Chief Constables Hold Convention

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 23 (CP) — Saint John was the most law-abiding city in Canada today as police officials from communities across the Dominion gathered here for a four-day convention.

With over 40 police chiefs or representatives of police organizations registered, the first annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada was called to order by President Thomas H. Carson, chief constable of Owen Sound, Ont.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor James D. McKenna of Saint John and Horace E. McLesse, Saint John chief of police. J. Edward Hughes of Fredericton, scheduled to represent Premier J.B. McNair, was unable to be present.

Maj. J.A. Harrison, executive secretary of the Prisoners' Rehabilitation Society, Toronto, addressed the convention on "Some Aspects of Crime Prevention."

MaJ. Edmison, in criticism of the Dominion's court and prison methods, said they displayed features of "class distinction" and of "modern imprisonment for debt."

He said that instead of sending to jail convicted persons who were unable to pay the fine, some system should be instituted whereby the levy be paid in installments.

He also criticized the situation whereby "young people in this country over 16 years of age... are legal babies in the civil courts and are considered to have reached their majority in criminal law."

He said the system was "negatively cruel."

Maj. Edmison pointed out that in jail the young offender, without a serious offence on his record, was thrown in with hardened criminals. In his association with prisoners he had seen numerous instances of older "repeater" criminals encouraging younger inmates to enter schemes on their release "for easy money."

The prisoners' rehabilitation official said further that the background of most young offenders showed "poor foundation in the recognized trinity of the home, school and church."

Further Expansion of Trans-Canada Lines

MONTREAL, Que., July 23—A further expansion in Trans Canada Air Lines Canadian and American services, which will see the inauguration of a direct passenger, air mail and express service from Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto to Cleveland, Ohio on August 1, has been announced by H. J. Symington CMC, K.C. president of the airline. This is the second extension in routes for TCA this year. Following closely upon the new service between Montreal, Toronto and Chicago that was opened July 1. The 21 passenger DC No. 3 aircraft that will be used in the Cleveland schedule will make three flights between that city and Toronto, two of which will be via London. And flying time will be 90 minutes at Toronto. Convenient connections will be made with the airlines eastward flights to Ottawa and Montreal which is the point of departure for the trans-Atlantic flights, operated six times a week by TCA to Great Britain. Mr. Symington's announcement revealed that Trans Canada plans further development in 1946.

New routes between Victoria and Seattle, between Fort Arthur and Duluth, and between Halifax and Boston are to be added this summer and existing services are to be augmented.

The Airlines was founded eight years ago and it now operates more than 10,000 miles of domestic and trans oceanic routes. Extending from Prestwick, Scotland, to Montreal and across the continent to cover all major Canadian cities as well as New York and Chicago in the United States and Newfoundland.

Says President Ordered Executions

(By The Associated Press) BUENOS AIRES, July 23—Dispatches from La Paz said today that former police chief Jose Escobar accused the late President Gualberto Villarroel of Bolivia of having ordered personally the execution of two senators, a former foreign minister and eight other prominent men after the abortive 1944 revolution.

The dispatches said Escobar, in an affidavit published in the La Paz newspaper La Razon, passed on the Presidential order for the executions to the police, who shot their prisoners on a road outside the city.

Escobar was wounded and captured by revolutionists in the successful rebellion Sunday in which the President was slain. His life was spared so that he might serve as a witness to the revolutionary junta's accusations against Villarroel.

Some of the aides of Villarroel who survived among those who supported the late President since the revolution of December, 1943, when he assumed power—were believed to have fled the country by air.

Also unknown, reports from La Paz indicated, was the whereabouts of some of the members of the military cabinet appointed by Villarroel in a last desperate attempt to stave off revolution the day before the rebellion swept through the Presidential palace.

Meanwhile the Bolivian ambassadors to Argentina, Uruguay and Chile returned. Ambassador Jose Tamayo in Buenos Aires declined to detail the reasons for his resignation, but in Montevideo, Fernando Iturralde Chinel, said he was resigning because of his "loyalty to the National Republican Movement" which had backed the ousted government.

In Montevideo, Foreign Minister Eduardo Rodriguez Larreta of Uruguay hailed the overthrow of the Villarroel government, which he said had Nazi tendencies and aimed upon other American govenments immediate consultations looking toward recognition of the revolutionary junta.

that it was costing Steelco between $50,000 and $75,000 a day to maintain partial production, by paying workers 24 hours pay for each eight-hour shift, maintaining an aerial service for supplies from a landing strip inside the plant, and in other ways.

Advised of the statement, company officials tonight had no immediate comment.

Say Strike Cost Company $600,000

HAMILTON, Ont., July 23 (CP)—Officials of the United Steel Workers of America (U.S.W.A.) on strike since July 15 at Canada's basic steel plants in Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney, N.S., tonight said in a statement that the steel company of Canada here had spent more than $600,000 so far in combating the strike and claimed the sum represented more than it would have cost the company to grant a wage increase.

While the Sault and Sydney plants were closed down by the strike, the Hamilton Steelco plant has continued partial production with a working force which the company says numbers 2,700 men, and the union claims is not more than 1,500 including foremen and supervisors.

The union statement claimed:

NEW ZEALAND CAVES WORLD'S 5TH WONDER

AUCKLAND, N. Z., July 23 (CP)—Described by George Bernard Shaw as the eighth wonder of the world, and by Ripley, of Believe-it-or-not fame, as the most wonderful sight on earth, New Zealand's Waitomo Caves, in the centre of the North Island, are to be modernized for the post-war tourist trade.

The glow-worm grotto, with its unique canopy of millions of glow-worm lights reflected in the still waters of an underground river, is an unsurpassed spectacle, but can be seen only by descending slippery steps and embarking in an ancient rowboat.

Better facilities for seeing this world famous tourist spectacle will be provided and novel new lighting effects will add to the appeal of the weird stalactite formations in other parts of the caves.

Ancient peoples believed that the sun travelled around the earth.
