What Is Wrong With The Family?

Timely Address Delivered Last Night to Crowded Audience by Mr. David Goldstein Under Auspices of the Knights of Columbus—Lecture Was Highly Appreciated.

There was not a vacant seat in the Prince Edward Theatre on Sunday night on the occasion of the lecture on "What is Wrong With the Family?" delivered by Mr. David Goldstein under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus.

Before the speaker of the evening was introduced a short programme of vocal music, consisting of "Miserere Nobis, Jesu Mel," sung by Miss Lucy Blanchard, Rev. Bernard Gillis and Mr. J.W. Brown, and a vocal solo "Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayers" by Miss Lucy Blanchard. Mr. Albert Blanchard being the accompanist was very acceptably rendered.

Mr. E. H. J. Morrissey, Grand Knight of the Charlottetown Council of the Knights of Columbus, who acted as chairman, introduced the speaker of the evening expressing his pleasure that the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus was taking such a determined stand against the insidious propaganda tending to the destruction of family life.

Mr. Goldstein intended to discuss, and explained that at the close of the lecture an open forum would be held, at which any member of the audience was at liberty to ask questions and Mr. Goldstein would answer them.

Mr. Goldstein in beginning his address said: "It seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to come to the island where the family life is held in such high respect, to deliver a lecture expressing the necessity of preserving it."

He went on to say that the family were the units—the bricks as it

SIR HERBERT ADDRESSES STUDENTS

P.W.C. Students Addressed on Work of League of Nations—Visit to Provincial Building and Other Centres.

The work of the League of Nations and the changing spirit in Europe with respect to the aims and objects of the League, were eloquently explained to the students of the Prince of Wales College by Sir Herbert Ames, who, accompanied by Mr. H. H. Shaw, Chief Superintendent of Education, and Mr. Percy Pope, president of the Rotary Club, visited the College on Saturday forenoon.

Sir Herbert's remarks, which were chiefly along the line of his address in the Hertz Hall Friday night, were listened to with rapt attention, and it was evident that his vision of universal peace brought about by sympathetic understanding and fair dealing among nations found a warm response in the hearts of his hearers.

It was to the younger generation, as Sir Herbert said, that this appeal must be made with unmitigated emphasis if the world is to avoid another terrible war which might mean the eclipse of our hard won civilization.

A most interesting feature of Sir Herbert's address was his suggestion of a model League of Nations among the students of the Maritime Provinces. Students of our colleges and universities could meet regularly at some central place, for the organization and continuance of such a League. This would afford a splendid education in itself and would encourage our young people to follow intelligently the events that are going on at Geneva.

The suggestion met with hearty approval.

Sir Herbert also visited Falconwood Hospital, the Experimental Station, the Provincial Building and a neighboring fox ranch during Saturday forenoon. He was greatly interested in the Confederation and Legislative chambers, as well as in the war memorial tablet facing the stairway of the Provincial Building, the wording of which he considered very appropriate.

The only regret of the distinguished visitor was that unfavorable weather prevented him from seeing more of Prince Edward Island on this occasion. He was acquainted with many natives of this island and was living in New York and Boston, and held the Island people in high esteem.

Sir Herbert left for Sackville Saturday afternoon, where he spent Sunday with President Truman of Sackville University. He will be leaving for Halifax, where he will deliver three lectures to the students of Dalhousie University. It is probable that before he leaves the Maritimes some definite steps will be taken for the organization of a model League of Nations in which students from this Province will participate.

THREE MET DEATH BY DROWNING

Two Men and a Woman Victims of Tragedy Near North Sydney on Saturday Night.

(Canadian Press)
 NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 28.—Submerged under twenty feet of water when the closed car in which they were driving to Sydney crashed into an automobile travelling in the opposite direction, and rebounded between two iron trusses of the Leitches Creek bridge, two men and a young woman met death by drowning on Saturday night.

The dead are Miss Viola Jarvis, 25, of Sydney Mines, Walter Brown, 22, of Sydney, and James Ross, twenty eight year old Sydney Mines war veteran. It is believed there were no other passengers in the car.

The three victims of the tragedy left North Sydney shortly before ten o'clock in the automobile owned by Brown's mother. On the Leitches Creek bridge, about six miles from the town, they met a car driven by Robert Pickles of Sydney, who said after the accident that the Brown car, travelling about thirty five miles an hour, struck the front fender of his car on the left side, and rebounded into the water through the wooden rail between two iron trusses of the bridge.

A coroner's jury called by Dr. J. W. MacLean this afternoon returned a verdict that the three came to their death by accidental drowning. No blame was attributed to the Pickles brothers, but it was recommended that the approach to the Leitches Creek bridge and the bridge itself be widened.

Miss Jarvis had recently been employed at a Sydney hotel, and was returning after visiting her mother and three sisters. Ross who went overseas with the 185th battalion and was wounded leaves a wife and four children at Sydney Mines. Brown was unmarried, and is survived by his mother Mrs. Esther Brown of Sydney.

BALDWIN ANNOUNCES HIS POLICY

Premier Declares Great Britain Has No Idea of Building a Navy in Competition With the United States.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Great Britain has no idea of building a navy in competition with the United States, said Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister when he spoke tonight at a great mass meeting in Albert Hall in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the League of Nations Union. He expressed profound regret at what he declared was only a "temporary failure," to reach an agreement with the United States on naval matters and he also decried the suspicious concerning British action which, he said, had gained currency in some American circles.

"Our policy in naval building is to go slow," he said, "we have no intention of competing with the United States and we came to our decision to go slow, long before we were asked to sign the Kellogg pact."

"We are grateful to Mr. Kellogg for bringing the treaty to Europe. It gives us what in our spiritual life we should be grateful for—an opportunity for a fresh start. I doubt whether the world yet realizes the full import of the Kellogg pact."

The Prime Minister concluded with an appeal for faith in the League of Nations as an instrument of peace.

Earlier in his address, he alluded to uneasiness reflected in some British newspapers recently who thought that by the Franco-British naval accord this country had been committed to the French view concerning army reserves without obtaining any adequate naval concession.

"I wish to contradict the idea that we have abandoned our position of impartiality, adopted at the time of the Locarno pact," said Mr. Baldwin. "We have made no new engagements and there has been no change in the orientation of our policy."

"Our interests and our inclinations have alike prompted us to preserve and even strengthen the solidarity of our relations with Germany, as well as with France and Italy."

Mr. Baldwin dealt with the evil influence of war on national character, particularly as illustrated in the world war. He said that this showed that mankind descended not only from the ape but also has inherited characteristics of the tiger.

"The tiger is very close to the surface," he said. "If the state is to survive, the tiger must be eliminated, but our experience of 13 years ago showed that these basic instincts are ready to be summoned from their hidden lair at a moment's notice."

"No two bodies of persons are more potent to summon these ancient impulses than are the politicians and the press. Only an intense spiritual fight can resist these instincts."

Viscount Gray presided at the meeting and in opening it praised the good work done by the League of Nations. Referring to the position of the United States, he said it was more serviceable to the cause of world peace than the United States should be taking an initiative action parallel to the work of the League and thus establishing a barrier against the protection afforded by the League covenant. He said this was preferable to having the United States join the league as a reluctant and hesitating member.

Thirty Eight Lose Lives In Crash

Famous Orient Express Met With Accident Near Town of Recea While Travelling at Sixty Miles an Hour.

(Special to The Guardian)
 BUCHAREST, Roumania, Oct. 27.—Thirty eight were killed when the Simplon Orient express, one of the world's most famous trains, bound from Bucharest to Paris, racing through the darkness at 60 miles an hour, crashed into the Heirmannstad-Bucharest express near the town of Recea at 2 o'clock this morning.

Nearly fifty persons were seriously injured. Among the killed is merchant of Chicago, who was proceeding to Bucharest, and Alexander Herscher, general manager of the Wahl Eversharp company of New York was severely injured. The crash, which is attributed to a defective switch was one of the worst in recent years. Many of the injured it is feared will die. Twenty one of the dead are Roumanians.

SHOTS FIRED AT OFFICERS DURING RAID

Daring Attempt to Intimidate Prohibition Inspectors in Discharge of Their Duty.

While engaged in raiding premises on King Street Saturday evening Prohibition inspectors Haywood, Bradley and Kelly were fired upon, presumably from an adjoining yard. Two or three loud reports, from a rifle or revolver, were distinctly heard by the officers while they were searching around in the back yard of the suspected premises, but they are unable to say where the shots landed or whether it was the intention to "get" the officers or simply to scare them away. There was a crowd around at the time.

The officers had searched the house and had secured a gallon can of rum which is alleged was being delivered at the door. They had gone into the yard to look around when the explosions were heard. It was about 9:30 in the evening, and too dark to find any trace of suspected assailants. It is the intention, however, to investigate the matter further.

Evidently an attempt was made to intimidate the inspectors in the discharge of their duty, and this points to the existence of a more or less organized "gang" in Charlottetown some of whose members at least carry firearms and are prepared to resist the enforcement of the law.

Premier Returns From Europe

(Canadian Press)
 ON BOARD THE EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND, Oct. 27.—After an absence of more than two months, during which period he represented the Dominion on a number of historic occasions, Premier Mackenzie King returned to his homeland today. Looking well and ruddy and glad to be back in Canada, the prime minister, who was accompanied by Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader in the Senate, Senator W. L. MacDougald and Senator Andrew Haydon, sailed up the St. Lawrence River to land at Quebec.

In his statement Mr. King told of some of those things which took him to Europe, of the welcome he received everywhere, of the high place which Canada has achieved in the minds and hearts of European nations and of the benefit which had accrued from his sojourn in Great Britain and on the continent.

Peace and Canada's part in perpetuating peace in the world, formed the theme of much of what Mr. King had to say. "The peace of the world depends more on good relations between the United States and Great Britain and Great Britain and France than on any other single factor," said the prime minister, in this connection.

He pointed out that in the development of this happy relationship Canada held a key position. The Dominion understood and could interpret the French, the British and United States characters. She was qualified to act as the interpreter "gang" with her understanding of all their peoples, she held it in her power to cement closer and closer the bonds which existed between them. "Europe will have to come to the new world point of view," said Mr. King, in referring to efforts for world peace.
