horses, cattle, sheep and swine taken together number 15,867,000, a gain of 583,192 over last year. This list is made up of 2,118,165 horses, 2,917,746 milch cows, 4,629,858 other cattle, 2,831,404 sheep and 3,369,858 swine.

In each of these lines there is a gain over last year, but not in all the Provinces. Prince Edward Island makes a good showing in the extent of land under Nova Scotia or New Brunswick in proportion to population, when it is remembered that New Brunswick has more than three times and Nova Scotia more than four and a half times as many people as the Island.

The totals are: P. E. Island 468,139 acres; New Brunswick 935,483 acres and Nova Scotia 817,822 acres under crop.

The Island has 7,000 acres more under wheat than either New Brunswick or Nova Scotia, and 46,000 acres more under oats than Nova Scotia. New Brunswick exceeds our area in oats by only 23,000 acres. In hay and clover both the sister Provinces largely exceed our acreage, but neither of them has three times as many acres as we in these crops.

Coming to live stock the Island has 24,809 horses, which is more than half as many as Nova Scotia's 67,557 or New Brunswick's 67,100. Of milch cows the Island has 32,650. Nova Scotia 147,663 and New Brunswick 127,419. Of sheep the Island has 1,352,296, Nova Scotia over three times as many (3,733,392) and New Brunswick a little over twice as many (3,500,502).

Of swine the Island has 49,692, Nova Scotia 74,963 and New Brunswick 98,062—less than twice as many as this Province.

The Island has 682 more horses than last year, 532 fewer cows, 2,229 more sheep and 5,520 fewer swine than last year. Our acres in grain and hay crops increased by nearly 18,000 over last year. One of our biggest crops, potatoes, is not taken into account in the above comparisons.

MORAL AND SOCIAL REFORM.

The organization of the Provincial Moral and Social Reform League in this city on Tuesday last was effected under most favorable auspices. Seven or more clergymen representing various prominent religious bodies took part in the very earnest and harmonious discussion, and no fewer than ten of the leaders of religious work were elected as officers or members of the executive, with Bishop McDonald as Honorary President.

The council of the League has expressed in outline the general scope of its work which is to oppose, and as far as possible to eliminate all forms of bribery and political corruption, commending the Provincial Government for its action in enforcing the Prohibitory Law and the Lord's Day Act, and calling for the careful carrying out of all the laws having a moral intention, such as those bearing upon social vice, gambling and betting and the use of tobacco by those who are under the prescribed age limits.

The official staff of the League is made up of earnest, capable men who have not entered upon this work without thought and consideration. There is need for earnest work along the lines they have laid down, in this Province and throughout Canada. For some reason, whether well-founded or not, the Maritime Provinces, which stand foremost in many reform activities, have obtained an unsavory reputation in the west in regard to political corruption. This reproach cannot too soon be wiped away.

It is highly gratifying to find our public men approving so heartily as they do the aims and objects of the Reform League, and proffering their support thereto. We believe they are sincere in this, and would prefer pure elections, not only because such methods would lessen the expense of election contests and would prevent much costly litigation in the election courts afterwards, but for the removal of a great and widespread evil and for the uplifting and betterment of our entire social and political system.

If carried out in the worthy and harmonious spirit in which it is now begun, this movement should prove of incalculable benefit. A combination of all the churches, with our representative public men, backed up by the best citizenship of the entire Province ought to prove irresistible in driving corruption from the land. The good effects already shown by the partial organization and efforts put forth in the late elections of Ontario and New Brunswick were most assuring. Agreements between opposing candidates to conduct pure elections were generally well observed, unlawful practices were mainly eliminated, the elections were the cleanest known in a generation past and we have heard of no litigation resulting.

It is worth much to secure such results, and there is a moral certainty that they may be obtained by united, determined and harmonious effort. The reform belongs to the people themselves. Our public men are at least as good as the people they represent, and if no improper or unlawful demands were made upon them, things would be far different from what they have been. Wherefore let all work together to secure clean and honest elections. By such a course the true voice of the people will be heard in an election, the tone of public life will be elevated and an honest ballot will give the people the best assurance of an honest and economical administration of public affairs.

The Prince of Wales has left Canadian soil and embarked for England. Lord Roberts is already encumbered with a multiplicity of honors and titles, but the University of Toronto insists upon making him a Doctor of Laws. There seems nothing for the great man to do but to submit.

The London Times thinks Mr. Bryan has some chance of being elected. In America outside of the Democratic party there are few who think his chance is worth much.

Cabinet meetings at Ottawa will be plentiful during the next few weeks, we are told. This activity is somewhat unusual immediately after the close of an exhausting session. Some railway commissioner, are to be appointed and so on. And we infer that a decision may be reached on the question of dissolving Parliament.

Following the example set by Horace Greeley thirty-six years ago, Mr. Bryan has severed his editorial connection with the newspaper of which he has been managing editor. We hope he may fare something better than Greeley, who was not only defeated in the election, but found the newspaper, The Tribune, which he had established and made influential, turned against his old friends. When he sought to reconstitute the Tribune under its new management refused his letter. Greeley died shortly afterwards, his last days embittered by disappointment.

There is now no reason why every person in Canada who suffers from Constipation, Biliousness, Kidney or Liver Trouble, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Skin Diseases, Indigestion, Dyspepsia or Headache should not try "Fruit-a-tives" and get quick relief and eventually a complete cure. "Fruit-a-tives" are concentrated Fruit Juice Tablets. 25c. is all it costs to test the value of the most successful medicine ever produced in Canada.

Building Up a Young Man's Earning Power

I will I can I believe I can I hope I can I wish I could I can't

Here is an illustration which depicts the life of the indolent young man to perfection. He starts out in his career with no thought of the future. If you gave him a chance to get an education he would say "I can't find time to study" or "I can't afford it" This level belongs to the simple mind or the drifting fellow who floats down stream with no object or plan. If he begins to arouse himself a bit and realize his aimless course he reaches a stage where he says "I wish I could". The next plan he reaches on the way up is where he says "I hope I can".

Our individual now has hope and as he looks about him, and gains the he gets to the place where he can say "I believe I can" confidence helps some, but he must go still further before he can declare "I can". One more step must be taken however before he stands on the highest level of all and asserts his real manhood by saying "I WILL."

If YOU have any pride at all, you will not admit that you belong to anything but the FIRST CLASS. Secure an education through the International Correspondence Schools NOW. The Business of THIS place is to Raise Salaries. Make a selection from our 208 courses. The information will COST YOU NOTHING.
