SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES CALLED TONGLAND

To Consult With Lloyd George Important Questions of State. See Speculation Regarding The Cause of His Visit.

(Special to The Guardian)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, has been summoned home for a conference with Premier Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, British Secretary of State for foreign affairs, it was announced today at the British Embassy. He sailed from New York today for London and he is expected to return in February. Information as to the subjects which Mr. Lloyd George and Earl Curzon desire to discuss with the Ambassador was withheld by the Embassy besides that of the funding of debt. One of the most important questions pending between the British and the United States Government is that regarding the proposed development of oil lands in Newfoundland and elsewhere. It is also expected that the Ambassador will discuss with Mr. Lloyd George and Earl Curzon the proposed United States tariff on Canadian wheat, which may also be one of the subjects which will be discussed by the Ambassador with Mr. Lloyd George and Earl Curzon. Another question now occupying the attention of the British Government is that of the treatment of the property of its citizens in Mexico, especially those who hold oil and mineral lands.

UNITED STATES PRESS OPPOSES FORDNEY BILL

Claim Canada is U. S. Best Customer And That Retaliation Against U. S. Would Be Injurious to Trade.

(Special to The Guardian)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The New York World this morning deals editorially with the resentment shown by Canadian newspapers over the proposed emergency tariff now being considered by the Senate Committee at Washington. They reflect a disposition up that way to strike back. The World says "next to the United Kingdom, Canada is our best customer. We exported to the Dominion last fiscal year more than $890,000,000 worth of merchandise. We imported in return only about $537,000,000 worth. Our exports consisted chiefly of manufactures, our imports from that quarter consist chiefly of the raw materials of manufacture. No economic proposition is simpler or more indisputable than that if we further cripple Canada's ability to pay we shall by the same measure reduce our present enormous export trade to Canada and this is what the Fordney and McCumber tariff bills preparing or prepared aim to do and will do. The folly of this legislation is even greater than this appears. Canada above all other customers of ours is in a position to hit back. She can get most of the manufactures now bought in the United States from Great Britain just as well and a strong preferential tariff in favor of the Mother Country cannot fail to hit the manufacturing industry of the United States a staggering blow and this is precisely what Canada is preparing to do if Congress shall propose the retaliation.

CIVIL SERVANTS MAKE STRONG RECOMMENDATIONS

Ask That Recently Vacated Positions Be Thrown Open to Former Employees And The Dismissal of Unpopular Official.

(Special to The Guardian)
OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—A resolution urging upon the government to throw open the vacancies in the Civil Service to members of the service who are being dismissed under reclassification, instead of advertising the vacancies, was passed by the General Council of the Civil Service Association last night. A second resolution was passed which will be forwarded to Premier Meighen asking in consideration of the public feeling against Gritzenhagen and associates that they be dismissed.

DIFFICULTY IN FORMING NEW FRENCH CABINET

Peret Unable to Form Ministry. Former Premier Briand Has Been Asked to Undertake The Task.

(Special to The Guardian)
PARIS, Jan. 16.—Aristide Briand, former Premier of France, has been asked by President Millerand to accept the premiership and form a new cabinet. Following Raoul Peret's announcement that he was unable to perform the task, Briand will reply to Millerand this evening. PARIS, Jan. 16.—Raoul Peret, de signated by President Millerand to form a new French cabinet, announced at noon today that he was unable to perform the task. Failure of the post to complete a ministry following the overthrow of the Leygues cabinet because of the Chamber of Deputies' lack of confidence in the Government's foreign policies was regarded as extremely serious. The supreme council is scheduled to meet here Wednesday and unless a cabinet is formed and functioning by that time the conference may have to be postponed owing to lack of French representation.

Glover's Cancer Serum Book Valued At $100,000

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Dr. J. T. Glover's claim to having discovered a serum for the successful treatment of cancer is reported upon adversely by a committee of the Council of the Academy of Medicine of this city. This committee was appointed some time ago to investigate the claims of the young Toronto doctor and his friends, made last summer, that he had found a serum, that would relieve cancer sufferers, if not positively cure them—in short, that Dr. Glover's discovery was an advance over all other cancer treatments known to medical science. The committee made an interim report tonight to the Council of the Academy of Medicine, which, summed up, is as follows:—

Automatic Death Of Hockey Player At Springhill

(Special to The Guardian)
SPRINGHILL, Jan. 15.—Daniel MacDonal, goal keeper of Springhill hockey team died in rink last night a few minutes before the game between the Amherst Athletic Club and Springhill scheduled to commence. The medical team was having practice before the visiting team arrived. Suddenly MacDonal was seen to slip up against the goal net and fall down upon the ice. His comrades thought he had merely tripped but since he did not arise comrades rushed to his assistance. He was carried to the dressing room and physicians summoned but he was dead before they arrived.

VAIN HUNT IN NOVA SCOTIA FOR PIRATE GOLD

HALIFAX, N. S. Jan. 14.—If Thomas Garland deep-sea sailor, of Sydney found Capt. Kidd's chests was looking for it last July and is was looking for it last July and is of the famous pirate, it has not come to the ears of Nova Scotians. Garland has disappeared as completely as if he had never existed, and the legend of Spanish gold buried below a murdered man, somewhere in the province between Yarmouth and Gloucester is as much a legend as it ever was. Garland was reported to have had a chart which he obtained in Zaira, Spain, from a lineal descendant of a member of Capt. Kidd's crew who remained unchanged. The chart located a treasure of golden vessels and plate together with thirty-six small kegs full of the regulation "doubloons" and silver dollars somewhere in the vicinity of Halifax. There have been other charts, and when the Garland story appeared a citizen of Halifax gave out the information that there was a spot not far from a gloomy swamp, and within easy distance of the main, that smelled strongly of hidden gold. A man built a house there several years ago but had to remove it again because in the dark of the moon there mingled with the melancholy hoot of the owl and the whine of the wind in the rigging, the rattle of chains and the groans of souls in pain. At any rate Kidd's treasure has been the subject of much search and intense excitement at one time or another in almost every part of the province, although not a solitary piece of eight was ever found in Nova Scotia.

Austrian Situation Freely Discussed

(Special to The Guardian)
PARIS, Jan. 15.—Sir William Goode, British member of the Austrian section of the reparations commission at luncheon in his honor at the Renaissance Club today spoke freely of the situation in Austria. "Three eventualities are to be considered as a consequence of the prospective collapse of Austria," Sir William said in part. "They are, first an attempt upon the part of the Austrian provinces to join the Austrian provinces among the adjoining States, not excluding Germany and third the communist or Bolshevist reign of terror."
